Prilly Dox

This week, a vile twitter tranny caught the attention of the sharty. For the crimes of drawing child pornography, grooming, beings a transvestite, using 4chan and krautchan, being a communist, and most heinously insulting the sharty. After some of the sharty's finest conducted an investigation, leaving no stone unturned, he was fully doxed. Unfortunately most of his social media accounts have been deleted, but it does mean the sharty has once again helped to end the spread of the 'p.

Sharty Laugh Wars

The laugh wars were the biggest nigger coal idea in a long while. Following in the newGod trend of trying to something 4cuckish but in the sharty, there was a vote between geg (heheh + gem), hem (alternative heheh + gem), jek ('jak + kek), kak (kek but with a, sounds like ACK! ACK! ACK!). The log was flooded with 5 or 6 people spamming their retarded laugh of choice for a few days. But finally at the end of the vote, the winner was... who even cares, no one uses any of them after the fact. I am one click away from the poll but on principle I will not open it. Maybe we could have had our own "kek" equivalent, but by trying to force it will probably never come. If you see anyone using geg, hem, jek, and kak you should fucking bully them.

The Death of Glowtext?

At some point this week without warning, %%glowtext%% was removed. This mind-blowing decision is still causing dumbfounded soyteens to have formatting fails this very moment. It is speculated that glowtext was deemed annoying and unsightly. In response, many soyteens have been making public protests and committing TND mass killings across the USA. We can only pray these changes are not only reverted but more texts are added.

JAK FEATURE OF THE WEEK!

Variant Unknown...

I really couldn't find any newjaks that were being picked up or too deserving of attention, so I just wanted to make a suggestion. These jaks of Andrew Tate are pretty funny, but they all seem a little off yet from being a homerun soyjak. Someone really needs to exploit its potential because it pretty funny.

HELP NEEDED!

The 'zine is in trouble and needs some help if it is to continue!

With real life things picking back up, I will not be able to continue making the Soyteen Digest, unless I get some more help. As many of you will probably complain about in the thread this is posted in, I missed many events you'd like to see covered. If you would like to not only see the things you want soyteens to read in the 'zine, but also for it to continue, please go to the /g/ thread and make suggestions, mention major events, and most importantly make some articles. I wanted to dedicate a few more pages to this issue covering other doxings and listing many of the big gets of this week but ran out of time.

Again, if you want to see the Soyteen Digest continue please go to the /g/ thread, or any Soyteen Digest thread and help out

THANK!

Also to the faggot who spammed the last threads because I didn't publish your dogshit article... I rather the 'zine die than have to deal with you anymore.
