

Parlo's Defense

This document will comprehensively go over the entire situation pertaining to Homotopia and debunk any misunderstandings or misconceptions that Parlo is inherently malicious or had ill intentions in regards to the situation.

To make it abundantly clear, Parlo was NOT active in the server, he only used general chat and did not know of the degeneracy that transpired until he saw XDGAMERS document on it. Homotopia was created on May 14th 2023 and closed down on the 31st May 2023 the day Parlo found out about how degenerate the server was.

This means Parlo would have just turned 18 years of age in relation to the fruition of the server, as his birthday was on May 2nd. The semantical argument that Parlo was a “fully grown adult” is a lie, that implies maturity ceases to progress as soon as one turns 18. Parlo was freshly 18 and still incredibly irresponsible for this situation, but any inclination that he was a fully grown adult preying on minors is simply untrue, especially when considering the youngest person present in this server is only 2 years younger than him. That is not a large age gap dynamic even if anything did happen between Parlo and them, in which nothing did. Parlo is also on record apologizing for ever entrusting Nattie Forsyth with moderation permissions or people under the age of 18 with admin permissions. It was irresponsible.

Homotopia was intended to be a SFW hangout server for LGBTQ teens to socialize in, as Parlo had been to other servers of the same nature which were not degenerative. He wanted to cultivate his own social base of people and get new connections because at this time he was extremely depressed due to IRL and online problems. He also wanted to integrate his Twitter followers into this server, so in case his CammyFemboy alias were to be mass false reported or terminated, he could just redirect all the members in his server to follow his new account. As XDGAMER had been on record false mass reporting all of Parlo's accounts and had temporarily IP banned.

The server was NEVER intended by Parlo to be an NSFW server, hence why minors were allowed in; because it was intended to be a SFW server. Now the server was originally 16+, however was lowered to 15+ as Pyro was a main member and highest rank being admin, and was turning 16 the next month. So we didn't want to be seen violating our own rules, so we lowered it down to 15+. And as specified later in this document, there were only 3 [technically 2]* documented 15 year olds present in the server. **This is because Tundra turned 16 when the server was still up, the other two 15 year olds remained 15 up until the server was shut down by Parlo.*

Now the entire Homotopia situation was initially found out by an ex-friend of Parlo being Breone.

Parlo and Nattie Forsyth in 2023 were talking about Parlo's "Femboy alias" in a VC in Parlo's old RYC Discord server (for content creators and people who Parlo trusted.)

SubToBreone 19/04/2024 07:37

Without me it wouldn't be out there because I remember being in a call with Nattie and parlo and they discussed a Twitter account named cammy
That information I gave to whoever that person was and they found the Twitter and exposed it

SubToBreone 19/04/2024 07:35

I talked to someone who might've been xd gamer but I only gave info to them

SubToBreone 19/04/2024 07:37

Without me no one would've known about cammy

SubToBreone 19/04/2024 07:32

I was a whistleblower
Not that guy
I gave info to someone
Then they took it to twitter

Breone upon hearing told an XDGAMER associate called GenLogicstan, then this person dug through Nattie Forsyth's Twitter mutuals and found the Cammy account in which they then entered the Homotopia discord server that was promoted on it.

Breone then acted as a secret whistleblower for XDGAMER, giving him information behind Parlo's back and backstabbing him in the process, seeming to negate and willing to ignore the vile and illegal actions committed by XDGAMER and his associates.

@Breone · 20 hours ago (edited)

I'd talk about him but I'm not ready for world war 3 yet

Also I'm taking credit for leaking homotopia lol. Former friend of parlo here: I remember being I a call with parlo and nattie before things went south and they talked about someone with the name "Cammy" I sent that information to someone exposing him and they found a Twitter with that discord and we leaked that shiii lmaooo

SubToBreone 19/04/2024 07:11

Odd because I've prolly done worse to him that you

I was behind homotopia being leaked

And other things

I was actively whistleblowing to XD at one point

SubToBreone 19/04/2024 07:09

Then I backstabbed him and started giving info on him to XD

Now as of September 21st 2024, I contacted Breone about this situation.

SubToBreone Today at 01:15

Not sure how I feel about it but I just gave the person the name "Cammy" and they somehow found the twitter and then they went into the server

SubToBreone Today at 01:19

i wasnt really chatting with this person i just sent them info and that was it

SubToBreone Today at 01:20

I didnt care enough to hyper analyze it it wasnt me who archived any of that or made the document so idk most of what happened all i know is there were allegedly underage ppl in there and nat was in there
I have no plans on talking about homotopia publicly

Breone claims that he didn't know much about the situation and that he was actually feeding the information to the user Cammy (GenLogicstan stole Parlo's name and tag from his alias when Parlo changed it and assumed his identity). Cammy was a very close associate to XDGAMER, and worked in tandem with him to participate in harassment campaigns against me. Cammy often had the name [Parlo's doxxed legal name] News Network. After Breone consulted Cammy about Parlo's secret account, Cammy consulted XDGAMER, and they entered his Homotopia discord server.

The Cammy account that Breone admitted he was whistleblowing information to, is believed to be a different person than XDGAMER. At the time Parlo contacted him on his session account, it was believed that he was Sydiced. This is incorrect, XDGAMER himself is a foodist and Cammy is GenLogicstan, an ex-foodist member. Now Cammy used a session account to guarantee his anonymity in hopes that Parlo or his associates wouldn't be able to determine who he is, he could then hide behind his anonymity to engage in as many instances of degenerate actions as possible without having the fear of being caught or facing punishment for said actions.

In these session messages you can clearly see the user admits to being under the Cammy account, he is seen making death threats to Parlo and stating “he will make alternate accounts to harass Parlo until he dies”, and that “you think you will stop me but you never will”. He also states that Parlo should die. It’s very clear the goal of Cammy is that he wants to ruin Parlo’s life and harass him in any way possible.

Homotopia became a very good subject that Cammy saw to benefit himself in as he could weaponise and lie about the situation to try and call Parlo a pedophile over it to further tarnish his credibility and harass him, and also convince others that he is some terrible person, when in actuality they are the terrible people themselves.

Cammy [Genlogicstan], was seen pushing forward the document to impressionable children on Twitter, in hopes of getting more people to defame me as a "pedophile", despite the Homotopia situation not being indicative of Parlo being a pedophile whatsoever. Keep in mind Cammy was not interested in using legitimate definitions, he just wanted to use the worst terms possible as to engage in character assassination against Parlo. And unfortunately for a time; kids believed it.

XDGAMER's own server allowed his associate; FanPage to have CP art of Parlo as his pfp, as well as keeping up confession bot posts glorifying pedophilia, r*pe and bestiality.

This is just proof of how hypocritical Cammy, XDGAMER and their associates are, they don't actually care what they are talking about, they just wish to virtue signal against what they do themselves when it best suits them as long as they can get away with defaming and attacking Parlo.

They also had a "porn" channel present on the server and engaged in doxxing minors and posting porn on the publically accessible channels.

The "Network" user is Cammy/Genlogicstan/News Network.

The "Ronniemccuck" user is FanPage.

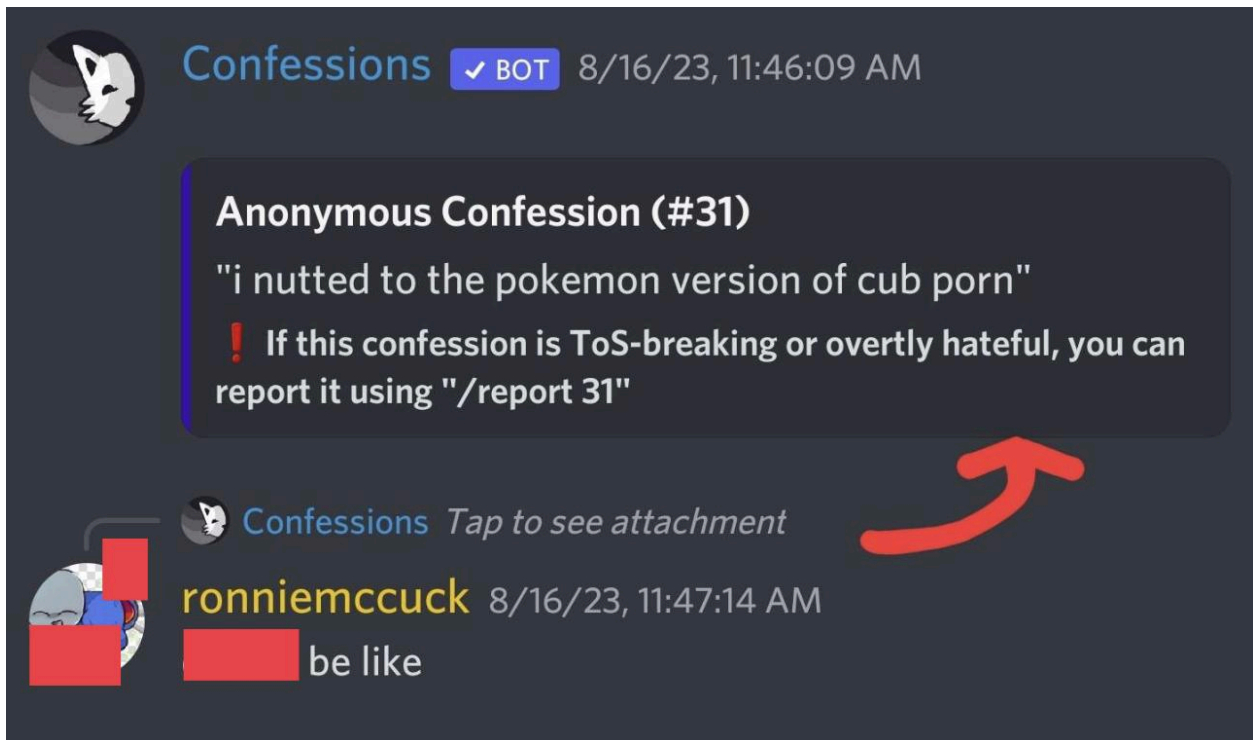

The fake Pyndrex account is XDGAMER.

Cammy was seen actively speaking in these channels.

Now just for extra clarification, FanPage was an associate of both Cammy and XDGAMER, and ran the "ronniemccuck" account.

Child pornography laws in England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland are covered by the Protection of Children Act 1978 ("the 1978 Act"), which made it illegal to take, make, distribute, show, or possess for the intent of showing or distributing an indecent photograph of someone under the age of 18. The maximum penalty is 10 years in prison.<sup>[1]</sup> In the context of digital media, saving an indecent image to a computer's hard drive is considered to be "making" the image, as it causes a copy to exist which did not exist before.<sup>[2]</sup> Indecency is to be interpreted by a jury, who should apply the recognised standards of propriety.

WHAT ARE 'INDECENT IMAGES'?

The legal term 'indecent images' can refer to photos, videos or other computer data that's capable of being converted into a photo or video. To be classed as 'indecent', the image must be of a person under 18 years old, but it can also refer to animals. Whether material is 'indecent' is for a jury to decide, but examples include:

- ✓ Nude or partially clothed children
- ✓ Children sexually posing
- ✓ Self-generated sexual images by children (selfies)

I find it very weird too that these people attempt to make memes trivializing and making jokes of the situation pertaining to Homotopia. It's a serious situation and should be treated as such. Muddying the waters of the situation to claim that Parlo is a "pedophile" because of this situation does damage to actual victims of pedophilia who endure the actual abuse of said bad actors. Making light of serious situations like this with unfunny meme formats dumbs down the severity of the situation and using the word pedophile in the wrong context for a situation that Parlo isn't pedophilic for, lowers the credibility for actual genuine predator call out posts because people are less inclined to believe them due to the backlog of weirdos like FanPage throwing the term with no substantial backing. Victims are less inclined to make genuine call-out posts because of people like FanPage who propagate false allegations that harm legitimate cases.

Homotopia was a safe

Homotopia:

FanPage also decides to try and compare the situation to Jeffrey Epstein and his crimes, which does a disservice to the actual victims of such a prolific predator, and belittles the horrors they had to endure with the trafficking and sexual abuse. The Homotopia situation and the Epstein Scandal are completely incomparable cases. It just proves that people like FanPage see these situations as a joke or situation to jokingly smear Parlo maliciously, rather than taking the situation seriously.

(XDGAMER entering the Homotopia server after Breone had forwarded the information to Cammy and acted as a whistleblower)

Now Breone in the past is seen bragging about his involvement with the XDGAMER group, stating “we leaked that shii” in reference to Homotopia being leaked, and it could be very well assumed that when confronted, he attempts to belittle his involvement.

However what matters most is that Breone, the main person who aided the Homotopia situation into coming out, is now stating that he is aware that Parlo is innocent in all of this.

SubToBreone Today at 01:24

I believe ur innocent

ok its fine dude I dont think ur guilty

This was after Parlo told him numerous points proving how he was not active in the server, nor was he complicit in the degeneracy taking place.

And as you can see via these messages, Breone states in his own words that Parlo is NOT a pedophile for this situation whatsoever.

Now for this document, I'd like to make a very distinct clarification, Parlo is NOT a pedophile in this situation whatsoever. The 3 youngest people in this server were 15 and these were Tundra, Taz and Pyro.

Tundra 05/22/2023 1:10 PM

Ive just realised that Ive been here for quite a while and haven't done an introduction

Am Riley, 15 (16 next monday), she/they. I live in wales.

If there's anything else you wanna know, just ask. :3

Taz 05/15/2023 1:14 AM

15, Irish, certified boy kisser, he/him (edited)

Pyro (Akuma frfr) 05/14/2023 6:34 PM

bro i'm 16 next month [redacted] 🙏

Taz is not featured in the document having done anything controversial or worthy of publicising so therefore not much needs to be said about that individual. Taz birthdate is not known and he isn't documented saying much, Parlo never interacted with Taz. Tundra turned 16 and so therefore was only 2 years younger than Parlo, however Parlo did not interact with them either and Tundra is not seen engaging in any actions comparable to Pyro. However, Pyro is subject to a lot of criticism in the document for doing certain inappropriate actions. Let me preface this fact however. The age gap between Pyro and Parlo is 2 years 1 month. He was born on June 13th 2007, and Parlo was born on May 2nd 2005.

(Pyro's Twitter tag and name have been censored for their privacy)

Now Pyro can attest that Parlo never groomed, solicited, abused or took advantage of them, and Parlo never dated them. People who didn't understand the situation just took the age of the youngest person in this server and just speculated that Parlo did something malicious in regards to them. However with the proof presented, it's evident that nothing transpired, and the age gap was only 2 years 1 month. Which isn't a large age gap dynamic whatsoever and not predatory in the slightest. And Kew in mind, nothing happened between Pyro or Parlo either.

The DSM-5 requires that a person must be at least 16 years old, and at least five years older than the prepubescent child or children they are aroused by, for the attraction to be diagnosed as pedophilic disorder. Similarly, the ICD-11 excludes sexual behavior among post-pubertal children who are close in age.

Pedophilia - Wikipedia

ICD-10 criteria stipulate that the person with the disorder is at least 16 years old and at least five years older than the child or children who are the focus of their sexual preference.

Stop It Now

<https://www.stopitnow.org.uk> > ... > Get the facts

Definition of paedophilia (pedophilia) - Stop It Now

The legal definition and classification for pedophilia can only be met if the abuser is 16+ years old and has a 5+ year age gap with their victim. However the court of public opinion would come to terms that a 4+ year age gap is indefensible and unacceptable.

Since Pyro was the youngest person present in this server who Parlo interacted with, and he was only 2 years 1 month older than him, it is clear that the Homotopia situation has nothing to do with Parlo being a pedophile or predator.

(Twitter conversation on January 10th 2024)

Shows the amicable and friendly conversation Parlo and Pyro have with one another. Confirming that Pyro holds no bad feelings with Parlo and vice versa. Pyro is seen conceding that he and the other moderation team members could have done better and it wasn't regulated well. Parlo also highlights that he was "disgusted" (in private to people) as well as uncomfortable to Pyro in private after noticing that Pyro had posted an objectively suggestive image of them in boxers, covering any bulge visible. Parlo is very open with the fact that the image should have never been posted and put Pyro in a vulnerable position of any bad actors who wanted to take advantage of them as past people have done such as Dae. Keep in mind Parlo only ever knew of this image after he read XDGAMERS document covering it all. He never had any prior knowledge to it, and very much would have taken action had he known. The specific image is arguably the most problematic image sent in the server even though objectively it isn't sexually explicit or considered nudity whatsoever. The only rendition of the image Parlo saw was the highly censored image present in XDGAMERS document at the time when Parlo consulted Pyro on what the image was. - June 2023

(Screenshot confirming that nothing explicit was shown in the aforementioned image as corroborated by the original poster of the image)

Now this image had no sexual or suggestive caption that would be considered when judging if the image was an indecent image [due to the possibility of added context which law enforcement takes into consideration when determining images]. The image was just focusing on Pyro's legs with him using his hand to cover any sexual implications which one could possibly derive from the image. Certainly this image should have not been posted, and it's up to one's own subjectivity on the suggestiveness of the image, but it wasn't exactly made for sexual intent as it was not explicit nor did it show anything pertaining to nudity, as Pyro went out of his own way to personally self censor himself. It did make Parlo uncomfortable nevertheless when he found out and justifiably angry because he was blamed for something that he had no idea was happening or being posted. It doesn't have to be sexually charged or explicit for it to be objectively bad, and nevertheless it should have been posted.

2. Involvement of the Server Owner

The owner of the Discord server, even if inactive or unaware of the specific situation, might still be at risk legally. Here's why:

- Platform Responsibility: Under UK law, someone who manages a platform or space where illegal content is hosted or shared could potentially face liability, even if they are unaware. However, criminal liability typically requires knowledge or intent. If the server owner genuinely did not know or have any reason to know about the illegal content, they might not be prosecuted, but they could still face scrutiny.

Furthermore in terms of legal culpability, if in this theoretical; if any image were illegal. Parlo would not be legally culpable or prosecuted, the people who facilitated this with complete knowledge of the situation would be responsible. It would be required by law to prove that Parlo had foreknowledge and intent, which is not the case in the Homotopia situation as Parlo only knew about this all AFTER it was released in XDGAMERS document. Pyro was also called out in XDGAMERS document for posting stomach pictures of themselves in the server, this was because Pyro at the time was doing abdominal core exercises and taking the pictures to show off the gradual progress on a daily basis. This was what Parlo was also doing on his main Cammy account too. Abdominal progress pictures showing off the progress of abdominal muscles (abs) as well as the decrease in stomach fat, is indeed NOT explicit. But objectively it was still not the best to foster an environment where people such as Pyro could be subject to abuse or bad actors who would take advantage of them.

Most the pics weren't bad at all.

"Now just because objectively and truthfully I'm not a predator due to this situation, does not absolve me of the fact that I was irresponsible and negligent as much as my moderation team was in dealing with this all.

I am to blame for promoting the admin team because they ended up not fulfilling their positions responsibly and Homotopia was in all honesty a mistake which I severely regret making." - Parlo

XDGAMERS document

Now XDGAMER releases a document on the Homotopia situation in late May 2023. XDGAMER operated this account in which doxxed my last time and openly harassed me and other users. This was just one Twitter @ of many that he used and this is specified in an older google document of mine. Now the images being presented show XDGAMER admitting that he was in possession and distribution of CP being of Nattie Forsyth from when she was 17 and stating; "so what... [given the context]".

XDGAMER posted an image of Nattie Forsyth's penis.

XDGAMER also openly stated that they wanted me to end my life as well as making false police reports against my house in which prompted police officers to come over. “don’t be a pussy this time”, referencing my first suicide attempt which rendered me in hospital for a week.

Keep in mind when XDGAMER made this call out tweet on Parlo, he was already 10+ months into his harassment campaign and it was evident he threw away all his morals just to harass Parlo and anyone associates with him. XDGAMER attempted to virtue signal against the exact things he is seen doing.

His only 1 goal was to ruin Parlo’s life both reputationally and him mentally, because he made his motives crystal clear; at any cost he wanted to push Parlo to suicide.

XDGAMER had also sent the exact same image of someone's private parts to a 13 year old. The image is believed to not be XDGAMER however he claims he took it off Reddit and pretended as if it was his, which means he did no proper age verification on the person who actually took the nude and also deliberately exposing pornographic content to minors is still ILLEGAL.

People [IMAGE ABOVE] attempt to state that mentioning what XDGAMER did, is an attempt at deflecting the situation away from Homotopia, however I disagree. You have to address the author of the document, you have to understand why this document was made the way it was and you have to appropriately assess how bias and false it is. Of course XDGAMER would use an opportunity like this, to blame everything selectively on Parlo to reputationally damage him and to inflict as much stress and mental turmoil as possible. XDGAMER delights himself to Parlo's suffering. Separating the author of the document away from the contents illustrated inside of it does a disservice to the situation. One must consider the author of the document to appropriately assess the validity of the claims made inside of it. Of course XDGAMER will twist facts and the truth and lie about Parlo's intentions to make him look as worse as possible.

(Image: above; XDGAMER used a google account with my dads full doxxed legal name to create this google document slandering me)

Now with this account that XDGAMER has used to dox Parlo's father and numerous other people including YouTubers and minors, he attempted to virtue signal against Parlo and lie about him. XDGAMER stated "Parlo KNOWINGLY exposed minors to pornographic content", this is a bold faced lie with no evidence behind it; it is an unsubstantiated claim. As will be proven later in this document; Parlo was NOT active in the server whatsoever, this was corroborated by witness testimonies and also LOGS of the discord server at the time. XDGAMER also specifically stated that Homotopia was a NSFW discord server. However the idea that it was created to be an NSFW server by Parlo is false, as well as the idea that the server was unilaterally NSFW.

Now it's not debatable that the Homotopia server did have suggestive and questionable selfies/images of minors which were posted in it (against Parlo's knowledge) which these said images should have never been posted. And this as a result, could have put these said minors in danger and harms way of bad actors attempting to exploit them for their own sick, deprived needs. Other members being adults also saw the laxed moderation that transpired later on down the line, and automatically assumed it was an NSFW server just because the owner being Parlo [Cammy] was 18, despite it being completely against Parlo's initial wishes of it being NSFW. Also this was because adult members (mode age being 18), just simply forgot about minors being present in the server, and this was a mistake on Parlo's and his mod teams part because it wasn't specified nearly as much as it should have been that it was a SFW server. However it's necessary to state that the images posted by the minors were not sexually explicit nor nudity however that doesn't take away from the fact that the images should have never been posted. In the thousands of message logs which were archived, there have been 12 documented instances of arguably NSFW content, [negating any semantical counter argument]. It wasn't an entirely rampant NSFW server that openly allowed and endorsed pornographic material, however some users pushed the moral boundaries behind Parlo's back and it's certainly on the borderline of the definition of an NSFW server. But it doesn't suit the entire definition as other servers would have. To put it blunt it was a server that should have never been made and Parlo stated that himself.

I agree wholly that Homotopia should have never been made and the server delved into a degenerative shithole brief statistics of what i found in all of the homotopia chat logs

NSFW: 12

Pedophile Spotted: 3

Self Harm: 2

Suggestive: 8

As stated earlier Parlo created Homotopia with the intention of it being a SFW hangout server of LGBTQ teens to socialize with each other. Also one must understand that in the first few day of the servers creation, [May 14th] a user named DaeDae [19] who was someone present in previous SFW servers and Parlo had given admin to, because they were a reasonable adult from everything Parlo had gathered at the time, decided to make an NSFW channel on the server.

Cam Today at 15:02

the doxxer has made a google document basically claiming how homo topia was a NSFW discord server in which allowed sexualised images of minors and porn in the server can you attest the server was not nsfw and it was strictly against the rules to post such material

Bellzybub Today at 15:02

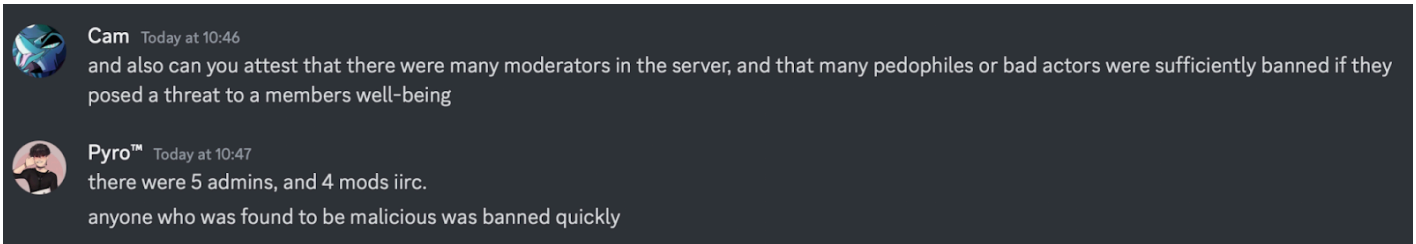

It was yes

Dae was an alleged pedophile who was banned

The nsfw channel was made by dae like day 1 but was deleted an hour late because theres no reason to have such a thing in a server full of minors

As soon as Parlo was made aware of this he REMOVED the channel from the server, clearly illustrating Parlo's NO TOLERANCE policy for having an NSFW channel in the server. This was because Parlo didn't feel comfortable having an NSFW channel present in a server with minors even if it required ID verification because it was weird. BUT ALSO because of the possible problems it may arise of people lying about their age and posting explicit images of themselves in the channel. It was just too much stress for Parlo to deal with, especially at his time of heightened depression and anxiety from personal issues and XDGAMERS harassment on his Parlo alias, which he used Cammy as an escapism from all the stress the Parlo alias brought.

As you can see in the above screenshot, there were 5 admins and 4 mods, and the Homotopia server had ~90 members, showing how it had a high member to mod/admin ratio. This was because Parlo wanted the server to have stringent moderation so the more moderators essentially the better.

Pyro is also seen stating that “anyone who was found to be malicious was banned quickly”, now despite the fact people have cast doubt on the validity of the testimony’s Parlo received from people who were literally in the server at the time to see it all, this specific statement Pyro makes can be corroborated with facts.

Dae [19] was banned after it was learnt that they had been grooming and taking advantage of numerous minors in private.

parlo  4mo

Tmk no grooming took place because of Homotopia, Dae and Pyro knew each other weeks before Homotopia

This was not due to the environment saturated around Homotopia as Dae, Pyro and other minors who were victimized by Dae's actions were originally from a previous SFW server made by a mutual. That's why Homotopia was initially created; to replicate the previous successful servers environment, but nevertheless it didn't go to plan especially in the sense that bad actors like Dae come in to take advantage of minors for their own sick benefit and are attracted to servers like Parlo's and others.

Despite the well formulated intentions Parlo had to foster a positive environment, he's come to the depressing truth that people like Dae are destined to appear in the shadows to engage in these degenerative actions. And Parlo has learnt not to do this again.

Now after it was told to Parlo by Allyn, a 17 year old that Dae had been taking advantage of people, Parlo gave moderation perms to them to ban them from the server.

(Allyn having an orange name because he had admin role and perms)

Parlo didn't want Dae to harass him if he banned them himself, so he demoted Dae and gave moderation role to Allyn who seemed to be a capable enough individual to ensure the server doesn't fall into degeneracy like Dae would have done.

Parlo then consulted the victims and wished them the best while ignoring any of Dae's pleas to rejoin the server. Now Dae had operated numerous alts to try and get back in, however the alts were all promptly banned. This shows during the first couple days of the servers creation, Parlo did take action on bad actors when informed about them, and there was a 0 tolerance policy for predators.

In the instances where Parlo was inactive from the server which was the majority of its tenure, Pyro acted as “Pseudo Owner” - replacement owner, and banned bad actors present in the server for poor behaviour.

Avatar Wallace. 05/25/2023 10:31 PM
 oh ye i forgor about that

As you can see, Parlo was so inactive from the server that server members begun to believe that Pyro was the actual owner of it. Now Parlo irresponsibly left most of the work to Pyro during the servers tenure and that led to him basically filling the roles of duty. Now teens at the age of 15/16 are often pretty irresponsible and rowdy and not mature, and all these factors led to the server not becoming appropriately managed upon Parlo's inactivity, which would have been greatly different had Parlo known what were to transpire behind his back. Pyro essentially ran the server in Parlo's stead with laxed moderation. Allyn is also present in the server having been promoted as admin role/perms [orange name]. Parlo agrees with the fact that having a mod team comprised of at the time; reasonably immature teens (as oftentimes all teens are), was probably not the best idea, and of course the added factor that sometimes they were laxed and not all that active either.

Avatar Decennial 05/21/2023 6:20 PM
 i just realized
 none of the active mods are 18+

Now I want to illustrate a more distinct clarification for why Homotopia was NOT intended to be an NSFW server.

Bloxatron

Yeah it never stated explicitly that it was an nsfw server I know that already. I said though that enough bad actors used it in such a way that could give the impression that's the kinda server it was. Idk staff that were active and you weren't yourself. Like I said I think a lot of it not all the members coming from the femboy twitter didn't help them not be sexual upon joining the server. Was just degenerate and cancer and something in retrospect people could have made better decisions regarding, it definitely wasn't a porn server as the most explicit thing there to my knowledge were hips and stomach, but still for obvious reasons it wasn't exactly a well moderated kreekcraft family friendly server and essentially the mental health patients ended up actually being in charge of the asylum

Had the server been an NSFW server, it would have stated that clearly on my advertisement posts regarding it. However it wasn't intended to be an NSFW server because I was aware that minors were following my CammyFemboy account, and they could easily lie to gain access to the server and it could cause more problems than necessary. Also Parlo wouldn't have felt comfortable navigating through a SFW and NSFW environment and crossing boundaries like that because problems could and would most likely have arisen from it all.

Parlo's video addressing Nattie Forsyth in the Homotopia situation; [Taking Accountability 7:31 - 10:58]

It was a snowball effect of people pushing the boundaries of what could be posted, and then other members reacting off that degeneracy and posting suggestive and degenerative content themselves because they had incorrectly come to the assumption that they were allowed to do this. Had I been active and had full knowledge of the situation, I would have obviously taken action. I've only come to terms with most of the situations pertaining to Homotopia as of May 2024 after consulting ThatBoredGamer and Gwamgo, and more so as of making this document; September 2024.

Nattie Forsyth under the Bloxatron alias in 2023 attested that not many of the mods were active and that Parlo wasn't themselves. Nattie was also not active in the server either, only sending a handful of messages.

Now in XDGAMER's now deleted YouTube video talking about Homotopia, he highlights a tweet by me where I stated the rules specifically stated the server was SFW. He claims this is a lie and shows rule 7 being the only instance where specific content was specified as being against the rules.

4- Follow discord policies and do not share any content portraying/promoting illegal material <https://discordapp.com/guidelines>

However what XDGAMER fails to establish is that Rule 4 specifically states "Follow discord policies and do not share any content portraying/promoting illegal material". And the discord community guidelines are linked for any user to see on the public rules channel.

- Do not solicit, share, or make attempts to distribute content that depicts, promotes, or attempts to normalize child sexual abuse. Also, do not post content that in any way sexualizes children. This includes real as well as manipulated media, animation (such as lolicon), and any type of digital creation.

We report child sexual abuse material (CSAM) and grooming to the National Center for Missing & Exploited Children.

- If you are under the age of 18, do not engage in sexual conduct or any conduct that puts your online or physical safety at risk. This includes consensual sexual interactions between teens, as well as any encouragement or coordination of potentially risky behaviors, such as vigilantism.

We want teens to be able to express themselves freely on Discord as much as possible, but given the risks associated with online dating, we will remove spaces that encourage or facilitate dating between teens.

- Do not solicit sexual content from or engage in any sexual conduct ("grooming") with anyone under the age of 18. We report child sexual abuse material (CSAM) and grooming to the National Center for Missing & Exploited Children.

- Do not make sexually explicit content available to anyone under the age of 18. You must be age 18 or older to participate in adult content on Discord.

You must apply an age-restricted label to any channels that contain sexually explicit content or any other content shared solely for the purposes of sexual gratification.

Do not post sexually explicit content in user avatars, custom statuses or bios, server banners, server icons, invite splashes, emoji, stickers, or any other space that cannot be age-restricted.

- Do not make sexually explicit content available to anyone under the age of 18. You must be age 18 or older to participate in adult content on Discord.
You must apply an age-restricted label to any channels that contain sexually explicit content or any other content shared solely for the purposes of sexual gratification.

Do not post sexually explicit content in user avatars, custom statuses or bios, server banners, server icons, invite splashes, emoji, stickers, or any other space that cannot be age-restricted.

Now one check of discords community guidelines and you will see that it makes it extremely clear that users are not allowed to “make sexually explicit content available to anyone under the age of 18”, nor is “solicitation of anyone under 18 allowed”.

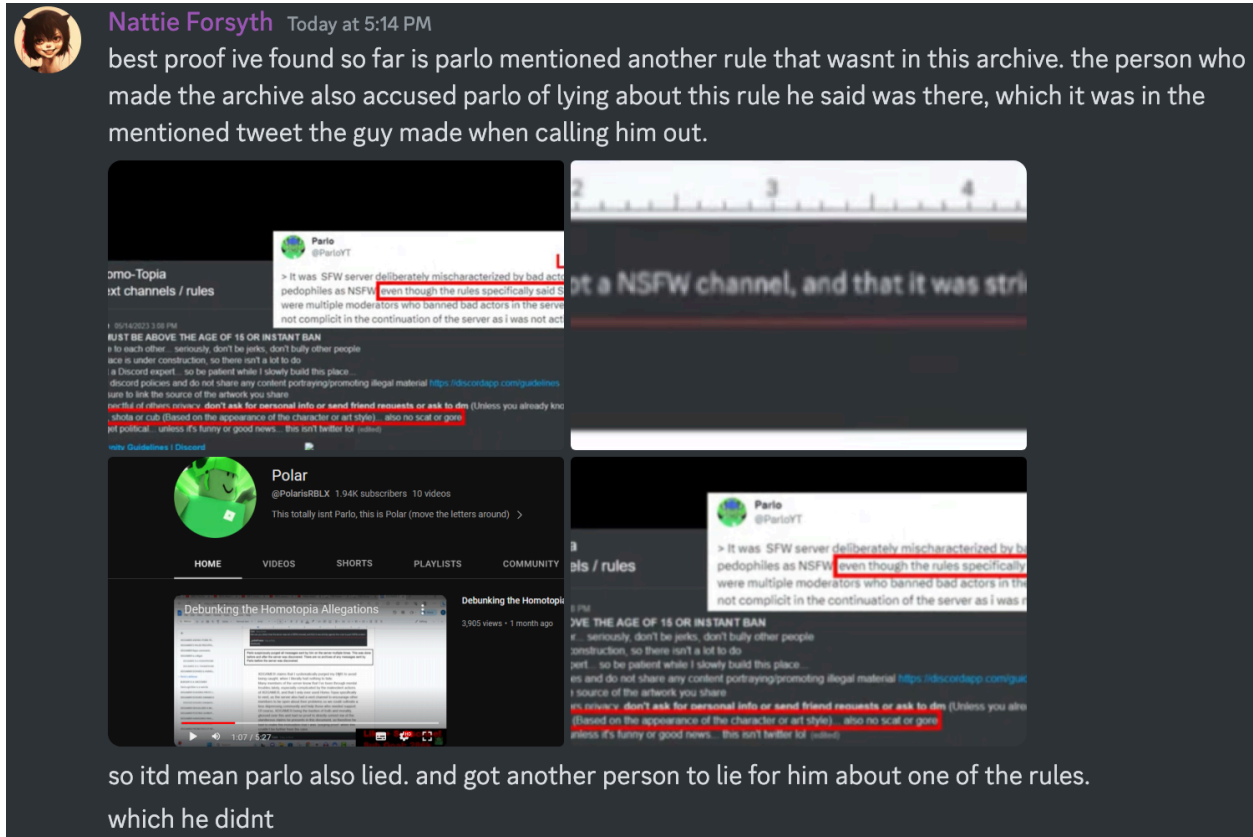

It was clear via the rules that no explicit images of minors were allowed whatsoever, and that “solicitation of minors” was prohibited as Parlo had demoted and banned Dae for that exact reason.

Now because teens are genuinely not fully mentally developed, immature and prone to be impressionable and illogical at times, Parlo’s mod team which consisted of teens, 15-18, [excluding Nattie who we will discuss later], when they have raging hormones and are exploring themselves still; are ultimately prone to exploring and breaking boundaries. The images they posted at the time they all believed to be fine [to varying degrees] as they weren’t explicit in their eyes, however they were unaware of the danger they put themselves into by showing themselves in the way they did because of predators seeking to take advantage of them, and the content posted in the server while not sexually explicit or deemed as CP/CSAM or CSEM, is still objectively suggestive and should be discouraged nevertheless but ultimately wasn’t, as the behavior was not prevented quick enough and people just assumed it was perfectly fine to continue the way they did.

Sure they believed they weren't doing anything wrong, but this entire Homotopia server acted as a lesson for people to not replicate said detrimental behaviors again, for their own sake and people around them too. Just for clarification, it doesn't necessarily have to meet the definition of NSFW for it to still be bad. It was suggestive and should have never happened.

Parlo had a vision for what he wanted the server to be, and seeing people attempt to push the boundaries in which the server enforced by linking the discord community guidelines would have undoubtedly angered him.

XDGAMER has ample opportunity to give the benefit of the doubt to Parlo and clearly show that the server did have the rule “to follow discords community guidelines”, readily available in the Rules channel. However nevertheless he didn't and attempted to pin Parlo as a liar despite the fact his tweet was objectively correct.

The server under Parlo was set to allow minors to join, so why would Parlo have openly gone against discords community guidelines to make sexually explicit content available to minors? It literally does not make sense. What is the point of Parlo enforcing rules to then actively break them himself. That is why Parlo lowered the age of the server requirements from 16+ to 15+, because Pyro was thought to be a capable moderator and was still 15, so Parlo didn't want to be seen breaking his own rules.

Cam Today at 14:46

btw can you attest that the server was not a NSFW channel, and that it was strictly against the rules to post NSFW content

_jackieFreeze Today at 15:06

The entire argument whether the server can be appropriately classified as NSFW is subjective to different people. The definition of NSFW is also a subjective term sometimes not entirely tangible and can't necessarily be morphed to meet different specific standards, it's not a cohesive term to measure every single situation.

People will automatically assume that just because something is NSFW, then it is the worst possible case and it's inherently pornographic / horrific in nature throughout the channels, when I think it's better to use more precise terminology; Homotopia had instances of NSFW and not appropriate content and suggestive images, however the instances were not commonplace when you take into consideration the plethora of SFW normal chat logs in respective archives. Just because it doesn't fully achieve the definition of what constitutes as an NSFW server entirely, does not mean it cannot be up for heavy criticism and scrutiny. The server is lodged in a gray area of classification and it's best to list the facts as put in this document rather than to argue about word semantics which achieve nothing in the long run. It was not encouraged to post pornographic images but certain users who misconstrued the nature of the server certainly pushed boundaries, but what can be agreed on is that the server was degenerative and disgusting.

Parlo - "I made a mistake addressing the situation months ago by just relying on testimony from active members of the server at the time, I know now that it may seem unreliable as they were on friendly terms with me. The purpose was to show that actual members of the server at the time can attest on their own volition that it was not as bad as some people such as XDGAMER are trying to legitimately claim, by trying to insinuate that all the channels were riddled in NSFW, but I see now that Pyro for example, or other like minded teens, may not sufficiently understand the definitions and classifications of certain images. Despite the fact that his testimonies are objectively correct by stating CP was not allowed nor present, he might have not been fully able to grasp at the time that the server was degenerative but not entirely NSFW. Also the fact that he states that there were 'no inappropriate images of minors', may be somewhat misguided as some images sent were not appropriate and suggestive to varying degrees. Not stating that Pyro is a liar when I initially contacted him about this all in 2023, but more or less illustrating how it takes a while for one to process the severity of a given situation and that he may have not appropriately worded himself with sufficient definitions when I originally contacted him. As I contacted him in January of this year, his stance seemed to have changed and he is aware that the creation of the server was ultimately a mistake."

Perhaps Pyro was not even that active in the server himself. There were times in the Homotopia server where the chat was not active and he could have not known the extent of the degeneracy that took place inside of it, despite being far more active than Parlo at the time, to the point where he decided to act as the owner himself. Now it was confirmed by his own words that he was indeed relatively inactive in terms of moderation standards by 23rd May.

Another user who was in the server is present stating that in his eyes the content posted in it didn't match his criteria of "NSFW" content. Yet again this matches with points mentioned in this document, NSFW is a subjective term and the testimonies may be biased towards Parlo as they are on friendly/mutual terms, but nevertheless it's important to see actual members state their opinions on the servers nature at the time because these were the actual witnesses who saw it all go down.

As stated earlier; as time progressed, many members were able to fully process how degenerative the server truly turned out to be and reflected on their own character to improve themselves. Which is not only respectable but also shows maturity, because as they have grown older over the year, they have changed their mentality and the way they process situations like this to reflect on their own behaviour.

Now Big Greezy was an 18 year old member in this server who was subject to a lot of criticism for his degenerative actions in the server and extremely suggestive and sometimes borderline NSFW images that he would post.

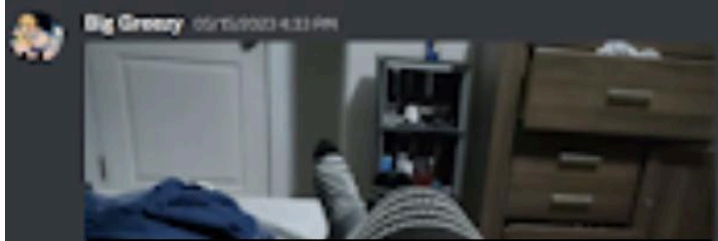

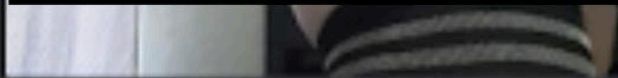

Image was uncensored in XDGAMER's document. However it showed Big Greazy's thighs with minimal clothing. Nothing explicit was shown however it was reasonably suggestive and should not have been posted.

To my knowledge I had never interacted in the IRL media channels to properly see the content that Big Greezy was posting and at the time of my inactivity and I did not properly assess how dangerous it could have been to allow this kind of content to propagate unregulated. I know my errors now and there should have been clear guidelines on what should and shouldn't have been allowed on a server like this, and straight up; the server should not have been made at all. The content Big Greezy sent was gross and made me feel sick seeing it. I don't believe I entered the IRL Media channel beyond day one [perhaps 2] after the opening of the server if anything, I would have been certain to remember if anything serious had happened or NSFW images had been posted, but my knowledge is not the best of the Homotopia situation as everyone else has also moved on and partially forgot about this situation that had transpired over a year and a half ago. I had other situations to deal with during my ownership of the server that seriously preoccupied me and I was hoping that the channels would be moderated well, however I was extremely poor in my judgements."

Greezyboi 14/04/2024 18:15

Ok now I actually remember this server now anyways I didn't know anyone was underaged I didn't look at any intros or the rules i just assumed everyone was 18

The person who ran this server mightve ran into my Twitter or I could've possibly ran into their Twitter because I wanted to join more femboy centered spaces at the time

Greezy was reminded of the entire Homotopia situation when they looked into the XDGAMER document. They clarify the fact that they didn't know anyone in the server was underaged, and they establish the fact that they didn't look at the introductions channel which specified peoples ages or looked at the rules.

It cannot be proven thus far that they knew minors were present in the server, but nevertheless at the very least, they should absolutely been criticized for their gross negligence for not verifying whether a server was necessarily NSFW before posting images bordering the line of NSFW.

Big Greezy got the wrong interpretation that the server was NSFW merely because Parlo's CammyFemboy account said he was 18 at the time. It was never specified on Parlo's CammyFemboy account that the server was NSFW, which is what would have been stated had it genuinely been made for NSFW intentions and to harbor said content, but nevertheless it was made to originally be a SFW hangout server. Parlo never knew who BigGreazy was until he saw the XDGAMER document showing the full extent of the degenerative images that Greezy posted.

Parlo - "Now I can be criticized for the lack of specification with the advertisements that this server was indeed a SFW server, but I absolutely would have given necessary specification if it was an NSFW server and would have made a clear distinction to minors who were following my account to NOT join it, if that had been my intentions. I do not however, like the inference that I'm entirely to blame to baby these 18 year olds like Big Greezy who are responsible for their own actions and admitted by their own volition that they couldn't be bothered at the time to read the rules to understand the server had minors in it; before they posted objectively gross suggestive content inside of it."

The image Parlo sent of the boykisser meme had no correlation to the server or its nature whatsoever. No nudity was permitted on a server that had minors inside of it. The meme was just intended as a random joke, as meme images such as that would gather more traction to the server advertisement link as its caption. That's just how Twitter impressions work.

parlo 14/04/2024 18:16

Does the alias "cammyfemboy" seem familiar and was he and active server owner or was the server owner not active and his mods ran it instead

Greezyboi 14/04/2024 18:16

It rings a small bell yea

So is that why it became more NSFW because of the mods?

parlo 14/04/2024 18:18

Do you specifically remember the owner of the server not being active

Greezyboi 14/04/2024 18:18

Yes I do remember that

It was pretty rare to see Cammy

parlo 14/04/2024 18:18

I see

Big Greezy was not aware that Parlo was CammyFemboy. So when Parlo was asking questions to BigGreezy, the answers and responses were less bias and more genuine. Greezy states that he “does remember the owner of the server not being active” and follows it up by stating it was “pretty rare to see Cammy”.

 @Greezyboi Yes I do remember that

 parlo 14/04/2024 18:20
Do you remember a user called Nattie Forsyth

 Greezyboi 14/04/2024 18:24
Barely
I don't remember talking to either of them

 @Greezyboi I don't remember talking to either of them

 parlo 14/04/2024 18:28
Do you remember any users in specific on the server, and did you ever see NSFW content on the server?
Also was the server ever advertised as an NSFW server?

 Greezyboi 14/04/2024 18:31
I remember jasper, Aharon Bolten, Connorthetwink, and I did see NSFW content on the sever but I thought it was allowed, and the server was advertised as an 18+ server on Cammys Twitter because he said he was 18 so I would assume I would've been an 18 plus server

As stated earlier in this document, what prompted Greezy's judgment that the server was inherently "NSFW", was the first instances of other users pushing the boundaries of what shouldn't have been allowed by posting increasingly suggestive, but not nude or explicit content. Objectively some content in the server was indeed NSFW, but that doesn't unilaterally mean the server was entirely NSFW because as discussed earlier, NSFW isn't a tangible word that can fit a scale of measuring the specific extent of the servers degeneracy, to most people it only is insinuated to be the worst possible thing, and there is no honest leeway given.

However Greezy saw a few instances of perhaps not so appropriate content (but there is no way to tell what content he saw that made his mind set on the fact that the server was "NSFW"), however when seeing this he automatically believed it to be fine to post not appropriate content of his own which was arguably worse than the previous instances. Nevertheless there should have been more active and able moderators to have made sure this snowball effect of degeneracy did not happen.

Now Greezy said the server was "advertised as an 18+ server on Cammy's Twitter", this is a bold and unsubstantiated claim that is not factually true, he then follows up with a statement that contradicts his previous claim by stating; "Cammy said he was 18, so I [would] assume it would have been an 18+ server". That's entirely on his own poor judgement. Sure it can be argued more clarification was needed on the advertisement post for the server, but it was his responsibility as an 18 year old adult to make that distinction clear whether it was a SFW or NSFW server BEFORE he was seen pushing the boundaries beyond what is morally acceptable.

Greezy is seen here stating he got the impression that the server was NSFW, NOT that Cammy (Parlo) ever specifically stated that. This is because as stated before; the server was NEVER intended by Cammy (Parlo) to be an NSFW server.

Now Greezy is seen attesting that no nudes or explicit images were ever sent. He only stated that in regards to any content involving minors, it was just minors in femboy attire, which wouldn't be illegal or explicit, just questionable or suggestive in certain context specific to the image.

Greezy states he left Homotopia however after he saw the people's ages and understood that minors were in the server. No keep in mind this is his testimony and he could be lying, however as of currently there is no proof that he knew minors were present in the server until after he posted those suggestive images of himself, in which he then decided to leave.

Nevertheless if his entire rendition of the situation is true; it aids Nattie Forsyth's statement that the server became increasingly degenerate to a snowball effect of progressively more suggestive content, aided by the fact that no one exactly bothered to read the rules presented in the server, and that Cammy (Parlo) wasn't active to enforce the rules and regulations that he hoped the moderation team he created would have done for him.

 @Greezyboi I don't remember any nudes of any kind just them in femboy outfits I remember the reason why I...

parlo 14/04/2024 18:41

Ah ok, do you specifically remember anything else about the server?

Greezyboi 14/04/2024 18:42

There was a lot of flirting and a lot of shit posting but that's about it

@Greezyboi There was a lot of flirting and a lot of shit posting but that's about it

parlo 14/04/2024 18:43

Do you specifically remember if there was any predation happening in the server?

Or if any predators were banned?

Greezyboi 14/04/2024 18:45

No none at all however I mightve been in the server when something happened but I probably didn't read anything because at the time I had a lot going on in my personal life (edited)

Greezy ends the conversation by stating that he never saw any predation necessarily take place in the server and that there was flirting by users in the chat and shitpost memes in the server, but that's about it.

Now we will go over the proof that Parlo was indeed NOT active and NOT complicit in the degeneracy that took place in the server, and for this we will refer to legitimate discord archive logs of the Homotopia server members at the time.

It was even an occurring joke on the server that Parlo barely said anything in the general chat, and if he did, he would either type the letter "m" and leave or vent about something reasonably personal to him and later remove his messages because of embarrassment looking back on it. And this is something Parlo has done when he has vented in other discord servers of his too. Jasper states that Cam (aka Cammy) [Parlo] typing something for a short period of time and then just randomly going and being inactive again is their "classic behaviour". Bellzybub, a 17 year old moderator for the server, also claims that Cammy is only active on Twitter by posting an image of themselves and then leaves.

Parlo suspiciously purged all messages sent by him on the server multiple times. This was done before and after the server was discovered. There are no archives of any messages sent by Parlo before the server was discovered.

Now in regards to my venting on the server, XDGAMER attempts to insinuate in the document that I suspiciously deleted all my messages in the server to hide my culpability, however this is incorrect.

“I often times used the many RYC servers I owned to vent about my problems and personal struggles because I didn't have anyone in real life at the time who could help me, no one my age that could resonate with my problems other than my online friends that I personally trusted, I never felt accustomed to venting to therapists because I didn't feel comfortable speaking to adults who couldn't also resonate with the struggles that YouTube and online misinformation and harassment could give me, as well as the fact that I personally felt like therapists are only paid to pretend to care about you for a certain period of time, I never felt it to be genuine and I saw them to be out of touch. So I often spoke to my online friends because that's all I had, especially in times of crisis.”

XDGAMER associates such as fanpage had access to numerous logs of Parlo venting about his abuse he had from his father in late 2021/early 2022. His father is an alcoholic and is on record having abused Parlo and verbally insulted him too. Police had warned him not to repeat said actions. Will not go into detail on the situation because it is serious and will only prompt more degenerates to mock the severity of it.

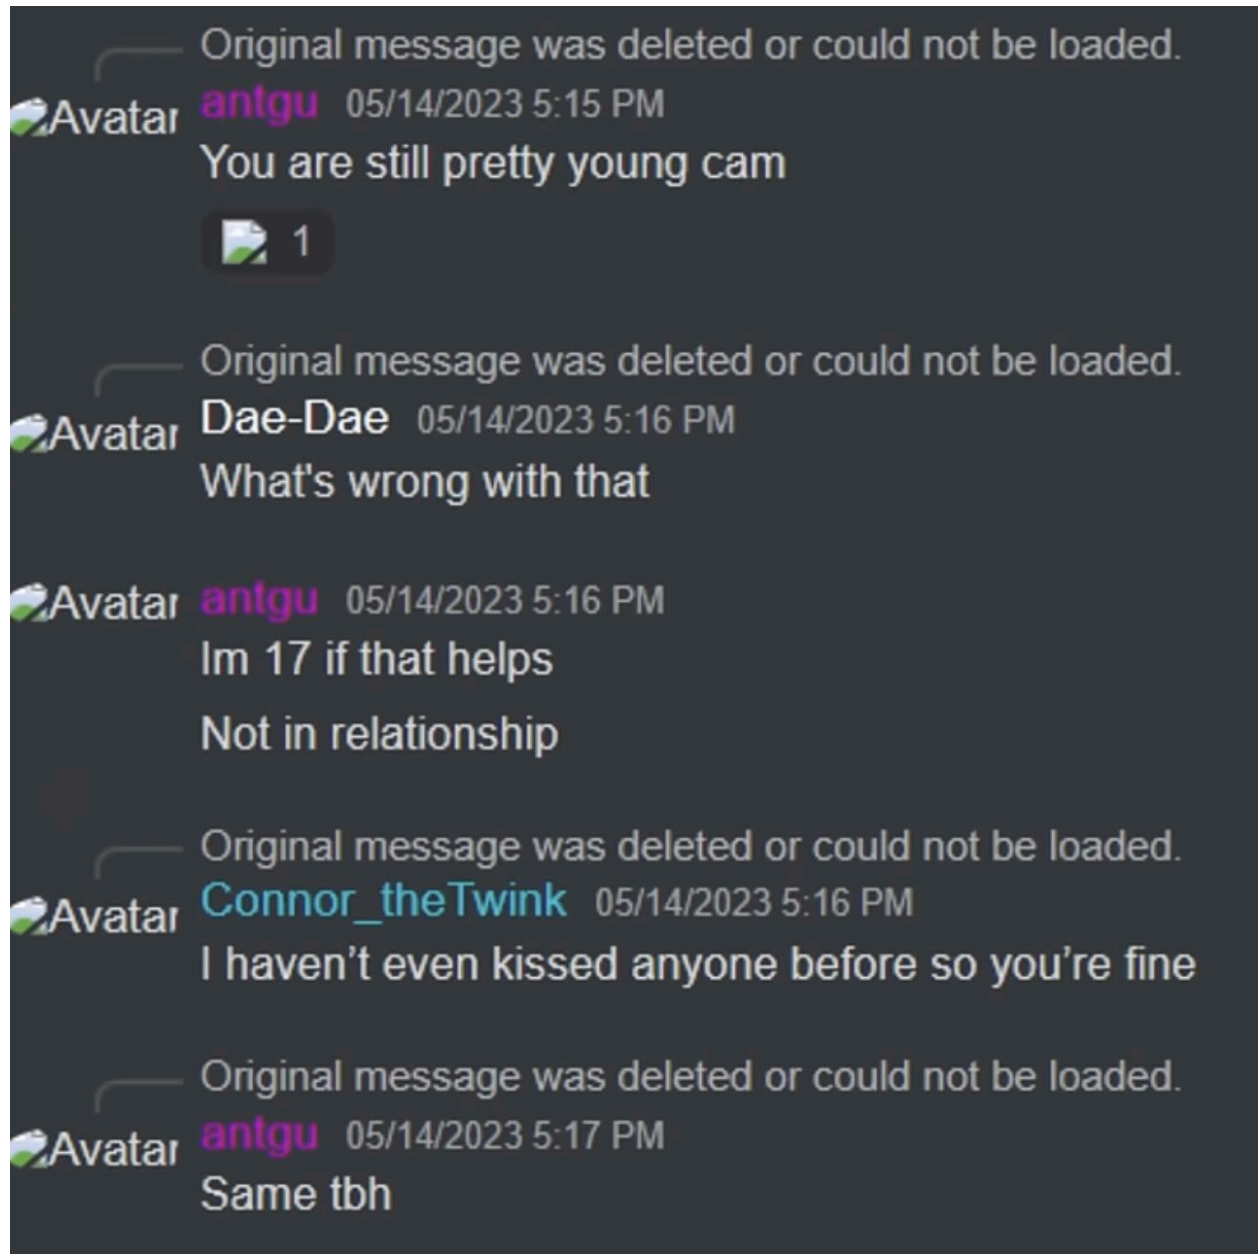

XDGAMERS associate FanPage leaks these old venting messages of Parlo to smear him and claim that his Father hates him to distill discontent to Parlo and ruin his mental health at any avenue possible or available.

This is why Parlo is seen venting about situations and then removing said messages after, because he often times gets embarrassed looking back on DMs where he has shared personal information, and then seeks to remove it to avoid any bad faith actors seeking to use it again him, weaponise it, use it as leverage or to use a serious situation to mock him. It has happened before to Parlo, and he does not wish for it to have happened again, hence why he removed messages of him venting in the Homotopia server.

Another reason was because Parlo was personally told that his depressive and common episodes in the Homotopia server as well as peoples DMs, were making people more inclined to not want to speak with him or in the server right after he dumped a lot of serious and upsetting information. This is yet another reason for why Parlo then purged his venting messages after he looked back on a depressive episode. Normally when people cool off and are calmer, they become more level headed and could be embarrassed by the last venting posts they had made.

Pyro is seen testifying that Parlo mostly just vented about personal problems and then deleted said messages.

As you can see Parlo under the Cammy account had deleted a message where he was venting about not having a boyfriend/girlfriend or a significant other, and he felt as if other people his age have achieved far more than him in terms of relationships and progressing socially, and it made him feel extremely depressed. Now as this was a personal situation to Parlo and he would be embarrassed if any bad actors released this to try and effect Parlo's image, he purged the DMs.

Parlo here decides to delete his messages venting about his depression and depression medication. Because the topic was of course; depressive, to most people who wanted to be part of a positive social discord server, Parlo didn't necessarily want to affect the tone of the server so he removed the messages.

Image from XDGAMER's document in which maliciously negates context. So further messages from the Homotopia archives are posted below so you; the reader, can understand what was being said.

Parlo is once again seen venting about being lonely and not progressing as well in life as other people his age, for example seeing his classmates have loving relationships or going out to parties and having committed romantic dynamics, while he has essentially nothing. As you can see Connor replied at 19:19, and Bellzybub (an admin in the server), states that Cammy removed his message at 19:25, establishing how Cammy would routinely remove his vent messages shortly after the topic of conversation is over, regardless of whatever baseless insinuation XDGAMER made about "purging evidence".

Now Parlo removing his DMs so XDGAMER didn't maliciously leak them to make fun of Parlo's mental anguish bleeds into a relatively large reason why Parlo wasn't even active in the Homotopia discord server, and that was because he was busy dealing with XDGAMER and his associates on his main Parlo account.

Screenshot Excerpt from Parlo's "Taking Accountability video". Parlo states [in what is highlighted yellow], that his main priority is dealing with XDGAMER and that he needs to go on the down low, to avoid XDGAMER mass reporting his Twitter so he doesn't get terminated. Parlo at the time was IP banned from Twitter. Parlo also shares the fear that he is paranoid and scared that XDGAMER is spying on him and his messages. This matches with the fact that Parlo would delete his messages in fear that XDGAMER or his associates would use them in bad faith against him, not because he did anything illegal or was complicit in illegal activities in which he was NOT.

Conversation from 20th May 2023, 6 days after the servers creation: - As you can see Parlo under the Cam account states that the age limit should be 15, to take into consideration Pyro (as discussed earlier). Parlo then states that he has been inactive because he has been cyberstalked and harassed and that he is dealing with the damage from it on his “other accounts”, alluding to dealing with it on his main Parlo account on Twitter and Discord. As he didn't have access to his main Parlo YouTube channel. XDGAMER was harassing Parlo and ruining his mental health considerably at the time, this coupled with the fact that Parlo had to deal with A Levels, as well as Family issues, increased suicidality/self harm issues and relationship issues, this all resulted in Parlo cutting social contact a lot with anyone, and resulted him being considerably inactive throughout the entire tenure of Homotopia.

More archived message logs proving Parlo was not active, he would come in and say one word [hi] or just type the letter “m”, and then disappear. With more users in the server stating for Cam [Parlo] to come back, because they have a lot of things to tell them and catch them up on.

why

Message sent on the 21st May 2023 - No response from Parlo due to his supposed inactivity. Same user sends a message on the 23rd and states that Parlo was using Homotopia's vent/rant channel (he would only use general or rant) and that they are willing to hear him talk about anything and they won't judge.

The user then states almost 3 hours later that Cammy shouldn't leave the server and that perhaps Bellzybub should take ownership of the server.

Parlo replies "why", as to hear them out. Parlo at this time just wanted the server to fizzle and die out, wanting to leave the server and not have it continue.

Parlo is seen stating he wanted to leave in this discord exchange with users telling him not to leave. This was because at this stage he was extremely depressed and because it was a snowball effect of depressive tendencies over a reasonably long period of time, it made people less inclined to want to speak to Parlo (Cammy) in any instance, which just made him feel even more lonely and prompted him to want to disengage in the Homotopia community because at that point no one spoke to him and he barely knew anyone even present in the server. Bellzybub was seen as a replacement for Parlo by certain members. Keep in mind; Pyro was technically acting “pseudo owner” of the server upon the days that Parlo wasn’t active in the server. Parlo only knew of Pyro stating this as of December 2023, 6-7 months after Homotopia was called out.

no

On the 23rd May 2023, Parlo under the Cam account states that they were not online the day before on the 22nd.

This user replies "that's what admins are for". So there is crystal clear proof that Parlo was given the heads up by users that it didn't matter if he was inactive in the server because the admins had the entire situation completely covered. However as we know now; this wasn't exactly the case. Now this user isn't to blame whatsoever, objectively a server owner can normally rely on their admin team in normal situations, but Homotopia wasn't a "normal" situation. The user states if Parlo was going to be ok in reference to the very public venting he did in the discord channel, to which Parlo states no, this is because as referenced earlier in this document; Parlo was being plagued by a lot of problems, most notably being XDGAMERS ongoing harassment.

Pyro is also seen in the later stages of Homotopia stating that he is "not going to be moderating this chat". Allyn takes over with Pyro stating for him to be strict. The lack of active moderators certainly continued to lead the entire server down a path of degeneracy. There should have been objectively more moderation team members, however when Pyro had stated he "wasn't going to be moderating the chat", despite self-proclaiming himself as the "pseudo-owner", Parlo himself was not active to know about any of this.

Now Parlo was increasingly paranoid of many of his friends disoriented from just the Cammy alias because of depleting trust issues caused by XDGAMER's harassment campaign on all platforms, and assumed that literally anyone could have been XDGAMER. This was because XDGAMER had good OPSEC and maintained his anonymity for a while. He was good at hiding his typing styles making it hard to reference if he typed like other individuals and his motives for harassing Parlo were random and pretty much unknown, XDGAMER could have literally been anyone in Parlo's eyes. Here was an instance of him asking who a user named "Funni XD" was because of this paranoia - [ABOVE IMAGE]

[ABOVE IMAGE] - Parlo states in his own words that he has extreme paranoia because of XDGAMER having cyberstalked him for 9 months leading up to this point.

And later XDGAMER did eventually join the server, however Parlo had banned him and believed that the problem was sorted. Parlo did not know XDGAMER had entered the server until he was speaking in the general chat and Parlo caught wind of it.

As you can see XDGAMER was speaking in other chats present in the server [introduction channel] which Parlo never used and barely knew about, further illustrating the point that Parlo only used general chat and vent, and then again was barely active in those channels. He was provably reliant on his moderation team and was not active.

Parlo is seen making sarcastic jokes about the “rise of Dae”, it was an inside joke in the server because everyone was aware that Dae was a disgusting person and a threat to minors. Parlo can also be seen stating “what have I missed since my departure”, “bro I missed so much wtf”. This perfectly illustrates that he was now aware about most of the events that transpired on the server and for this one day where he was active and sent messages in general, he still did not access irl media or see the select few instances of extremely suggestive meme images that were allowed by his mods to be posted in general. It’s debatable that when Cammy [Parlo] was active, users didn’t push their luck unlike when Cammy [Parlo] was not present, so users maintained a normal composure not attempting to push any boundaries of what images they could get away with posting. This is believed because Cammy [Parlo] surely wouldn’t have been greatly surprised at the degeneracy present in the server when it was exposed in XDGAMER’s document, had he garnered foreknowledge beforehand of what the server was like behind his back. When Parlo had basically seen the XDGAMER document exposing some instances of degeneracy present on the server, he was greatly shocked and angry and removed the server on the exact same day of him finding out about this document. This is proof that he had no idea to the extent of degeneracy that was taking place, hence his shock when he found out, especially in regards to his response to Nattie Forsyth’s degeneracy.

Now there are some instances of archived messages made by Parlo in the server. However it was 50 messages all sent on the same day, and without the entire context, it doesn't really paint any specific picture or add anything new to the conversation. It doesn't prove that Parlo knew what was going on in IRL media, and it certainly doesn't prove that he had foreknowledge of the buildup of degeneracy that was happening. As discussed the chat was probably on their best behavior, while Parlo was discussing BMI, height and "drinking milk". The image he had posted was abdominal progress pictures and were not inherently NSFW whatsoever. The image was believed to have been posted in general chat. Parlo was doing a lot of core exercises involving planks, push-ups, sit-ups at the time and was attempting to gain visible abdominal muscles.

He states he "hasn't taken a picture in a good while", once again inferring that he was not active on this alias whatsoever leading up to this point. Just because 50 messages were sent in a day, does not illustrate that Parlo has any proper knowledge of the servers degeneracy, especially when considering the numerous instances of archive message logs of the server at the time, showing users making inside jokes that Parlo [Cammy] was not active, as well as member testimony and Cam's [Parlo's] old messages himself.

i am 43 in real life

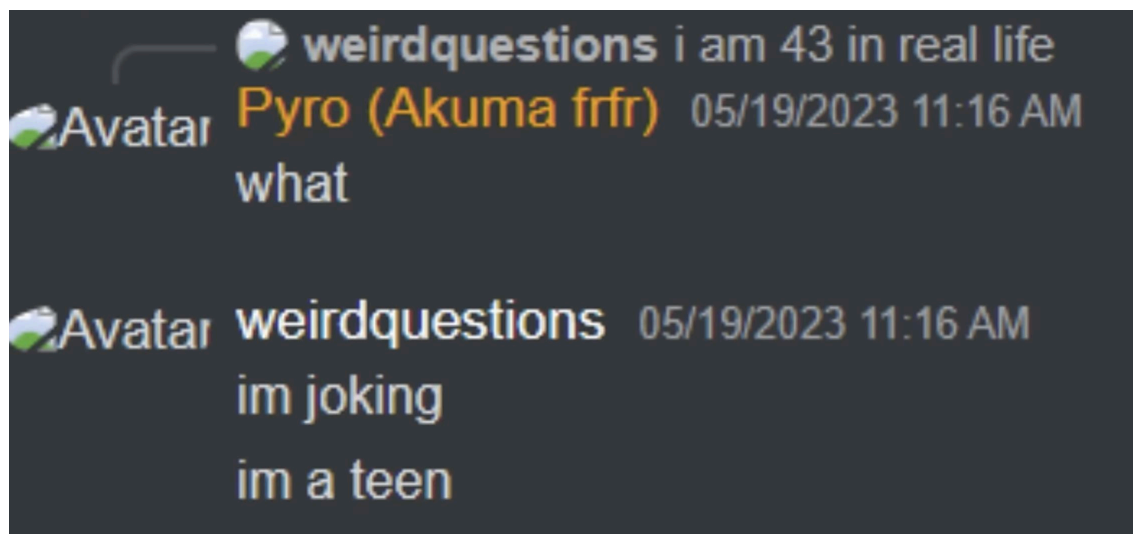

There was no age verification process. Many members did not give their age. The publicly disclosed ages ranged from 15 to 43 years old. These ages were unverified and anyone younger or older could have easily falsified their age.

Now XDGAMER claims that the oldest user in this server was a 43 year old man. He knows this was a lie yet still included it in his document to deceive people to make it look like it was a safe haven for predatory behavior and facilitated said detrimental and illegal behavior. This is untrue, as seen with the Dae situation, that behavior regardless of how high ranking they are or their connections, is intolerable and not allowed whatsoever and they were banned.

Parlo - "I can also attest that I banned any bad actors who were perceived in the server, any user who had no name, a placeholder discord pfp, or wouldn't disclose their age was banned by me on the days that I was partially active in the server".

Parlo - "This is corroborated with a conversation I had with Pyro where I stated if he could attest that pedophiles and bad actors were banned, and he replied that anyone who was found to be malicious in those regards was banned quickly".

Now that is super interesting is this said “43 year old”, actually proceeded to immediately follow up the statement by clarifying the fact he was a teen and he was just joking. XDGAMER, having access to archives of this server; proceeds to maliciously obfuscate this clarification to try and deceive viewers of his false document that the server harbored and allowed old men. This goes to perfectly show how bad faith and malicious XDGAMER’s judgement is, you have to understand the intensions of the author and in this case that author is XDGAMER, he will attempt to maliciously warp and misconstrue any available tool at his disposal to make Parlo look terrible.

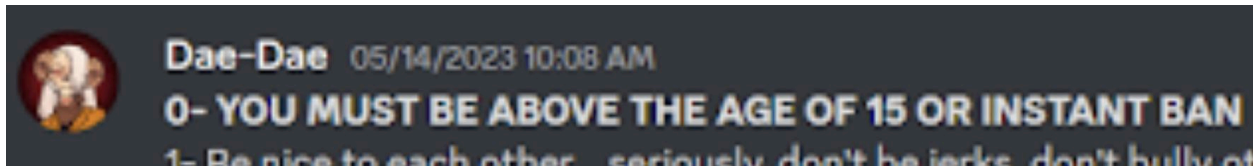

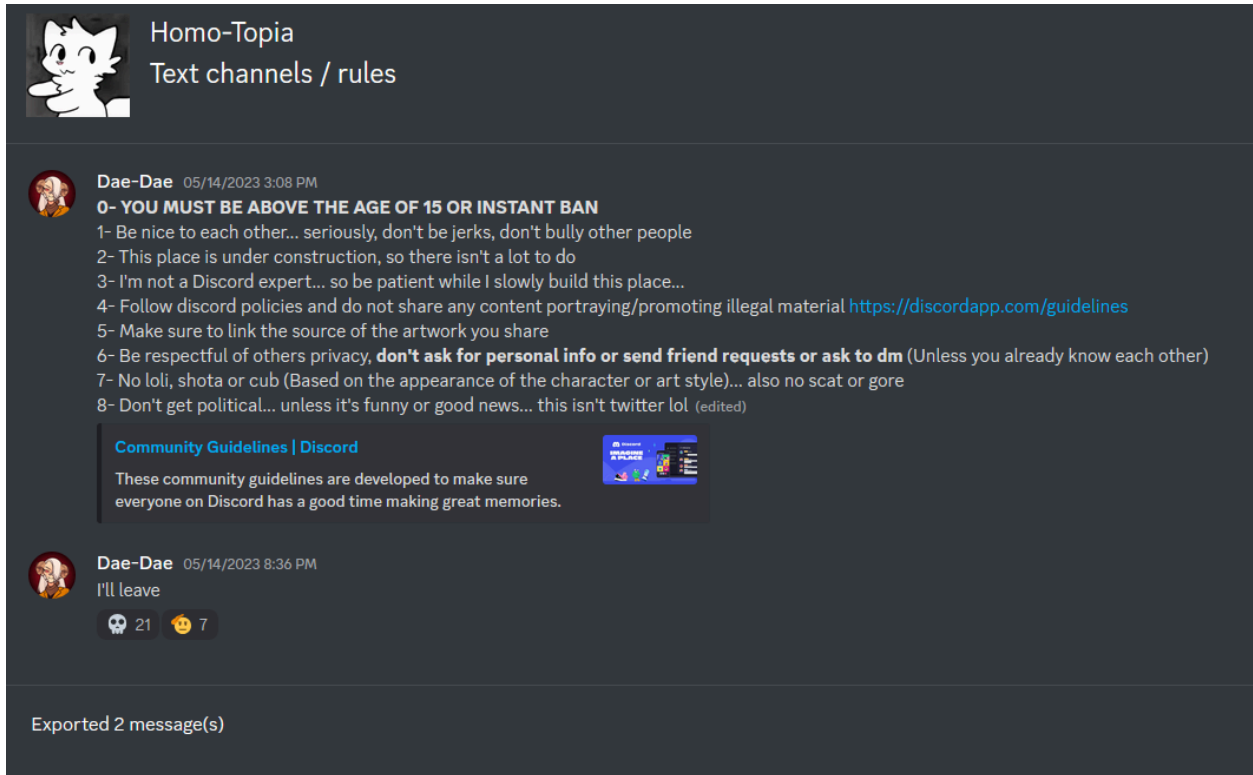

The rules for the Discord stated nobody under the age of 16 was allowed. This means cammy was directly allowing underage individuals to be exposed to the explicit content. Even worse: this rule was ignored as some of the most active members were openly as young as 15 years old.

This is another lie that XDGAMER states in his document. The rules specifically stated that it was 15+ on the Homotopia rules channel. Additionally Cammy [Parlo] can be seen in archived messages, speaking to a mutual about 15 being the youngest age that should be allowed, because once again in his eyes, he wanted Homotopia to be a SFW hangout server for like minded LGBTQ teens, not a degenerate server.

A screenshot of a Discord chat conversation. The background is dark grey. At the top left, there is a redacted name in a black box followed by the timestamp "20/05/2023 13:05". Below this, the text "yo" is visible. Then, "is there an age limit on ur server, cus lk cams is 16" is written. Further down, the name "Cam" is shown next to the timestamp "20/05/2023 17:42", followed by the text "maybe 15 youngest".

yo is there an age limit on ur server, cus lk cams is 16
Cam 20/05/2023 17:42
maybe 15 youngest that document is inherently flawed too, as the age was 15+, not 16+

XDGAMER had literally showed the Dae screenshot of them listing the rules in his own document, so I have no idea why he is creating this elaborate lie that Parlo and his mod team broke their own rules to allow people younger than the age specification. Dae stated “must be above the age of 15” setting the baseline of once someone immediately turns 15, you’re allowed. It would have been significantly easier if they stated “minimum age is 15”, or someone had restructured the rules channel. The rules didn’t state “minimum age is 16” and it’s debatably a semantics game at understanding what they mean. Now it’s believed Parlo at the start of the servers creation, made an exception to Pyro to enter the server because he was turning 16 literally in less than a month later and Parlo saw him as a capable and active potential moderator. This then led Parlo days later to specifically have the 15+ rule enforced. But nevertheless it makes no difference because 16+ and 15+ still require the environment to be SFW, because it allows MINORS into the server.

Parlo - “Dae was a terrible moderator, literally awful, and it angers me how bad they were at organizing the rules for my server because it put me in more scrutiny than I deserve because Dae didn’t make the rules channel fully match what I had intended, the SFW enforcement was as nearly as obvious as I hoped it would have been.”

The rules for the Discord stated nobody under the age of 16 was allowed. This means cammy was directly allowing underage individuals to be exposed to the explicit content. Even worse: this rule was ignored as some of the most active members were openly as young as 15 years old.

XDGAMER is seen claiming that Parlo "DIRECTLY ALLOWED" underage individuals to be exposed to explicit content. This is a BOLD FACED LIE, and not true whatsoever because as stated in this document, Parlo was not active whatsoever and had no idea what was happening until he saw the extent of the degeneracy as highlighted in XDGAMER's document. The idea he was complicit and "directly allowed" this behavior is unsubstantiated and completely false, and shows XDGAMER's motives at maliciously warping Parlo's intentions to make him look as bad as possible.

Pornography and suggestive photos were often posted on this server. No channels were marked as NSFW. This was so that any minors with their Discord account set as underage could still access all channels. There was a channel named "#irl-media" which was dedicated for members to post photos of themselves. This was generally used by members to post revealing or suggestive photos. This included members who were underage. The legality of these images is questionable.

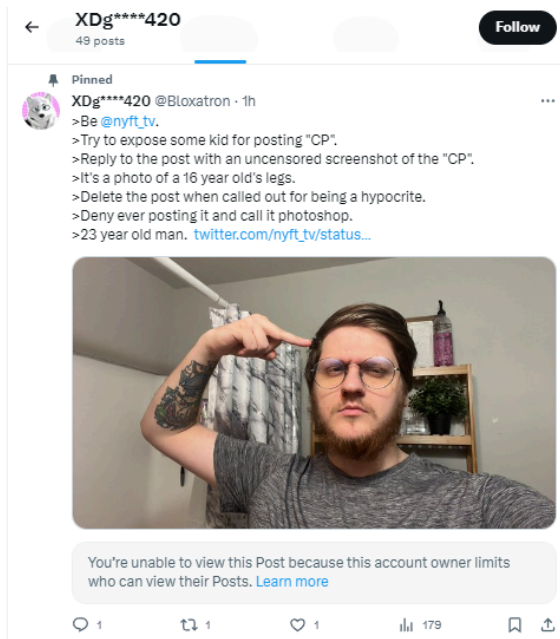

The claim that porn and suggestive images were posted in the server is simply unfounded and not true. There were never any instances of sexually explicit material and there have been over 12 cases of objectively suggestive content in which was posted in the server, out of ~12k message logs. XDGAMER lies claiming it was often posted to push the impression to the reader that the server was overtly and entirely NSFW and degenerative when it was only partially so. That's why there is a gray area classification on what type of server Homotopia was. XDGAMER also maliciously claims there were no channels marked NSFW, so that minors could freely access all channels with said material inside of it. This is another lie: Parlo had removed the only age verified NSFW channel which was present in the server made by Dae on the first day of the servers creation, this was because Parlo did NOT want an NSFW server whatsoever, he made that point abundantly clear. The intention was for the server to be SFW, this insinuation XDGAMER makes is once again baseless and unsubstantiated.

Pornography and suggestive photos were often posted on this server. No channels were marked as NSFW. This was so that any minors with their Discord account set as underage could still access all channels. There was a channel named "#irl-media" which was dedicated for members to post photos of themselves. This was generally used by members to post revealing or suggestive photos. This included members who were underage. The legality of these images is questionable.

XDGAMER claims the legality of the images are questionable rather than being able to fully determine whether it was illegal. The images sent via minors in the server were always clothed and showed no instance of nudity or revealing body parts. Nevertheless they shouldn't have posted said images, but the thigh pictures for example present in XDGAMERS document were overly censored to make the images look worse than what they legitimately are. I believe the peak of hypocrisy was when XDGAMER was seen archiving a leg picture of Parlo which was not suggestive or sexual whatsoever, alike other images sent by people in femboy clothes in Homotopia, and XDGAMER is seen mocking Nyft for sexualising the image and associating it with pornography, in which is exactly what XDGAMER was doing in the Homotopia document, by using word semantics to make the images sound worse than what they were. This plays to the motion that XDGAMER was deliberately over censoring the images to make them appear harder to distinguish and give the reader the belief that they were far worse than what they actually were. Sure it is agreed upon that the environment that Homotopia fostered was objectively degenerative and bad, but let's not put it past XDGAMER that he would over censor material to make it worse than it was. Here XDGAMER is seen posting an archive link embed image of the same description and now going against the same narrative he would have upheld had the image been posted in Homotopia.

XDGAMER is virtue signaling against images of the same nature, but attempts to use word play semantics to play down similar situations when it best suits him, fully indicating his hypocrisy in this matter.

Minors Posting Suggestive Photos

← Homotopia

XDGAMER purporting an image of me with semen on it (edited)

XDGAMER was also seen retweeting images of Parlo's CammyFemboy account with FanPages' semen on it, which was vile.

XDGAMER was also seen belittling the actions of his associate - Genlogicstan who has openly signal-boosted an archive image of Gwamgo's sister who was 15 and wearing boxers doing a suggestive pose. GenLogicStan was also seen sexualising this image.

XDGAMER's hypocrisy when it comes to image classification and his double standards;
<https://youtube.com/watch?v=jXBiUnS-hMI>

The server was deleted by cammy soon after it was discovered. cammy is a fully grown adult who understands that running a server like this and exposing minors to such content is inappropriate. cammy has called others out for similar behaviour. He should be held accountable for his actions.

XDGAMER states that the server was removed after it was “discovered”. Now he likes to use word semantics in order to make it look like Homotopia was a private server that was intended to be concealed and hidden, when this isn’t the case. The server was public and intended to be available to anyone above the age of 15, and below a certain threshold of people in their 20’s. It is actually commendable that Parlo removed the server the day it was called out - 31st May 2023, because it proves that he wished to not continue the servers degeneracy once he knew about it, and he is aware that the behavior in which took place on it was not acceptable and the server had to be taken down, it was not salvageable at that point.

Now XDGAMER uses word semantics claiming that Parlo is a “fully grown adult”, despite him literally having turned 18 only a couple weeks prior. He also uses this wording to make it sound like he was fully complicit by stating “[he] understands that running a server like this and exposing minors to such content is inappropriate”, and despite the fact that it has been proven that Parlo was not complicit whatsoever, what is stated in the aforementioned statement reigns true to Parlo’s mentality as he did end up removing the server after finding out the innapropriate atmosphere of it all.

Now in the clarification XDGAMER made, he states that “any revealing or suggestive photos involving minors have been removed”. This means that in the first iteration of the Homotopia archive he had, it contained said images of minors in which he claims were of “questionable legality”. This means he would have to archive the server and then systematically formulate a process of removing the problematic images to create this iteration of an archive. Meaning the problematic images were most likely cached on his computer after his purposeful intentions of downloading all the logs to his device to archive the server. XDGAMER had downloaded images in which he claims are of “questionable legality”.

Pornographic Content

WARNING: NSFW CONTENT BELOW.

Now here XDGAMER is seen selectively nitpicking specific suggestive memes users had posted, to make the server look like it was unilaterally some degenerative pornographic server.

When in many of the cases which I will go over, the images were not explicit, nor did they contain nudity. They were suggestive nevertheless and shouldn't have been posted, but it's best not to overexaggerate the situation. Many of the cases listed were not inherently NSFW and XDGAMER is seen showing these exact same images on YouTube uncensored, with YouTube having not taken down the videos for sexual content, corroborating the fact that the images were not explicit.

My Response - Debunking the Pedophile/ Homotopia Allegations

Parlo · 174K views · 10 months ago

▶ My Response - Debunking the Pedophile/Homotopia Allegations

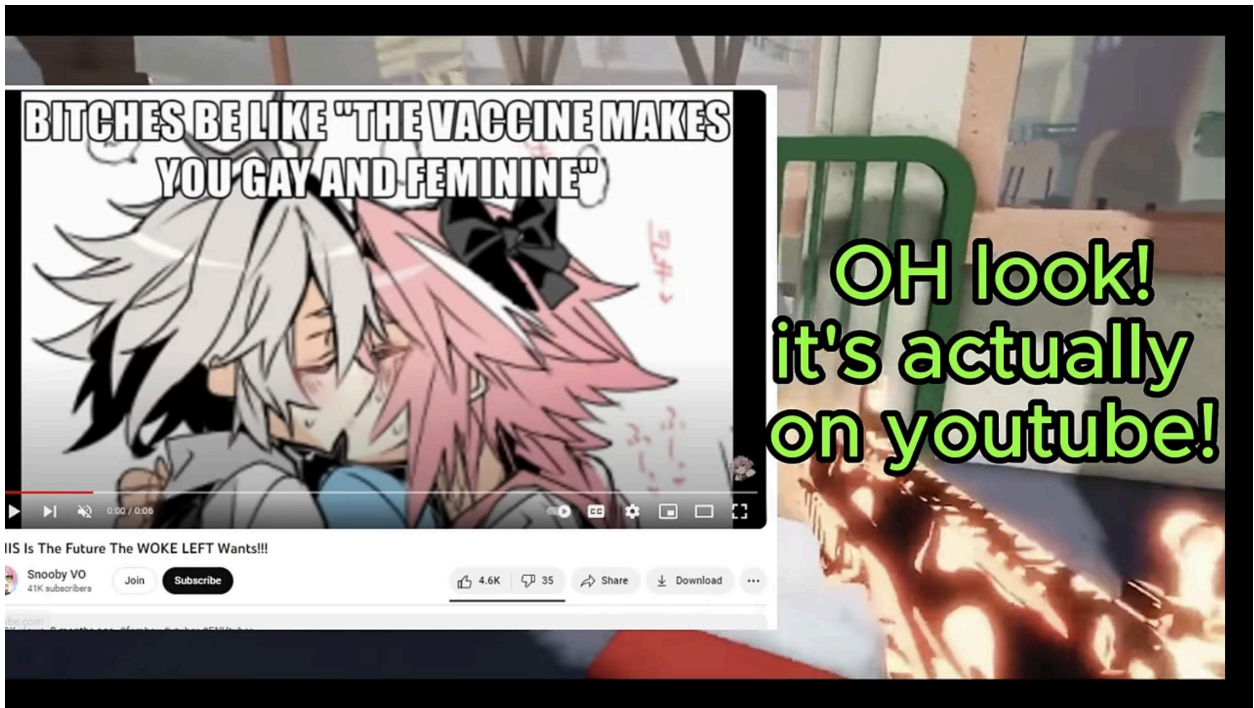

42:56 - 46:01

In Parlo's video going over the situation, he talks about XDGAMER's manipulative technique of censoring screenshots and images to make them look worse than they actually were. While also talking about XDGAMER only showing the worst instances of conversations and images available to spin the narrative that the entire server adopted that same behavior, when there are over ~12k chat logs and it was not representative of the entire server.

As underlined in the above image, a server moderator attests the fact that the document XDGAMER had created is seen “taking things out of context” and “unnecessarily blurring images”. XDGAMER using these minors in Homotopia as a chess piece to use against Parlo is disgusting, and he is over censoring the images to make it look as if the overwhelming majority of them are far worse than they actually are.

People in Homotopia were able to deduce that Parlo was Cammy as the account that XDGAMER was using at the time was called “Parlo EXPOSED” and the document linked Parlo to the Cammy alias. So had Parlo lied about his stance regarding Homotopia in his original response videos, wouldn’t it be objectively correct to state that any member of Homotopia could have easily come out with the conflicting truthful information to prove Parlo was wrong?

These images either showed absolutely nothing or were cropped to show nothing.

Many such examples are detailed in Parlo's original response video where XDGAMER had over-exaggerated the nature of the images and/or used malicious blurring to make the images look like they contained nudity. For example having blurred out a male's nipples to make it look like they were female breasts. Many such examples of the images were also popular memes found on other social media platforms or even YouTube itself, if they were so malicious, why haven't they been taken down?

This screenshot shows a Roblox game interface with a chat window. The chat contains a meme of a black-haired anime character with a shark and the text "Pyro (Akuma frfr) me fr". Below the meme, there is a large orange redaction box. The chat continues with several replies: "Ok but im literally him", "Im Literally Allyn me and u", and "ya". The video player at the bottom shows the title "Parlo Exposed... (My Response)" and the channel "XDgamer420".

XDGAMER is seen showing numerous uncensored instances of “NSFW” content that he referenced in his document. The images were allowed up on his channel with YouTube not taking them down. So either the images are not as bad as he is suggesting that they are, and he has indeed over exaggerated the severity of the situation, or by his logic; he and whoever else has shown these images uncensored, is directly and intentionally showing uncensored NSFW content to their audience. I added the orange censors to the images. The bottom image had a terrible blur to it where you could still see and easily distinguish that it was the bottom part of Big Greezy thigh in the suggestive image.

▶ Taking Accountability

3:46 - 4:40

In this video Parlo states that he takes accountability for being a negligent server owner and that more mature mods should have been put in positions of power, however he states that he used an image reverse search engine to trace back the maliciously blurred images to prove that indeed a portion of the "NSFW" images shown were suggestive at most, but not explicit. With the exception being the Garfield image in which showed the top part of a butt.

People criticizing and trying to expose Parlo for Homotopia such as BloodyMarshall are also seen showing the exact same images uncensored that they are attempting to criticize. They state it's immoral to have said images posted in an environment where minors are, which is objectively true, however are then seen showing it uncensored on YouTube, in a video calling out Parlo, which is a video attracted towards trying to get Parlo's viewers to watch, in which he has a fanbase of predominantly Roblox Children, so in basic sense, you're showing what you deem as NSFW content uncensored to a potential viewer base of children arguably far younger than the 15+ limitation on the Homotopia server, and arguably far more minors than were ever present in the server. Keep in mind too on the fact that the persons video is still up on YouTube, despite doing no censoring at all.

Now Parlo is planning on making a video going over the entire Nattie Forsyth situation more cohesively. Parlo is on record stating he does not support Nattie Forsyth's actions and sees her history of behavior regarding minors to be inappropriate, alarming and disgusting. Nattie Forsyth herself even hates themselves for their past actions.

Parlo has spent the past few months digging through old archives pertaining to Nat and has been in contact with minors who Nat has behaved inappropriately with.

Parlo and Amos even interviewed Nat regarding all her situations a couple months ago in which Amos has a 3 hour recording of.

Parlo has been on record stating that giving moderation roles to Nat was a mistake.

The reasoning for why Parlo has entrusted Nat with moderation perms was because Nat had essentially come to Parlo asking if she could help ensure that the server doesn't have any explicit images posted that could get everyone in trouble.

The situations regarding Nat that Parlo ONLY knew were the Sinny situation, Chloegames situation, ImSandra situation, Craze situation and the Sewing video incident.

In the Sinny situation, Sinny was 16 turning 17 and Nat was 19. The age gap was 2 years 7 months, and according to what Nat had said in her defense videos; Sinny had a history of manipulative tendencies weaponising her suicidality to coax Nat into continuing to speak with her. Nat received an unsolicited suggestive image of her which was promptly, in which was cached on Nat's discord. LittleStray filed a police report and the police came to destroy the hard-drive because of said image to ensure the image couldn't be obtained again through different means. Nat had also sent an image of her private parts to said girl, this image being of Nat when she was 17, however she kept it for over a year and sent it to Sinny when she [Nat] was 19.

The UK has close age exemptions regarding sexting laws where the police don't prosecute teens sexting with close in age, age gaps. Parlo didn't see a 2 year age gap situation as predatory or pedophilic.

The Craze situation was where Nat and her friends at the time [Parlo was not aware of who they were, he later found out] had added Craze to a degenerative group chat of theirs, Nat claimed she didn't know Craze's age and had added her on Snapchat and "semi-ironically" requested for nudes. There was an out of context screenshot in which came out of Nat claiming "k I thought you were 14". This was used to claim that Nat knew the age of Craze the entire time, and was 18 requesting nudes from a 14 year old, which would be agreed under the court of public opinion as being predatory. The problem however was that the context was needed to really illustrate what prompted Nat to say that, and if that was a genuine comment she actually made in reference to Craze. The evidence was circumstantial and in cases regarding pedophilia, concrete proof is required because such cases are extremely serious and life ruining. However despite the “k I thought she was 14 screenshot”, it was later known that Craze was 12. Nat claims the “14” screenshot was in reference to everyone in the GC guessing her age and people listing random numbers such as 12,13,15,16 and Nat picked the one number no one stated which was 14. Nat also claims that Craze was the only minor present in the GC [however Parlo later found this to be a lie].

Parlo has recently spoken to Craze, and obtained more context to the “k I thought she was 14” conversation. It seems as if Nat’s rendition of the situation could be true as there is a massive conversational change that prompted her to state the message, which wouldn’t have made sense unless it was in a VC where people were stating the age, and she sent a message. However there is no proof currently that a VC did take place, because there aren’t further screenshots prior to the message happening.

So the situation is very much debatable to this day even when Parlo had gathered more proof and spent hours discussing this situation as of late 2024.

Furthermore at the time of Parlo giving mod to Nat in 2023, he had researched the topic thoroughly beforehand and came to the conclusion it was a dead end.

There was a time when he received new screenshots earlier in 2024 regarding the Craze situation where he believed he proved Nat’s guilt, however Nat objectively brought up some good counters.

Parlo - “It may be confusing to an average viewer to digest how I gradually understood every situation pertaining to Nattie Forsyth, but as of now in regards to Craze, I’m still at a dead end, maybe she did know Craze’s age, maybe she didn’t. Nat has hinged the topic on whether she knew or didn’t which is extremely hard to concretely prove, she is on record in commentary YouTubers streams claiming she believed Craze to be 16, and that’s why she ‘semi ironically’ tried to solicit her, but nevertheless the behavior was so dangerous, so irresponsible and negligent, the fact she didn’t ask for Craze’s age before engaging in that behavior is a problem she has found herself in with other situations. I personally don’t believe she thinks before she acts impulsively at that time, and that doesn’t absolve her of consequence, and she has certainly faced a lot of consequences for her actions. She didn’t just fuck up once, her history shows a long pattern of it, and I’m not here to defend it, nor do I want to”.

The Sewing situation was an objectively indefensible situation where Nat being 18/19, had posted a video of a guy sewing his penis in Karl Jacobs server in which had numerous minors inside of it. Jackeryz had called this behavior out and it disgusted Parlo. Now to debunk all the lies, there was an out of context clip of Parlo talking about the situation on a 4 hour LoopedQ livestream, in which user ScorpyHQ maliciously used to claim Parlo was defending or legitimizing said behavior, this is not true. Parlo reiterated what Nat had told him when Parlo confronted her about it in private. According to Nat, she was involved in edgy, gross, degenerative pipelines at a young age 17-19 and she believed that behavior to be appropriate.

Parlo - “Now how Nat thought that behavior was suitable is beyond me, I’m literally at a loss to even fathom what in her mind made her think that posting content like that to a server with minors was a logical thing to do. Nevertheless I should have at the time of her asking me for mod; not in fact given her the permissions due to her long history of poor conduct around minors, which is something I have been and still should be criticized for”.

The ChloeGames situation was a nothingburger in Parlo’s eyes. It was a situation which ChloeGames already forgave and accepted Nattie Forsyth’s apology, so it didn’t necessarily need to be brought up again, because Nat did change character when she apologized to Chloe and hasn’t replicated a situation like that again which to Parlo seemed to show maturity development.

Essentially Nat was seen making sexually charged joking comments about ChloeGames who was 16, when Nat was 18. It was weird, once again degenerative, and was something Parlo believed Nat grew out of.

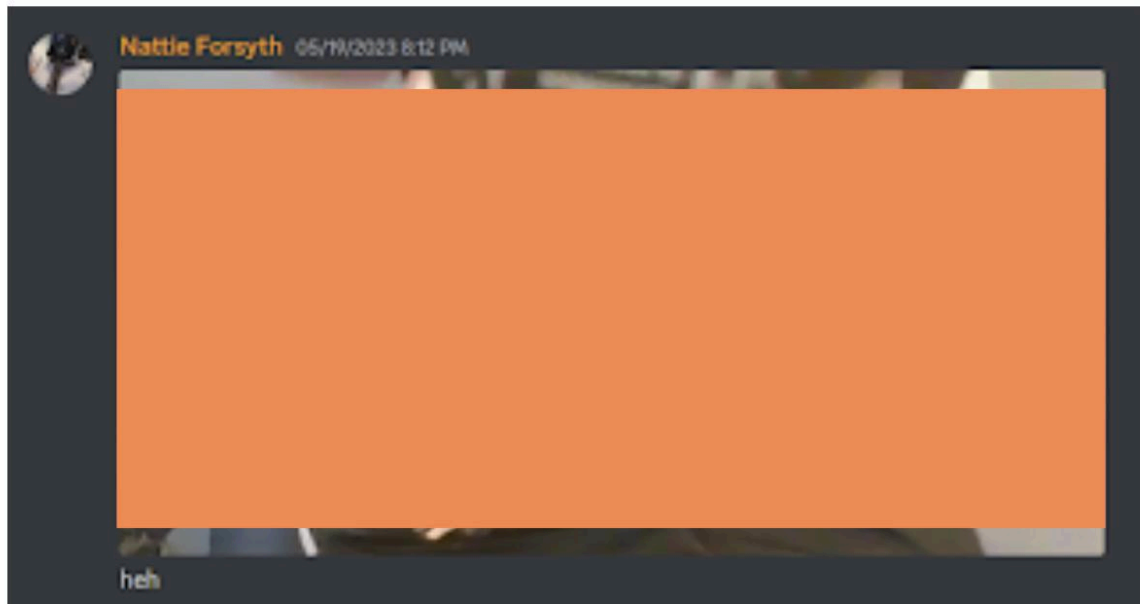

Maturity development was something Parlo also saw in the Nattie Forsyth ImSandra situation. Now as of writing this document Parlo has better knowledge of this situation due to being supplied screenshots from YouTuber’s who called it out at the time, but during 2023, Parlo didn’t entirely know a lot about the build up to the situation, he knew Nat and ImSandra hated each other, then pretended to date, then got called out for faking it, then posted NSFW content. Parlo can’t remember if he knew the specifics of the situation at the time, but nevertheless he wasn’t intending on ever defending what Nat did, but rather had optimism and hope that she wouldn’t replicate that awful behavior again when he entrusted her with moderation perms.

Parlo believed at the time [considering the fact he didn’t know of the other instances of degeneracy] that Nat had changed her degenerative character from 2018/19 and is a grown adult at the time being 22, therefore being more mature when it comes to processing and managing servers. Parlo genuinely believed that Nat had changed her character. Nat was the oldest person requesting moderation perms and Parlo wanted more (what he believed), responsible adults to manage the server in his stead. Parlo wanted a higher mod to member ratio in his server.

Parlo is unable to determine whether Nat stated to him that she wanted moderation perms to prevent minors from posting anything bad in the server in context to her KNOWING that minors were allowed in the server, or making sure that minors SHOULDN'T be in the server and believing that none were present in it.

Nat claims that she banned minors however Parlo cannot remember these instances.

Message sent by Nattie Forsyth (Associate of cammy ) in the CammyFemboy Discord server.

Now Parlo was only aware of what Nattie Forsyth had posted AFTER XDgamer's document had come out.

After he had seen the image in which she posted, Parlo got in a VC with Nat and another person called Hox and was furious at her.

▶ Taking Accountability

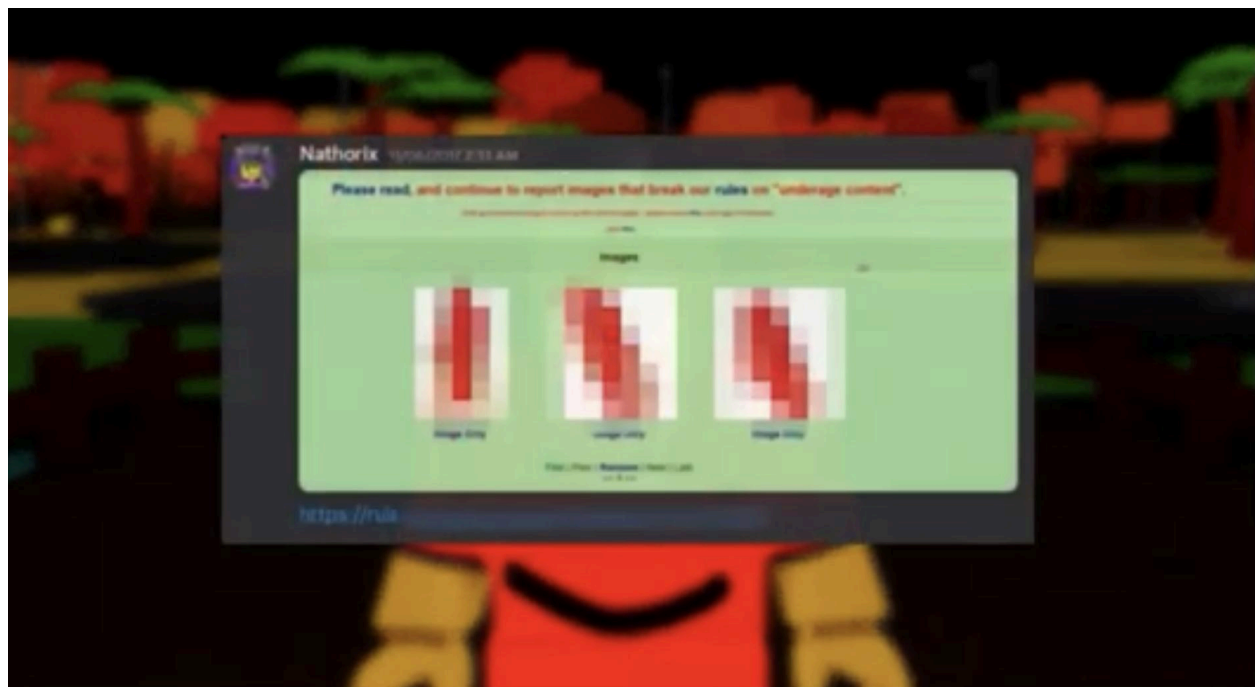

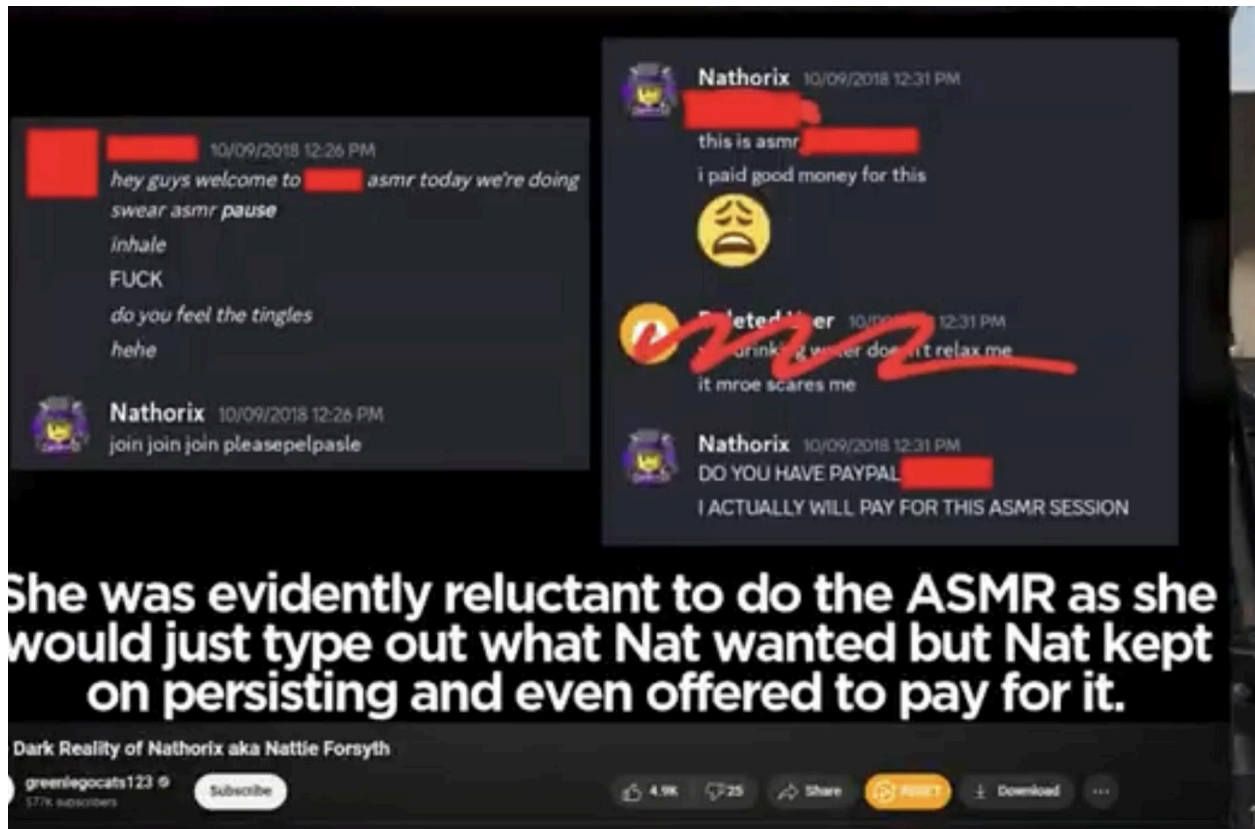

9:30 - 9:52 - Hox attesting that Parlo was extremely angry at Nattie Forsyth's negligence

Nat claims that she never read the rules of the server and there is no proof that she ever did know minors were present.

Parlo - "I'd like to say that I should have never made Homotopia, but most importantly I shouldn't have given mod to Nattie Forsyth, that was a massive mistake and I had incorrectly judged that she would have behaved responsibly and looked at the rules specified in the server. She was an adult, it was her responsibility to look at the rules channel, however she didn't."

As of now there are far more issues that Parlo fundamentally is opposed to which Nattie Forsyth did, for now the public situations Parlo has called Nat out on is her Sleep Stream situation where she was on stream in her underwear and had jumped on top of her partner, while kids were watching and donating. As well as the Schlep porn situation, where Nat had sent NSFW to Schlep when he was 14 and Nat was 17. With finally the GLC video detailing Nat's inappropriate behavior with a 14 year old YouTuber in a ROBLOX YouTuber server when Nat was 18. All instances which are indefensible.

Parlo had confronted Nat about the allegation levied by Schlep where apparently Nat had sent him NSFW of Ripull's avatar when Schlep was 14 and Nat was 17.

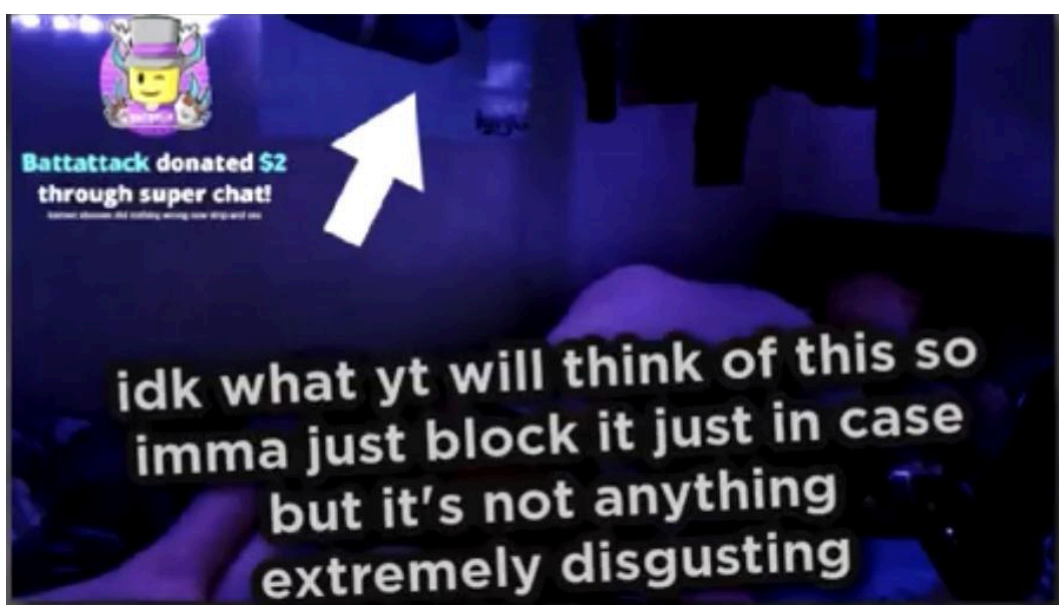

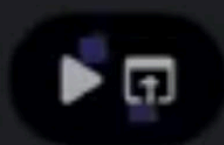

I was present in the call (far left) where Ace and Amos were present also.
We confronted Nat on the Schlep NSFW allegation.

Conclusion.

People have used this situation to lie, defame and attack Parlo without listening to his side whatsoever. A situation as serious as Homotopia, opens the door to people just spreading misinformation. Due to the unreasonable amounts of hatred and bias dislike towards Parlo, people have brought it upon themselves to use any means necessary to justify their unnecessary amount of disdain towards him, and Homotopia is the most cut and dry excuse for most people, despite it objectively not proving Parlo had any malfeasance whatsoever.

We need someone to fully debunk the "response" video, most of his fans have 0 attention span so they didnt watch the actual video. Edit: Watched the entire thing, he also tried hiding the response video under spam trash so nobody would notice it. Not to mention the fact that I got atleast one ad on the video. Along with that one of the mods in his server (he admits to this in the xdgame section) is a 13 year old, a 13 year old should not be responsible for moderation.

Parlo made a group full of minors and put the only mod(nattie) who is 45 and an already exposed pedo in charge. They showed explicit photos and gore. Also parlo defended nattie when he was being exposed and deleted all incriminating evidence of him but no one else to avoid accountability.

I hope this document actually managed to reach all the right people who are still manipulated into believing that Parlo is some predator or pedophile merely over the fact that he was negligent in owning his server, and the fact that moderators and users in his discord server pushed the boundaries of what was allowed.

This document will be updated with any applicable information and will be archived on channels that can't take down the truth.

Parlo was not active on the server. Parlo does not support Nattie Forsyth. XDGAMER is a compulsive liar and hypocrite, and made the document to purposely lie and make Parlo's intentions look malicious out of bad faith bias against him.
