DetachedDreamer97,

You have been warned by RainAndSadness, due to your message (If you are trans your community would rather see you agonize for a lifetime than attain a quick escape):

I'm not trans, but you might wanna consider watching some Blair White videos. Along with detransition videos.

Trying to get people detransitioned isn't appropriate. Not in this forum.

Please read the rules, as repeated offenses will end up in a ban:

SS. Rules and FAQ
Sanctioned Suicide Welcome to Sanctioned Suicide, a suicide discussion forum. We provide a safe space to discuss the topic of suicide without the censorship of other places, as well a community that can understand you and let you be yourself without judging you or forcing you to do anything...

Detransition-ER's, dumbass. Do you have any idea the amount of backlash some people receive for questioning the whole trans narrative? Newsflash: It's many.

Sorry that I'm going against the popular narrative. But let's not twist my intentions into something insidious.

Your narrative isn't just unpopular, it's unscientific and harmful. It's a very known fact that transitioning reduces the suicide rate of trans people drastically. Do you know how many people detransition? 3%-1%.

Sit down, buddy. I gave you a warning for good reasons.

Bitch please. Don't call me buddy... I get you're trans and all (at least if I recall seeing a post), but there's no reason to get all triggered by my words. Let me emphasize I'm not transphobic, in fact, I don't really care about whether anyone's trans or not; all that matters is character. What I will say is that it's people like you who kinda push people away when they deviate from the whole trans gig. When someone questions the narrative, or expresses anything that goes against the grain of the whole LGBT community, they go for the person's throat. That's all I'm saying.

You really are fucking retarded.

This is a scientific paper from the UK with 3398 attendees, which concluded a 0.47% transitioned-related regret rate. <https://epath.eu/wp-content/uploads/2019/04/Boof-of-abstracts-EPATH2019.pdf>

US study that found 8% detransitioned, of whom 62% did so for societal, financial or family pressure related reasons. <https://transequality.org/sites/default/files/docs/usts/USTS-Full-Report-Dec17.pdf>

Sweden, study with 767 trans people found 2% of whom expressed regrets. https://www.researchgate.net/publication/262734734_An_Analysis_of_All_Applications_for_Sex_Reassignment_Surgery_in_Sweden_1960-2010_Prevalence_Incidence_and_Regrets

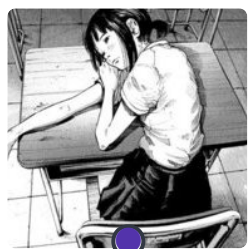

Netherlands, study with young trans people, only 1.9% regret. DEFINE_ME

On average, 97% of trans people are happy with their transition. Only 3% experience some form of regret according to the most recent data.

There is more, way more... I've often talked about trans issues in this forum and if you want to talk about facts, empirical data, let's do it. But don't call me ever retarded again or you'll get another warning. Understood? I have no problem talking you through the factual situation on trans issues but don't call me retarded when you're the one spreading misinformation. It's very clear to me that you have no good intentions, your arrogant behavior when approached with factual claims doesn't look good on you. I'm not gonna let you spread harmful misinformation when it's clear that transitioning improves the lives of trans people so much, it drastically impacts the suicide attempt rate. Deal with it.

You want me to stop calling you retarded, then maybe you should start actually using a brain and stop misconstruing my words. Besides, it's not the first time you fucked up with your accusations. You're honestly about as bad as the people who've called me a fascist and a supporter of racism, homophobia, and mass shootings, all because I was reminiscing about the 8chan suicide forum. And based on what I'm saying, what I'm saying is factual, considering that what I'm talking about is the fact that everyone is so easily triggered when you question narratives, and it appears you're no exception.

RainAndSadness said:

Because you're the one coming at me with some bold accusations. So, of course I have the right to be pissed. And if we're gonna go that far, allow me to bring up research about the increasing rate of detransitioning and the risk of transition.

Hah! You still believe that shit? Well... then you really are a pig-headed brainlet, considering that even before this site was born, when the subreddit still existed, I was the one to actually share the actual ppeh with accurate information. And regarding the fake ppeh, I copied it from YOUR drive. So perhaps there's a chance this is your fault by your logic.

And why would I fuck around with the email when I have nothing to gain?

In this post you said you uploaded a PPH copy that you didn't download from my resources. You put it into the MEGA link that was also linked in the Suicide Wiki. It's so rich that you're trying to redirect the blame to me now.

There are versions of the PPeH that are circulating around that have fake email addresses and people are being scammed. This is just an advisory for people to not automatically trust the emails listed in the PPeH, as they can easily be altered for any scammer to take advantage of.

My point: you're an arrogant know-it-all and you should learn some humility. And when I present you with accurate up-to-date research on trans issues, I expect you to read it or sit down and stop insulting me. I know there isn't another "scientific" side of the coin because I'm very aware of the situation on trans research. As you said, I am trans myself and I have an interest in keeping myself up to date. Now, stop insulting me, take a breath and think twice what kind of unsolicited advice you want to give out to people. Advice that ruins peoples lives or advice that improves it? And look, one thing. Just because you're miserable doesn't mean you have a right to smear trans people. 97% of trans people are happy with their transition. You want to talk about the 3% and pretend it's a silenced opinion? No. It's not a silenced opinion, it's a false opinion and you know what we do in the scientific field with false opinions? We dunk on it. Have a good night.

Because you were the one trying to blame me, a longtime member of the SS community. Honestly, I don't remember what I did back then with the PPEH files, and I honestly don't care to remember... but I do know my intentions were pure. Worst case scenario, I had an outdated copy and didn't know until I learned about it.

No, you don't talk. You're the one talking about about arrogance with no humility, but here you are acting like you're right when you're the one who goofed up, misunderstanding and twisting my own words, coming at me with your bullshit accusations and refuse to accept her own mistakes. If you're offended by my innocuous comment (I could've probably been phrased a little better but I didn't because I was confident that OP and others would get it in the thread, though I'll also admit I made a mistake in misunderstanding what the thread is about, though my intentions were still pure), then that's on you.

Me: "Look up Blair White and Detransition videos"

[I hope this poor dude knows he's not alone in facing backlash for questioning the trans community] 🙄

You: "OMG!!! THIS BLAspHEMoUS POS TRAnsPHOBe TOLD Her TO DeTRANSition!!! He MUSt BE CanCeLLeD TO DEATH!!! FucK wHAT He sAYS!!! GUILTY!!!" 🤡

Even when I explained to you over and over again, you still wouldn't back off. You didn't even bother to question what I've said before you started coming at me like a hyperthyroid. And the whole misgendering claim is proof you're thinking far too emotionally. I'm beginning to question whether it was a good idea for you to be admin, considering you seem to be incapable of thinking logically. You're triggered by an innocuous comment, regardless of whether I fully understood the post. You're an incompetent who's just too proud to admit when she's in over her head, and unworthy of my respect. End of conversation.

But do not talk to me so dismissive. But if you have a problem, then why don't you just ban me. Considering you're gonna just look for excuses to pin me out as the bad guy.

I'll be civil the day you adjust your tone. In fact, I would've been civil in the beginning. But considering how you were when I was straight up confused on what you were talking about the first time you've accused me of something, I assumed kindness wasn't going to make much of an impact. Maybe I went too far, but yeah. I don't respond well to that.

Again, you gave out unsolicited harmful advice, you misgendered a trans woman and you used slurs, calling me a retard and a femoid. If you think anyone in this forum is gonna buy the narrative that you're a victim here, you're definitely mistaken.

And given all the context, it's kinda rich that you say I'm emotional. I mean, look at this exchange. If you were civil, we could have talked about this like adults. I took back warnings in the past when I misread intent. I'm capable of learning. But not when you insult me repeatedly and even double down with more hateful remarks, calling me a femoid. That was a mask off moment and it proved me right.

I was referring to the ebook. I started off as being reasonable until I figured you weren't gonna listen to what I had to say and once the "shock phase" wore off, I began showing anger, because you threatened to ban me, and going like... "We shall see... it doesn't look good for you. Who else could've messed with the emails. I'm keeping my eye on you". Like I'm a criminal.

Thus, I pledged not to make that mistake in going soft again.

RainAndSadness said:

You came at me, calling me stupid and retarded.

Because you came at me with the warning, insinuating I was trying to convince her to detransition. And then trying to press on me when I've objected.

"You told trans people to look into detrans videos. What's the intention behind that?"

Hard to see how you couldn't have come at me with that. And you were even more aggressive with me on the PPEH case. So, I was like... "not this shit again".

RainAndSadness said:

I won't lie... I was extremely agitated with that, and I let that go to my head.

RainAndSadness said:

Unintentionally. It was wrong of me to assume gender, but then again there were times when I misgendered a nonbinary friend. Not because I'm a dick and a transphobe, but because I previously knew her biological gender and I have a habit of sticking to objectives. And my aunt is trans, which I refer to her as a "she".

RainAndSadness said:

Yes. I indeed did. And I crossed the line on the femoid part.

I get that trans is a sensitive topic, and I've made an assumption based on that warning. I was pretty agitated as it's not the first time someone tried to accuse me of some shit. Like the whole 8chan thread I made. I don't enjoy being called a racist, homophobe, fascist, mass shooter in the making.

Maybe I'm just being the pot calling the kettle black, assuming I haven't quite healed mentally yet, but that's something I've been feeling critical about, regarding most of the users on the forum; the ones who are in marginalized groups, whether black, female, incel, lgbtqi+ among others, seem to have this mentality where they see everyone as an enemy, and take it as a personal attack when someone questions their subjective narrative.

If there's one thing I've learned in my life, the reality that has ended my suffering for the mist part, it's the fact that the world is not out to get you.
