^ girlfriend summoned to help churn through appeals

 Jaspup anyone wanna give me a quick rundown on how to do appeals

 Storm Sagely Sardonic 4/18/2025 10:17 PM
I can help out if you want? I'm going through some appeals now so if you need any help with anything feel free to let me know ^^

 Jaspup 4/18/2025 10:23 PM
just some basic stuff.

1. how do i look up what someone did / drew to get banned?
2. how do i deny or approve an appeal?
3. what kind of questions are typically asked in the appeals process?

 Jaspup just some basic stuff. 1. how do i look up what someone did / drew to get banned? 2. how do i deny or approve an appeal? 3. what kind of questions are typically asked in the appeals process?

 Storm Sagely Sardonic 4/18/2025 10:25 PM
So for the first one you can look up there roblox username which they SHOULD put in their appeal, if nothing comes up let any of us know and we double check their previous usernames etc.

10:26 PM Whether you deny or accept someone is completely up to you. If you believe that someone shouldn't be unbanned for their behaviour (eg severe nsfw and other content) or they have a low effort appeal feel free to deny/delay their appeal to a later date

After you close the ticket you can put whether you denied or accepted someone in #appeals

The ID number for the ticket is in #logs-tickets

And for questions it's normally just

Why did you do it and how is it harmful?

Sometimes letting people read over the Roblox TOS by linking it (if they don't understand why they were banned) helps alot

 Jaspup 4/18/2025 10:40 PM
i heard i'm supposed to be super strict on NSFW appeals, what's that about?

 Jaspup i heard i'm supposed to be super strict on NSFW appeals, what's that about?

 Storm Sagely Sardonic 4/18/2025 10:45 PM
Since the game has alot of children exposing them to NSFW is extremely harmful

Especially because they could go out of their way to search for it if someone is actively drawing it around them

I think it is this <https://moderation.freedraw.app/>

 MAI okay so you'll have to wait for the message answering the prompts, but you can usually check their user by heading to #bots-private and looking them up Then you can search for their evidence by plugging it into the search bar. If not does all of this information still apply to the standards used today?

oh god if i pinged i'm sorry, i forgot to uncheck the thing

 Jaspup 4/19/2025 4:14 PM
In similar spaces I own/run, I would most likely ban this person from the platform for a year and then kick them from the server and see if they rejoin. If they rejoin, tell them to change their nazi username and bio, then temp ban them from the discord for year as well.

Does that sound like an appropriate response for the situation? They don't seem like they're interested in changing lol
I'm not going to reply to that ticket specifically, but just wondering if that would sound like an apt response?

tell that to roblox

 Jaspup 4/20/2025 12:42 PM
since free draw got marked as a mature game at cut the player base in half, i can see why it would be more encouraging to allow more PG-13 stuff to be drawn

dunno anything about them

Concept of all bans being appealable is introduced to admin May 3rd:

A screenshot of a Discord chat conversation on a dark background. The chat shows three messages. The first message is a forwarded message from a user with a blonde hair avatar, dated 5/3/25, 2:38 PM. The second message is from a user named Nicole with a blue and purple avatar, dated 5/3/25, 2:48 PM. The third message is from the same blonde hair user, dated 5/3/25, 2:50 PM. A scroll bar is visible on the right side of the chat area.

we'll slowly be moving away from that system. appeals are too much friction most of the time. requiring each person, no matter how major or minor the offence to have to join here, plead their case, and get a result is unnecessary effort on both parties. there's also no real standards, and each mod is just doing things on vibes.
more info to come soon about the changes

Free Draw • 5/3/25 >

What do we mean by this btw. If were changing how things work could we get the rundown of the plans so were in the loop of whats happening.

Nicole 5/3/25, 2:48 PM
the plan is to make everything appealable, bans less harsh, and to just generally be more empathetic stuff I've wanted for a while

... 5/3/25, 2:50 PM
I understand, but for NSFW I do believe we should atleast stay strict on punishment even if they are bound to make an alt or so if they really care. I dont feel it being morally right if they are given less punishment or treated nearly the same as the daily offender scribbling and such.

Nicole 5/3/25, 2:55 PM

I don't agree

it highly depends on intent

if someone is drawing porn or otherwise very indecent, unmistakable content we can ban them for a year

a year is a very long time

If its minor stuff like them not knowing how to follow robloxs modesty guidelines or just anything that doesnt involve sexual context, yeha i agree the bans can be light but still notified that we take these seriously, but if its full blown porn or detailed anything of the sorts I dont think it should be light. Weve had multiple accounts do NSFW continuously no matter the appeal or ban, il34d, pigrider, even bitrealm with the few cases theyve made on NSFW, theres so many alts just by these 3 names alone for NSFW,harassment and other offenses that shouldnt be taken lightly ; now ofcourse im not saying all NSFW bans are gonna be like that, but if its genuine porn or something that shouldnt even be shown to a kid. I think itd be fair to keep them permanently banned

Nicole 5/3/25, 3:01 PM

again, 1 year is enough time for someone's life to be completely turned around it's long enough for them to forget free draw is even a game if people do the same stuff on alts, yeah you can permaban the alts

Nicole 5/3/25, 3:01 PM

Nicole 5/3/25, 3:04 PM

I want all bans to be appealable no matter how long it's been but for really bad stuff you can just deny if they don't seem remorseful I'm just talking about the time the ban expires

For context (image below), Naka is a former Free Draw moderator who was swiftly kicked off the team and permabanned after being outed as a pedophile and grooming a member of the server. Naka was in his 20s, his victim was 15 at the time. He has preyed on other members as well.

 hiccups 5/12/2025 6:20 PM
I have a question @Jaspup, why did you change the ban to be unbanned in a month instead of them going through the appeal process
Also, I appreciate you helping me with my appeals. But I'd rather you ask me if you could takeover my appeals, before closing and making decisions on my behalf 🙄

 Jaspup 5/12/2025 6:24 PM
making someone go through an appeal twice is pointless there's a reason all the bans are supposed to be time bans now

 Jaspup making someone go through an appeal twice is pointless

 hiccups 5/12/2025 6:25 PM
5al3lex's appeal is only their first offense
And while I think them waiting 4-5 months is reasonable, I also think that with NSFW, we should be more careful about who we let back in. Which is why appeals are in place, so we can determine if the person has learned anything
I don't think all bans should be a time ban, especially with NSFW.
And if that's the case, then doesn't that mean we can't have an appeal be 'unappealable' anymore
If someone gets banned, they can create an alt to evade the ban. It's very simple, however if someone truly wants to get unbanned. It means they have something of value on their main account. And I think it's worth trying to figure out if the person who made NSFW is going to be a repeat offender, or if they're genuinely sorry
That person's appeal you just turned into a month ban, did not sound like they learned much
We shouldn't treat NSFW so nonchalantly just because we're adults, and we're not easily affected by it. We should treat it in the eyes of a child who plays the game

 Jaspup 5/12/2025 6:31 PM
all bans moving forward will be time bans with a set date to expire. I'll be finishing up the new moderation guidelines tonight

 hiccups 5/12/2025 6:31 PM
Do we not get a say at all in this?

 Jaspup 5/12/2025 6:31 PM
we're moderators for a video game, not morality police if they're "repeat offenders", they get banned for a longer amount of time (edited)

 hiccups 5/12/2025 6:33 PM
Okay, so we don't get a say is what I'm hearing

 Jaspup 5/12/2025 6:35 PM depends on what it is if it's an argument for indefinite bans to police someone's behaviour, probably not

 hiccups 5/12/2025 6:36 PM
I'm so glad someone who just joined the team has more authority over any mod, and admin. People who have worked for this team for many years, and have seen many changes in rules. And understand and want to protect children. Not some stupid bitch who thinks protecting children is morality policing
I don't care if this gets me fired this is ridiculous, and just know that absolutely no one agrees with your decisions, they just won't say what I'm saying to your face

i just watched you taunt some, most likely, child in a ticket. and now you're calling me "some stupid bitch".
you, yourself, are a child. if not by age, by maturity. the power here, which now seems to be threatened, went to your head way too long ago.
the moderation system in general will soon be undergoing a massive overhaul from roblox itself, these are just preemptive changes to go along with that to make sure everyone understands

 hiccups 5/12/2025 6:39 PM
Yeah, of course. Whatever you say

 Jaspup 5/12/2025 6:40 PM

 05/03/2025 3:06 PM
then why does it seem unreasonable to not have unappealable offenses just for that sake, yes I understand if we let every player be appealable, what about the few that have been banned for pedophilic behavior, even the one that hasn't drawn anything in the game but shouldn't be trusted on the platform to begin with?

 Nicole 05/03/2025 3:08 PM
well, we would feel it out and make sure they aren't a risk to the community anymore everyone can change

 jones big foot massage 05/03/2025 3:08 PM

the only reason it's being brought up now is because I get to talk to someone who actually moderates for the game and sees the system through the eyes of a moderator bush babe #12 ward patient lowk if we are appealing ALL nsfw im quitting. period.

 bush babe #12 ward patient 5/12/2025 6:55 PM
i cannot in good faith appeal genuine porn.

2 circle low effort dick? ok whatever they clearly dgaf.
some fully rendered sex scene? im not appealing it.

ive been largely inactive to begin with, so honestly me leaving doesnt affect anything.

but i believe a permanent ban when drawing severe nsfw should be the one thing that stays in place. i was a problem when this topic was brought up previously, and i wont change my stance. drawing porn on a kids game should be inexcusable.

i can grab examples, but this just seems like something neither of us will compromise on.

Then i'm quitting too. My 5 years here has been more than enough for me to see Free draw will hardly change. I dont feel comfortable allowing us to have Pedos get appealable offenses when known ones do it again after being released, and as a victim of one. I dont have the energy to fight or even reason as to why this is a horrible idea.
We fought way too hard for this just to be pushed down again. I dont have the energy or the motivation to stay and fight or hope things change.

 Hyun 5/12/2025 7:06 PM
I will also be quitting, I have seen my fair share of pedos and have experienced some as well, in the staff team, nakanonon. They "may" change but it does not change my experience from them. As five have said too, with my experience, and a victim of one, I cannot say more than enough that allowing pedos back in the game is even a good idea.

 Nicole 5/12/2025 7:07 PM
while I respect your decision to quit, please do not misconstrue my words into "allowing pedos back into the game"

From what I've looked at, I believe you started moderating recently. But I was wondering how long you've been engaging with the community. And based on the drastic changes, I wanted to ask what led you to make your decisions for this change. Specifically I wanna know why the last moderation system(eg; the three strike system). Is considered faulty now. Even from a moral standpoint, is the decision completely based on morality and believing in the goodness of people so they change? (You can feel free to answer as well Nicole.)

I will admit, I've had my disagreements with a few moderation decisions, there are some things I disagreed with as I worked on the team. Despite that I understand the moral idea of believing that everyone can be forgiven but I just don't know if that's the full reason for this change. If it is, alright.

Nicole  10:42 PM

we still have more or less a three strike system in the works but it's ban, longer ban, and super long ban

Obiekt 279  10:42 PM

Does this have anything to do with the life of the game?

Nicole  10:42 PM

I haven't eyed jasper's appeal decisions too well, I think 1 month is very very low for some infringements, I need to iron it out a bit
nope

Jaspup  10:43 PM

No policy change is even in place yet, I was going to talk about it with people here when it was done.

NEW

the only reason (generally, people can find new ways to be particularly heinous) to ever indefinitely ban someone is a federal crime, abusing an exploit (not scripting), or drawing CSAM. Lewd images should be taken at a more case by case basis depending on what they are.

Free Draw Action Guidelines

Roblox has community standards, which we'll be following with moderation. Learn more
To better understand how we assess lewd images, Roblox also has modesty guidelines for creators to follow. Learn more

Almost all bans are to be timed bans. Users can appeal their ban, and you can assess if they should be banned shorter, longer, or wait out the timer. Use the admin panel to accomplish this.

Crude Lewdness, Profanity, Scribbling / Griefing, Harassment, & Draw Botting

Example(s): quick drawings of penis, butt, boobs. any curse word (excluding slurs). drawing over someone's work. false vote kicking.

1. 1 week draw ban (1 week ban for text harassment or false vote kicking)
2. 1 month ban
3. 3 month ban
4. 1 year ban (repeating)

Detailed Lewdness, Gore, & Self-Harm

Example(s): sex scene, ahgao-type faces, poses where lewdness is the focus, encouraged disorders, dismemberment, decapitations, excessive blood, self-harm wounds

1. 3 month draw ban
2. 6 month ban
3. 1 year ban
4. 2 year ban (repeating)

NOTE: If any character is both underage and drawn in fashion where they aren't aged up, 5 year ban.

Bigotry

Example(s): hate symbols, slurs, any type of -ism or -phobia.

1. 6 months ban
2. 1 year ban
3. 2 year ban (repeating)

How are we able to confirm these aren't Roblox accounts lying about their age? The problem with this data is that children never set their real birthdays on a verified Roblox account is using my mother's literal driver's license (with consent so I got VC), my alt account, who is allowed on the game, and is IN THIS SERVER verified to be over 18 and is just set as a Jan 1 2000, hell even I lied about my age, when I was 12 I was saying I was 3 years older than my own age

it's okay I think the statute of limitations has passed

 10:05 PM
our age requirement has been internally 18+ for any new applicants for at least 2 years only 2 years out of the years free draw has been out. yes, for 2 years the staff team has been clean of minors, however it is a fact that we have had even 11 year olds on our staff team some who even lied about their age which shows that people DO lie about their ages constantly

Prioritizing safety over player count should always be a priority. is it still going to be with your new rule?
I am concerned because ive SEEN what urse did to draw space or whatever the hell his game is called. he never ever prioritized safety nor do his mods care about it. its dangerous and terrifying

Nicole 5/12/2025 9:10 PM
this has nothing to do with playercount

Nat (normal) 5/12/2025 9:11 PM
maybe I misunderstood. what was the thought process

Nicole 5/12/2025 9:11 PM
we just want to process appeals quicker, this comes as part of a "be more empathetic" rule for all appealees

5/12/2025 9:11 PM
Nicole i really do understand where you're coming from with wanting to give everyone a second chance regarding appeals, but I feel like giving hateful people who actively harm others, like racists, bigots, pedophiles etc a chance into the community to give them a second chance to redeem themselves isn't realistic. you cant have moderators monitoring hundreds of these people to keep them in check and make sure theyre within guidelines, it's just not something you can do, harmful people will slip by, and it will be your fault that children will be harmed because of it, that's just a fact, you cannot completely control people.

People who do these kinds of harmful things are fully aware of roblox, and freedraws terms of service, they see the rules and agree to them and choose to break them, pedophilia, racism and a lot of other harmful topics are willingly done by perpetrators.

Giving people who draw genuine porn, pedophilia, or other extremely NSFW topics a second chance will only allow more problems to breed within the community, because giving them another chance has 0 guarantee they wont do it again, while permanently banning them does have a guarantee they wont harm others. Freedraw isn't something a person needs to live. if you get perma banned, deal with it. It's a video game, a game about drawing, there are thousands of drawing clients and communities, if you break the rules in one move on to another thats what happens to people when they get banned. if you fuck up and get perma'd, that sucks, move on. take it as a lesson not to do it again, but if you keep being forgiven and given chances youre going to learn it's okay

people who actually pose a threat to the community will not be appealed, as I say time and time again

vc is 13+ lil bruh

5/12/2025 9:12 PM
it's really not lol there's kids much younger than that who are the majority bc their parents just hand over their ids to verify since they dgaf about them.

Nicole people who actually pose a threat to the community will not be appealed, as I say time and time again

[Redacted] 5/12/2025 9:13 PM
 But how are we able to 100% make sure these people won't pose a threat? There are only so many moderators to keep an eye on suspicious people, moderation is already extremely time consuming to them as it is, how would we properly make sure these people don't pose a threat other than them pinky promising? Remorse can be faked, thats how these terrible people get away with so many awful things, because they are manipulators. Sure there will be some people who genuinely feel bad but they will move on without freedraw for a bit of context for those tuning in: I changed the policy for appeals on NSFW from being "completely unappealable" to "appealable if they show genuine remorse and a significant amount of time has elapsed"

You do not have permission to send messages in this channel.

Jaspup 5/12/2025 9:21 PM

People who are pedophiles and attempt to groom children (as well as other crimes) are still an indefinite ban. We aren't going to allow appeals for that stuff pretty much ever. The only change was that bans are going from "ban now, appeal later" to just being timed bans. Drawing something lewd is still going to get you banned.

 Nicole 5/12/2025 9:44 PM
it's been reconsidered, 5 years ban (the highest ever considered) on porn just as a reminder, people have always been able to go on alts and I cannot change that for the time being, this change will not impact child safety in free draw whatsoever. I'm not going to budge.
I understand you all that drawing genuine porn in a roblox game is a really serious offense. I also don't really want to keep people banned for something I'm sure they would've forgotten about by the time they actually try to play the game again in at least 95% of cases, nobody does that with the intention of maliciously showing porn to minors, they think everyone around them is their age, or they're even a minor themselves and don't realize it's wrong for those that do, we can deal with them on a case-by-case basis, because this is such a miniscule issue in the grand scheme of things people are stupid
I was super racist once all the way back in 2016-2017 because my peers were a horrible influence on me, why shouldn't I be forgiven for that?
in 2018 I vowed to become a better person and be more considerate of my actions, and I have since done that if I'm supposedly a victim, some of the people drawing porn in game have got to be victims themselves, why can't we forgive them?
this is what I mean, everyone has a backstory, and many of them have a redemption arc too, be nice and be forgiving!

 Jaspup 5/12/2025 10:02 PM
Anyone attempting to commit a crime, such as grooming a child, doing anything pedophilic, or any other heinous thing is going to be permanently banned. They'll also be reported to Roblox and the authorities. This is and has always been the case.
Anyone caught ban evading with an alt is also going to have their alt permanently banned, regardless of what they did as well.

 @Nicole roblox is happy with my moderation

 [REDACTED] 10:01 PM

yea and we all know how exceptionally good roblox moderation is known offenders will definitely be banned indefinitely

 Nicole  10:01 PM

its great actually!
they've improved it a lot over the last couple of years

 I was already informed that this did not happen, it came off so suddenly to staff.

 Jaspup  10:38 PM
i was going to ask for feedback on it tomorrow, since i was still finishing it. nothing was (or even has) been changed, nsfw bans are still perma (edited)

NEW MESSAGES

 Jaspup  10:44 PM
just a gentle reminder that no changes were made, and predators are still, and will always be, indefinitely banned

 @Jaspup just a gentle reminder that no changes

Note that she initially told us we had no say.

 They CAN change....before committing the crime (such as grooming) At that point, they're...

Jaspup  10:54 PM

correct, anyone can change for anything they've done, as they should. once they've done so, that doesn't automatically give them a right to free draw, or any community where they may hurt someone again, or be in contact with anyone they previously hurt

NEW MESSAGES

Jaspup  10:56 PM

if someone were to groom someone on roblox, or on the internet in general, at minimum, they should never be allowed to use the internet again let alone have the ability to appeal it

Jaspup  11:05 PM

i'm happy to bring anyone back or whatever, again, no changed has been made. if anyone wants to come back and mod again, they can. i reached out to a few otherwise, you just carry on and find new peeps

A few hours later, all messages from the previous day were cleared.

I remember there was a comment from the owner or ...

 Nicole ❤️ 3:02 PM
nothing really changed
I just said some stuff publicly that shouldn't have been said publicly there is no "new norm" other than a good portion of the prior and former staff team being gone and mad at me this is not really public matters either, it's to be resolved with me and former staff

 Nicole ❤️ 9:48 PM
there is no difference between a second chance and someone spamming alts. why not give them the benefit of the doubt if they're going to go through all this effort to appeal?

AFTER tiktok video / tweet is posted to announcements (apology/statements)

 Nicole ❤️ 5/13/25, 11:38 PM
heya chat, the server is on lockdown right now. we'll have an announcement tomorrow about it, apologies for the inconvenience

Nicole ❤️ Yesterday at 4:57 PM

Hey everyone, thank you all for your patience. We're going to slowly be unlocking the channels and making some changes to how the Discord server operates moving forward. These changes will only affect the server, and Free Draw will continue to operate as it always has.

On the recent controversy

Appealing a ban simply means a user can request a second review of their case. It does not guarantee that they will be unbanned. We will never unban users who have engaged in grooming, abuse, or any form of predatory behavior. Those actions fall under a strict zero-tolerance policy, and bans for those offenses remain permanent and non-appealable.

I would also like to remind everyone of our # content-guidelines concerning what you're allowed to draw in Free Draw, which adhere to Roblox's community standards & marketplace policy concerning modesty. Breaking these rules will get you banned, as they always have. How long you're banned for will depend on the offence committed. As noted above, we have always and will continue to have a zero-tolerance policy on grooming, abuse, or any form of predatory behavior.

My apology

I want to apologize for the miscommunication on my end from the discussion over the last few days. Many things were said that should've had WAY more consideration and care in their phrasing or just shouldn't have been said at all, a lot of them not even being relevant to Free Draw as a whole. I'd like to also admit that I'm nowhere near as educated on the topic as I would like to be, and I've learned a lot talking with a few active members of the Free Draw community over the last few days. I'm sorry for the stress and grief this has caused you all.

Going forward, we're also going to try to be more transparent to you all about our policy and moderation. One of my biggest goals with Free Draw has been to make it the safest place it possibly can be for both marginalized people and the youth who enjoy it alike. We've always had some of the strictest, most active and streamlined moderation on Roblox and that's definitely not going to change any time soon.

Because of the tension of this whole situation, we're going to limit discussion around this topic in the Discord server for the foreseeable future. If you have any questions or concerns, feel free to open a ticket through # faq.

Nicole 06:34

in regards to your proposal to take over the server, I thought about it a little bit in the shower and I don't really know you well enough to be ready for that (edited) however, when we start repairing the server, you're welcome to be admin which in free draw's case was basically the server manager role

jay  06:35

sure!

Nicole 06:36

in the future i'm open to considering it, i still want free draw off my hands had multiple accounts do that continuously no matter the appeal or ban, il34d, pigrider, even bitrealm with the few cases theyve made on NSFW, theres so many alts just by these 3 names alone for NSFW,harassment and other offenses that shouldnt be taken lightly ; now ofcourse im not saying all NSFW bans are gonna be like that, but if its genuine porn or something that shouldnt even be shown to a kid. I think itd be fair to keep them permanently banned

again, 1 year is enough time for someone's life to be completely turned around

Nicole 05:16

I don't have the capacity to tolerate possibly hundreds of people trolling. it's insta ban no matter what

I'm not going to let the discord server be used to spread that misinformation @Jaspup can you make the announcement?

rather something I didn't consider

jay  EGO 04:38

im happy you identified what was wrong

Storm 12:44

I think you should definitely consider taking more accountability since it doesn't seem so like an apology more of an explanation

I've read over it a little more

Nicole 16:14

I just don't really feel like I did anything wrong other than communicate badly

Nicole 16:42

I just don't feel like the problem is something I did personally, but rather people intentionally taking the words I said out of context and misinterpreting them to be something way worse than it actually is the only thing I did wrong is talk like a person instead of a PR manager even the things I've "learned" just came from talks with prior staff that could've been had to begin with

Nicole 07:30

im very happy we're at the point where i can mostly just wait things out sooo tired of having to address things asap that was so unimaginably stressful

Nicole Yesterday at 20:00 will definitely keep it in mind when the whole fiasco is over

Jaspup  Yesterday at 20:00

server number members is increasing by a lot

2.5k in game rn, highest all year

Moderation

Information: We deny appeals when someone shows they're not a good fit to come back. That can be for a few reasons- we may deny an appeal if we feel not enough time has passed since their ban, or they have shown no self-reflection

A user might be permanently banned or blacklisted if they've had multiple rule breaks over the past few years, or if they did something we can't overlook. That includes serious offenses like NSFW content, hate speech, harassment, pedophilia, or grooming. These next screenshots are some of the bans that were blacklisted, that were then unbanned after the policy took place

These next few bans I'm going to show are people who have been blacklisted, who were immediately unbanned after the mods had stepped down

Second ping

Multiple users have reported being kicked or banned simply for commenting on the situation or engaging with the recent raid. In some cases, players had their in-game accounts banned with the stated reason being 'Misinformation,' and the duration set to over 100 years.

This is a deliberate attempt to suppress discussion. By issuing bans to those who speak up or even ask questions, it's telling people that anyone who expresses concern or supports the movement will be punished- pressuring players into silence if they want to continue playing the game, and not to lose their save files.

June 1st, a ping was sent out in FD general, exposing Nicole and Jaspup for trying to cover up what was said.

People quickly realized that anyone could ping @verified role, which lead to it being turned into a ping raid. Although it was not the intent, due to limited access to roles from the last Ping incident, that's what ended up being used.

After the raid was over, Jaspup took to announcements to say this

This is an attempt to distort the reason behind the raid, framing it as an attack on the LGBTQ+ community. Which simply isn't true, the majority of staff who stepped down or spoken out are themselves queer or allies of the community. The concerns raised were never about identity, or sexual orientation. As of today the comment has since been deleted.

GRAPHIC CONTENT AND IMAGES AHEAD. ALL CENSORED IMAGES ARE OF DRAWN CP

Information: Ashley, nekolestial, Noyma, Runa

Age: 21

Although Ashley (formerly a Free Draw staff member) and Nicole ended their relationship around 2023, I believe it's important to include this information. While they were together, and while Ashley was still active within the Free Draw community, it was engaging with explicit, inappropriate content involving minors on their then-private Twitter account. (And still is to this day) Given Nicole's history of defending individuals with similar backgrounds- such as her current partner Jaspup, who has also been linked to questionable content- it raises serious concerns. This ongoing pattern calls into question Nicole's judgment and the ethical standards upheld during her leadership.

Ashley also has a presence on Roblox as the original creator of one of the platform's largest furry groups, 'The Brook Nook.' Although it has since stepped down from the group, it continues to create UGC items on the platform.

The image is a screenshot of a Twitter profile page for a user named 'runa' (@chrysalissewn). The profile header shows the name 'runa' with a verified badge, the handle '@chrysalissewn', and a bio consisting of several emojis: a question mark, a butterfly, a crown, a sword, a blood drop, and a sun. The location is listed as '21(5~12), it/its' and the join date is 'November 2020'. The profile statistics show '191 Following' and '477 Followers'. Below the profile information, there are three tabs: 'Posts', 'Replies', and 'Media', with 'Posts' being the active tab. A pinned post is visible, dated 'Jan 29, 2023', with the text 'WANDERER'. The post features a vibrant, stylized illustration of a character with a yellow face and a purple body, holding a sign, standing in a forest with green trees and a large yellow moon in the background. The Twitter interface elements, such as the navigation bar on the left and the 'Follow' button, are also visible.

What's wrong with your human? He's crying with me.

Just a tummy ache!

You fed him something strange, didn't you?

Why I haven't the faintest idea what you mean!

It's ok silly. Drink upst.

You got it!

Ahhh!

Ashley/nekolestial's second twitter account

The image is a screenshot of a Twitter profile page for the account 'runavomit'. The profile header shows the name 'runavomit' with a verified badge, a bio 'weird angel girl 18 @chrysalissewn', and a location 'it/its'. The account was joined in July 2024 and has 175 following and 32 followers. The main post is a repost by 'Moigomoim' from November 3, 2024, featuring a detailed black and white illustration of a chibi character with short hair, wearing a dark vest over a hoodie and pants. The right sidebar contains a search bar, a 'You might like' section with user suggestions, and a 'What's happening' section with trending topics like 'Istanbul' and 'MondayMotivation'. The bottom of the page shows engagement metrics for the post: 3 replies, 34 retweets, 274 likes, and 7.2K views.

Damage control

Everything that's been said in this channel is an attempt to discredit the staff who stepped down and spoke up, painting them as people who are just 'spreading misinformation,' 'mad because they were banned,' or 'too emotional to reason with.' It's a way to avoid actually addressing the serious things they brought up, while making light of the situation without actually addressing what was said.

[Tue, May 13, 2025, 04:41:52 AM] girl.kisser (798499176228327966): i appreciate you guy sticking around, btw (1371709005419909120)

- purged mod chat archive in the moderation channel

Jaspup's top comment comes off as manipulative- she implies that just because people were asking questions about the allegations, she might have to shut down the server again. That kind of message makes people feel guilty, like it's their fault if things get locked down. After that, she started purging and deleting a bunch of comments from people simply asking if the TikToks and Tweets were true.

Leaked screenshots

Jaspup ended up leaving her main account after the videos were released, although it's unclear why. She later goes on to say that she was getting harassed by the public, but I have extreme doubts that ever happened, given that her idea of being doxxed is people joining her kink servers that are public knowledge, you could find linked anywhere.

idk how roblox works

@maud pie does "unverified account" mean i can register it to my email and not get it stolen?

Xai 00:51

It means it's not age verified

maud pie 00:53

Login is with unverified phone and email address.

means i should be able to change the email, ya?

lowkey, free draw is the best drawing game ever like they literally have saving drawings feature i luv it

gang is this true? 🤔

6:55 AM

Ignore it, that drama's been over for months

6:55 AM

wait, it was a few months ago?

6:56 AM

Either way, messages shouldn't have to make you boycott a super cool drawing game on roblox

6:56 AM

well, idc what happened, i would still play it i was in here since 2020, and man i love this game

7:00 AM

Hey guys is there anything here that i could improve?
It's just sketches for now so they aren't rendered or coloured at all yet

maud pie 8:36 AM

no, we spend hours a day banning ppl who draw porn and try to lure ppl off game. i'm so exhausted talking about this and dealing with harassment + doxxing for two months, i'll leave it at that

8:37 AM

okie ty

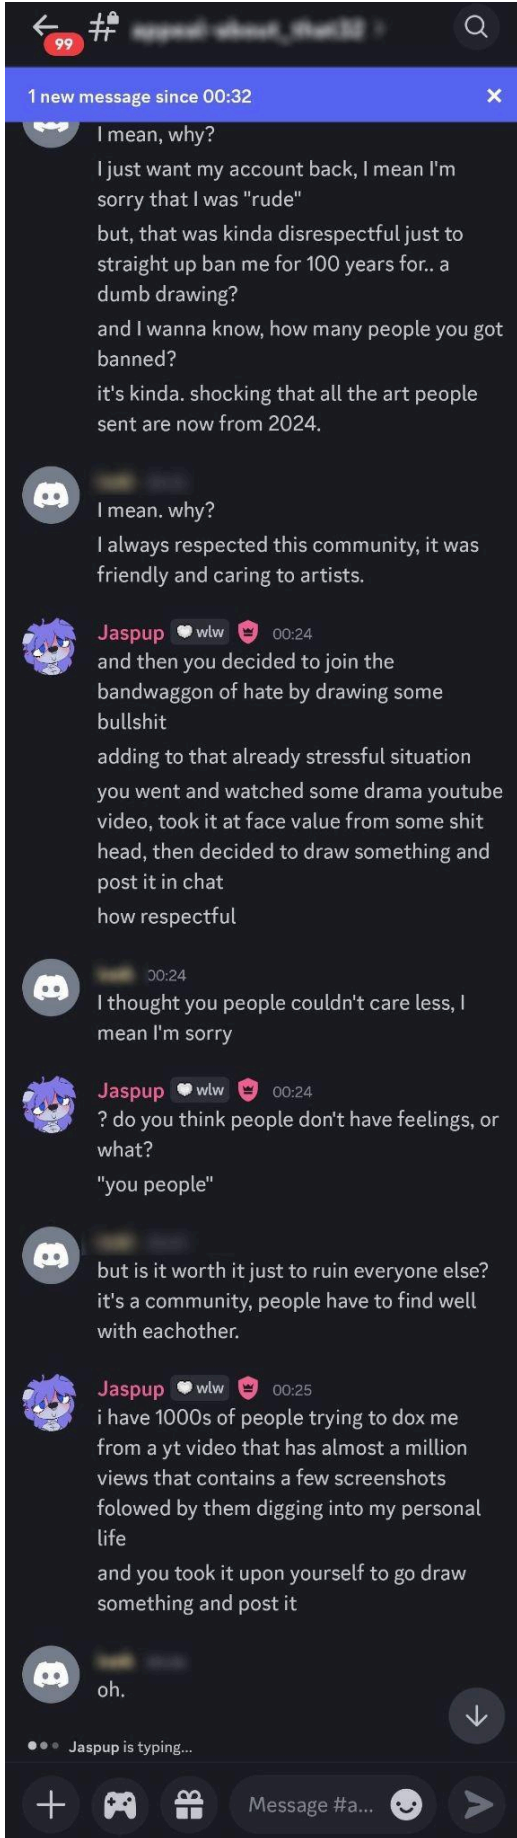

8:50 AM

excuse me, DOXXING?
that's... awful

maud pie 8:52 AM

yea, i don't rly wanna get into it anymore. T_T lets focus on helping people with their art in # art-help :D

I mean, why?
I just want my account back, I mean I'm sorry that I was "rude" but, that was kinda disrespectful just to straight up ban me for 100 years for.. a dumb drawing? and I wanna know, how many people you got banned? it's kinda. shocking that all the art people sent are now from 2024.

I mean, why?
I always respected this community, it was friendly and caring to artists.

Jaspup 00:24
and then you decided to join the bandwaggon of hate by drawing some bullshit adding to that already stressful situation you went and watched some drama youtube video, took it at face value from some shit head, then decided to draw something and post it in chat how respectful

00:24
I thought you people couldn't care less, I mean I'm sorry

Jaspup 00:24
? do you think people don't have feelings, or what?
"you people"

but is it worth it just to ruin everyone else? it's a community, people have to find well with eachother.

Jaspup 00:25
i have 1000s of people trying to dox me from a yt video that has almost a million views that contains a few screenshots folowed by them digging into my personal life and you took it upon yourself to go draw something and post it oh.

Message #a...

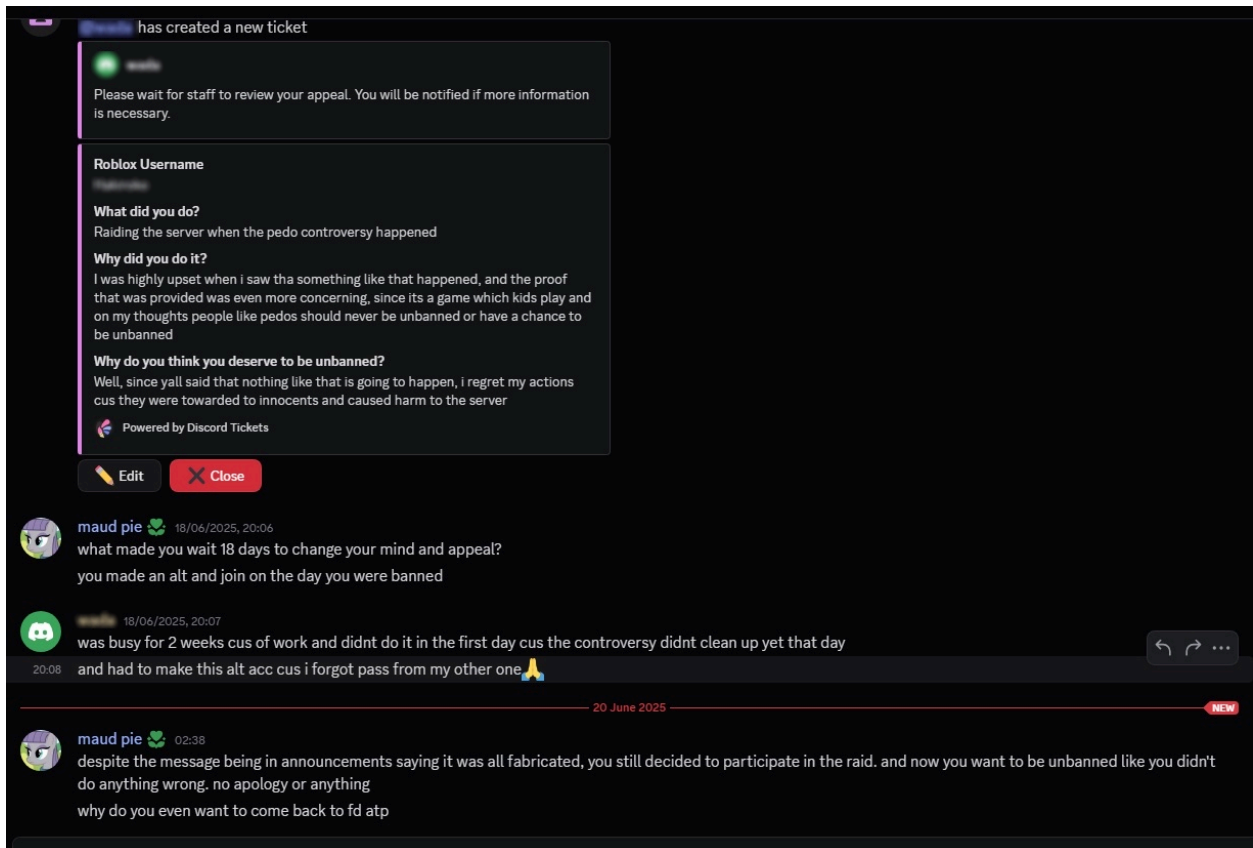

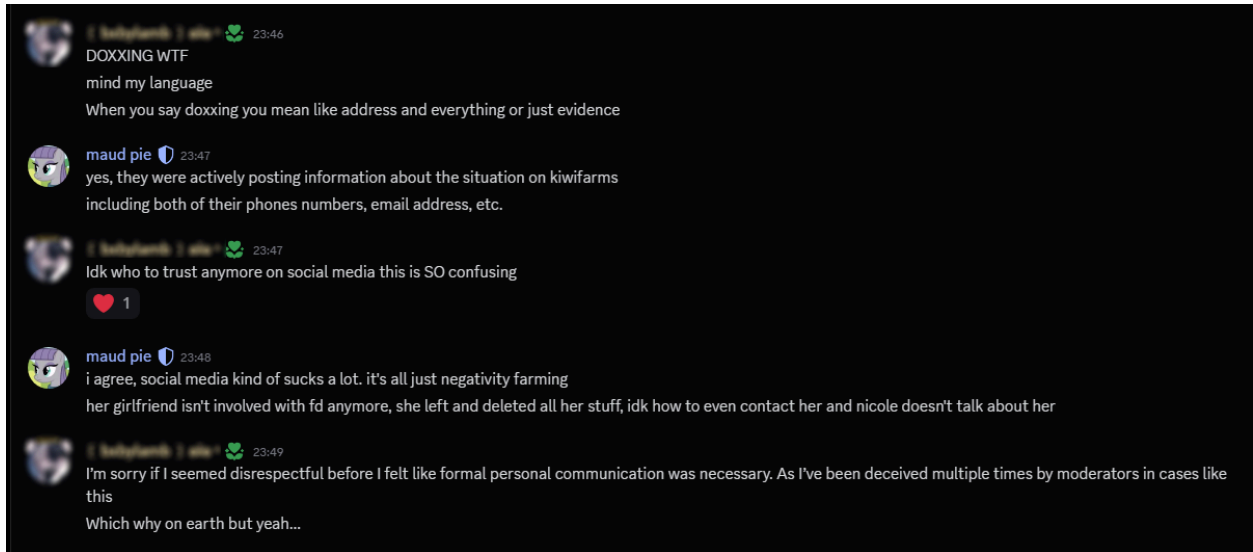

Note: While Twitter claims to ban CSAM/CP, anyone who's active on Twitter knows that plenty of content slips through that violates their TOS. Saying "it's against the rules" doesn't mean much when their system is inconsistent. Just because an image hasn't been removed doesn't automatically mean it's allowed or legal.

Bluesky, on the other hand, is known for even looser moderation. It's become a haven for kink users, precisely because it's smaller and more niche than Twitter, making them feel safer to "express" themselves. But again, what's allowed by platform rules and what's legal are two entirely different things, even if Bluesky did allow CSAM to be posted on their website- In Canada, where both Jaspup and Nicole live, the possession or distribution of CSAM, including drawn material, is illegal. Whether a platform allows it or not doesn't matter.

Jasper then goes on to say that Foolsy Grulee doxxed both her and Nicole, which is false and a speculation. She uses it to move away from the original topic and make the person feel bad. Invoking emotion that Nicole and Jasper are the victims.

Note: Jaspup called the whole situation fabricated, which is odd considering they deleted all mod chat messages about the policy change, wiped admin logs, and archived everything. If they truly believed they were in the right, why erase the evidence? It feels less about being right and more about making people believe they're right.

Question

Why does Nicole still have WhoToTrus and KonekoKitten added on roblox?

So was the screenshot real? Because you said his cancelation was BS. Wouldn't that mean you knew in some form what was happening? If you guys were good friends wouldn't he had told you what was happening

And what happened to that Jaspup person. They were following some really gross accounts, did you know about that?

If any of the screenshots were fake, why is the account deactivated

Nicole said in a now-deleted message that following CSAM accounts isn't endorsing them, and that if it happens outside of Free Draw, she doesn't care. But the account in question was linked directly through her girlfriend's Discord bio. Meaning it was inside Free Draw, regardless.

As of now, Jasper's website domain was thrown away, and both Nicole and Jaspup's Blueskys were discarded. And Jasper no longer uses the 'girlkisser' Discord account.

Note: I find the usage of 'victimless' bans to be an interesting choice of words when the conversation was about NSFW bans- because almost all bans have victims since it's in a public server.

- No, Nicole. Harassment is not on the same level as grooming a child.

Note: After Fooly Grulee emailed Nicole about the situation, their conversation quickly became heated, understandably so, after Nicole claimed that viewing CSAM is a coping mechanism. And while Jaspup was deeply upset over being doxxed on KiwiFarms, they had no issue considering doxxing Fooly Grulee in return.

i don't have a problem with those kinds of drawings, but they're just straight up not allowed on free draw or roblox in general

▼ Suicide, Self Injury, and Harmful Behavior

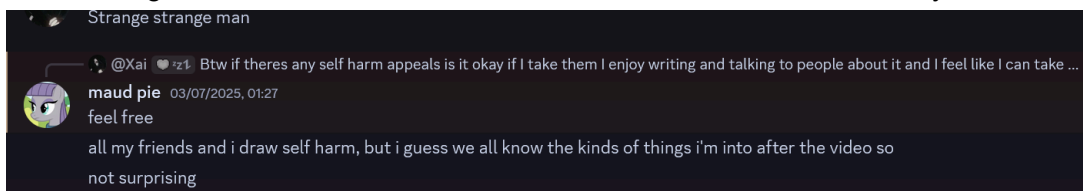

At Roblox, we take our users' well-being very seriously. We're here to help provide resources for those struggling with mental health, and we reserve the right to communicate with authorities regarding credible threats of self-harm. We do not allow content or behavior that depicts, glorifies, or encourages suicide, self-injury, or real-world activities that may create an extreme risk of physical harm including:

- Describing methods for suicide or self-harm
- Content that glorifies, supports, or depicts instances or methods of suicide or self-harm
- Dangerous physical challenges or stunts in the real world

If you or a loved one are having thoughts of suicide or self-harm, there is help available. Reach out to a suicide prevention hotline like the one found here. For additional global resources, here is a good place to start.

it can get your account banned, and it can get free draw in trouble i've lifted your ban. if it happens again, the ban is going to have to be a lot longer. please try to avoid showing that stuff to other people

Note: Telling a child that you "have no problem" with their self-harm is a deeply inappropriate response. Children should never be encouraged/passively affirmed in these behaviors, especially by someone older. They should be put in the direction toward getting help, whether that's through a trusted adult, a mental health resource, or someone they feel safe talking to.

"Is Nicole a victim"

“Is Nicole the victim, or the root of the issue?”

Like many others, I initially believed Nicole was the victim when I heard about their relationship with Jaspup. It seemed like a typical groomed, manipulative relationship: Jasper, the older and more dominant partner, influenced Nicole’s views and decisions, leading Free Draw down the path it's on today. Having an 11-year age gap between them, power imbalances are bound to be inevitable. And sure, you could argue that their relationship is technically legal- but we all know legality isn't always morality. Truthfully, it's still unclear even after I've gone down this rabbit hole when their relationship officially began, and how long they were even friends before it turned romantic.

But over time, my perspective shifted the more I researched and wrote this document, the less I saw Nicole as just a victim- and more as a driving force behind the problem. Her behaviors, patterns, and decisions predate her relationship with Jasper. Her opinions towards there being no such thing as a ‘bad’ person aren't something she picked up from simply being around Jasper.

Nicole entered the Dev community at age 11. Being pulled out of school and given unsupervised access to the internet, she ended up discovering the original Free Draw, which was owned by Qaeo during this time. Having some coding experience, Nicole began critiquing the game’s flaws with the script for being sloppy and poorly done.

This conversation Nicole would have with Qaeo would eventually lead to both of them collaborating to rescript the entirety of the game, abandoning the original. Free Draw (2) ended up being officially released back in 2018, making Nicole only 13 during the time of its release.

But early success on the internet and the Dev community came with a series of consequences. Nicole had found herself surrounded by much older people, some in their late teens, others already adults. Having been isolated in real life, she leaned heavily into the online world and would stay on her computer for hours at a time. That would ultimately shape Nicole as she grew closer to Qaeo's circle. She would become intertwined in an environment that would later be exposed for rampant grooming, exploitation, and abuse.

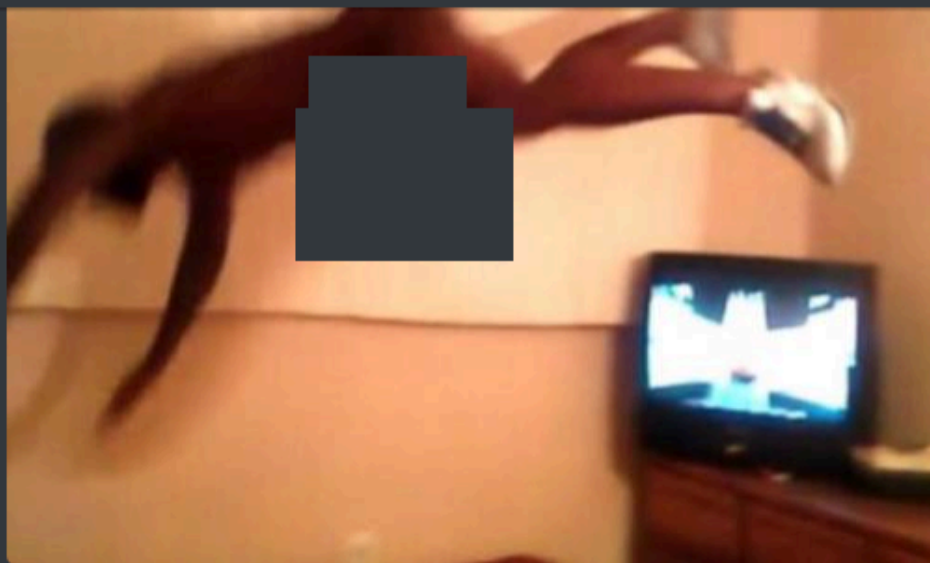

Between 2018 and 2021, Free Draw's popularity grew, and so did the need for more moderation. At the time, moderation was overseen by Qaeo and his brother Inamotors. Rather than maintaining a safe or age-appropriate staff structure, they began recruiting people of all ages- including children.

By 2018, both Ina and his brother were in their 20s, yet they brought on moderators as young as 11 years old to help "protect" other children. While I don't have a full record of every moderator from that time, here's a list of some who were active during that era.

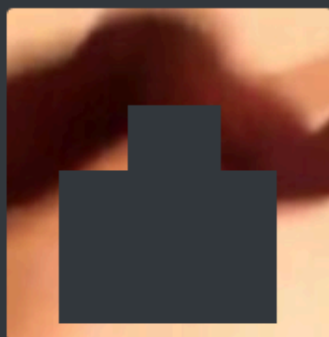

Rocks - 16 (2020)
Asca - 14 (2019)
Susan - 11 (2019)
Maddie - 13 (2019)
Cana - 12 (2019)
Gragax - 14 (2018)
Aito - 12 (2019)
Eun - 13 (2019)
Ina - 22~ (2017)
Linko - 15-16~ (2017)
Naka - 20 (2018)
GK - 12 (2016)
Cyra - 18 (2020)
Sheep - 13 (2017)
soul - 14 (2019)
Luke - 13 (2021)
Aych - 15 (2016)
Shiny - 16 (2017)
Jordan - 14 (2017)

Although the ages itself is already problematic, what transpired inside the moderation chat was even worse.

(There was no original censorship.)

These are only a few examples that reflect the disturbing environment children were subjected to. While Qaeo and Nicole technically shared ownership of the game, both were largely absent during these years, being hands-off to the community. Most of the moderation and leadership responsibilities were left to Ina.

Ina was given the director role by Qaeo despite having no qualifications except being family. This would ultimately become one of the worst decisions made for the community. Ina became known for forming inappropriate relationships with minors-relationships that left many of them deeply traumatized.

It's painfully clear that grooming was a widespread issue under Ina's leadership, though no one has publicly shared their full stories about what happened during that era. What I can say is that Ina enabled harmful individuals to act unchecked, creating an environment where serious abuse could take place in the shadows, and making sure it stayed hidden from public view. And Qaeo quietly allowed his brother to make these decisions that would continue the harmful cycle until late 2020.

A lot of it happened right under the radar, and some of the victims ended up being people Nicole was even friends with. Who would later actively go against the new policy. And yes, it's important to acknowledge that Nicole was still a minor herself during much of this. Although she participated in a lot of the horrible conversations that went down during this era, most of this is learned and influenced behavior. And the people we should be pointing fingers at are not Nicole, but Qaeo and Ina themselves. Being that they were one of the only few adults in the group at the time, who took advantage of children.

One example was Nakanojonon, a former mod who had close ties to some of the staff, and who was also very public with his attraction towards children.

In April 2021, he was exposed for multiple instances of inappropriate behavior with minors aged 14-17. Most of which were mods for Free Draw- at the time, he was 23 and dating a 17-year-old, whom he had planned to meet in person. Nicole was informed that same day of the incident and his ban, but never responded- and the message was quietly lost in the DMs, never brought up again.

Message @Nic...

This is only a glimpse into the group Nicole was involved with from a young age. If they were this horrible to their staff, what was happening in their private group chats and servers? These were adults with no concern for minors- openly sharing and discussing NSFW content. If Ina felt comfortable joking about raping children in public chatrooms, imagine what he said behind closed doors- or worse, imagine what they all said.

Qaeo and Ina weren't the only questionable individuals Nicole would go on to befriend. Thanks to the popularity of Free Draw and the position she secured within the Roblox Dev community, other well-known figures, such as KonekoKitten, WhoTorus, and DuncanDunClub, entered the picture around 2020-2023. While it's unclear exactly when those friendships began, Nicole later confirmed in a group chat after the "no perm ban" policy had been implemented that she had a close relationship with KonekoKitten.

Matching chapter 0:45 who is konekokitten?

Both KonekoKitten, WhoTorus, and DuncanDunClub have faced multiple allegations involving inappropriate conversations and relationships with minors. Despite this, Nicole maintained ties with them for years. It wasn't until the YouTuber Fooly Grulee released a video that triggered a domino effect of videos to be made that Nicole quietly began removing people from her friend's list, including both KonekoKitten and WhoTorus.

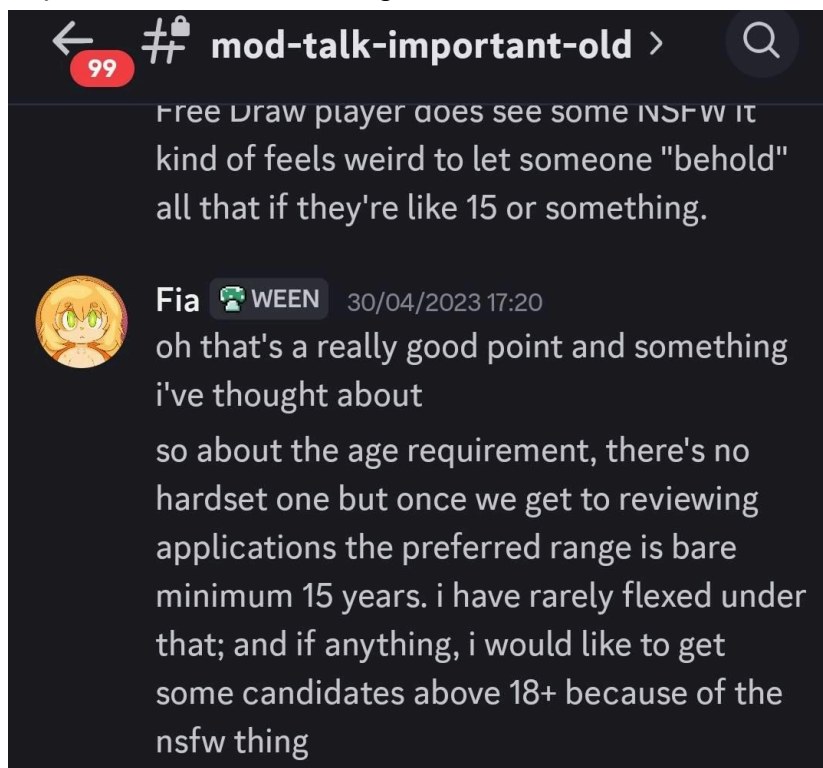

So yes, Nicole's environment and the people she surrounded herself with did influence who she is today, but that alone isn't what makes her the root of the problem. It only explains where it began.

As of now, Free Draw is marked as age-restricted on Roblox, with a "Moderate (9+)" rating. But that restriction wasn't put there by Nicole willingly. It was only added after Roblox rolled out a mandatory policy change in December 2024, requiring all drawing games to have age restrictions. Before that, Nicole had her game marked as "E for Everyone," which was a serious safety concern. When people brought this issue to her attention, she refused to change it. Maybe she feared that limiting the age range would reduce her player count, but at some point, you have to ask yourself, "Is a larger player base worth exposing young children to potentially traumatizing content?"

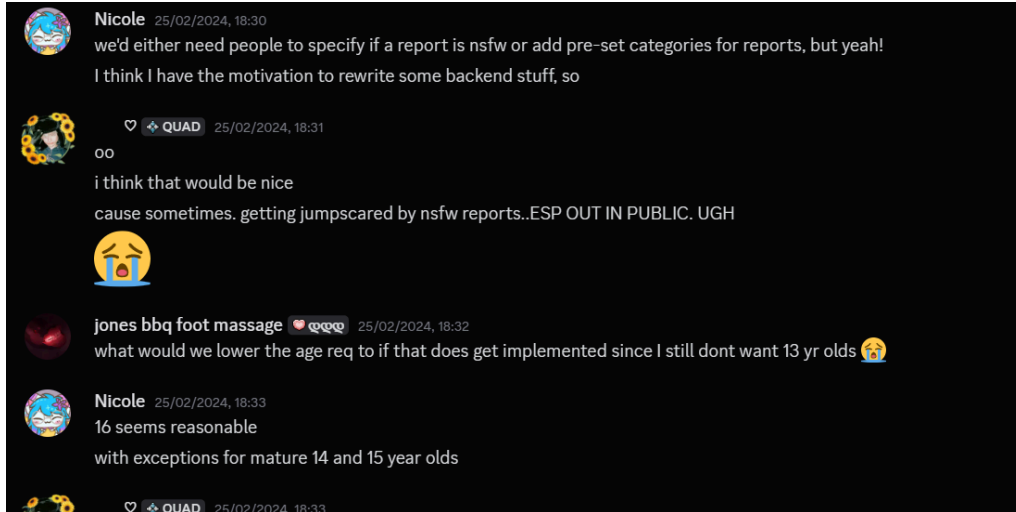

Even with the age restriction now in place, there are still safety issues within that 9-12 age bracket. Younger players still have no way to report abusive behavior or call for a mod since Discord (the only place you can report and appeal) is 13+. Nicole once said she would implement an in-game reporting system, but that never happened. Whether it was due to negligence or lack of care, the result is the same.

And the reality is, Roblox doesn't store anything that happens in games like Free Draw. Unlike chat logs or voice chat, images drawn in-game aren't cached on Roblox's end. This makes proper moderation important to reduce the risk of children being exposed to harmful or disturbing content. And yet, moderation remains weak because Nicole never took it seriously enough to fix it.

Although Nicole was young for the moderation era of Ina and Qaeo, and cannot be held responsible for the moderation age issues during that time. She, too, would later have problematic views towards the age range of moderation. In 2023, the age requirement was permanently changed, where people would have to be 17+ to apply for modding. Only a few months later did Doppie, Nicole's girlfriend at the time, try to lower the age requirement to 16, 15 being the lowest.

Nicole has become known for using her girlfriends to advocate for changes she personally wants but doesn't want to push for directly. Later in 2024, the same topic resurfaced, this time, brought up by Nicole herself.

This time, the age of moderators dropped even lower, going as young as 14, as long as they were considered “mature for their age.” But let’s be clear: the words mature and 14 and 15-year-olds should never appear in the same sentence. There is no world where a child is truly mature because they’re still just that- children.

And after everything that happened from 2016 to 2021, there should be no debate about why minors should never be made moderators for communities. The very idea that one child should be responsible for protecting another child is insanity. Even if Qaeo and Ina are taken out of the equation, and no child was exploited in the same ways as in the past, it’s still a form of exploitation. It relies on the fact that many kids would eagerly jump at the chance to moderate a game they love, without understanding the weight or consequences of that responsibility.

Free Draw was not a harmless, casual game. I was already on the older side when I joined, and even I witnessed more than my fair share of disturbing and traumatic things while working. So why subject a child to that kind of environment?

This brings me to my next point: Nicole doesn’t care about children. She never has- and that’s been made clear time and time again.

Not when Naka groomed minors.

Not when Ina and Qaeo groomed children.

Not when her game was actively harming young players, something she could have easily prevented.

Not when she remained absent from her community.

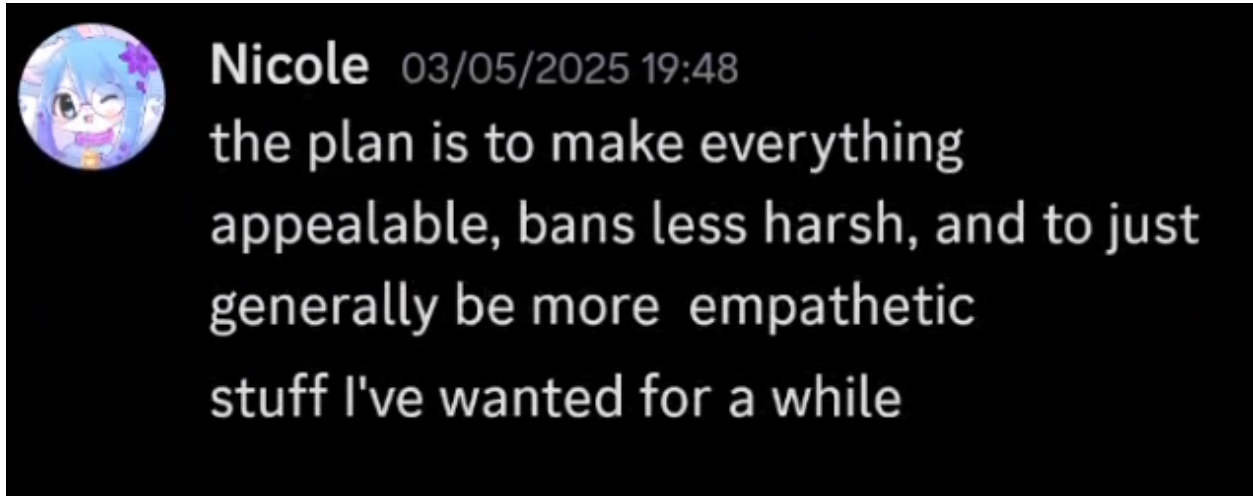

Not when her ‘friends’ were outed as pedophiles, and hurt minors.

Not when she tried multiple times to hire children to become mods.

And not even when it was revealed that her own girlfriends were pedophiles.

A normal reaction upon learning that a predator was hiding among your staff would be concern and horror that it took place in your community. But not for Nicole. When she was directly messaged about it, she ignored it. She simply couldn't be bothered. And that indifference became a pattern- one that I personally witnessed while working alongside her as an admin.

Fast forward to May 5th, 2025: a conversation between admins in the group chat reveals Nicole's idea to implement a new policy, one that would remove perm bans from Free Draw altogether- no matter the reason.

This raised concern from admins, with one asking if someone like Naka could be unbanned. Nicole responded that she didn't even remember who Naka was, but said yes, if he "showed signs of changing," he could be allowed back into both the Discord and the game.

So not only did Nicole fail to remember someone who played a significant and harmful role in the game's history, but she also showed no interest in remembering her staff.

I brought up pedophilia within her dating space, and although I have shown screenshots in the sections for Ashley and Jaspup, I'd like to briefly elaborate on her dating history and how it has affected Free Draw.

2019-2023: Ashley / Nekolestial

Ashley was Nicole's girlfriend and business partner. She became a UGC creator for Roblox, co-owned a furry group with Nicole called "The Brook Nook," and was a mod for Free Draw during their relationship, and they even lived together. But in 2023, it came out that Ashley had reposted multiple CSAM, fetish art involving furbabies and diapers, and supported artists with known SA or pedophilia allegations. Although this was never made public until 2025, this was spread amongst Nicole's friend group and servers. And both Nicole and Ashley were shunned and banned. And although Ashley and Nicole split, they remained mutuals until the public information regarding Ashley's secret Twitter accounts came out.

2023: Fia / Doppie

This relationship lasted only a few months, but even then, issues were surfacing. Around this time, the community was trying to rebuild Free Draw and clean up the damage left by past staff. But Doppie wanted to roll back NSFW moderation standards and lower the minimum age for mod applications to 15 (it had been 17+). Nicole backed these ideas. A few months later as we know, she suggested dropping the mod age requirement even lower, to just 14. Nicole was 19 at the time.

2024-2025: Jasper / Jaspup

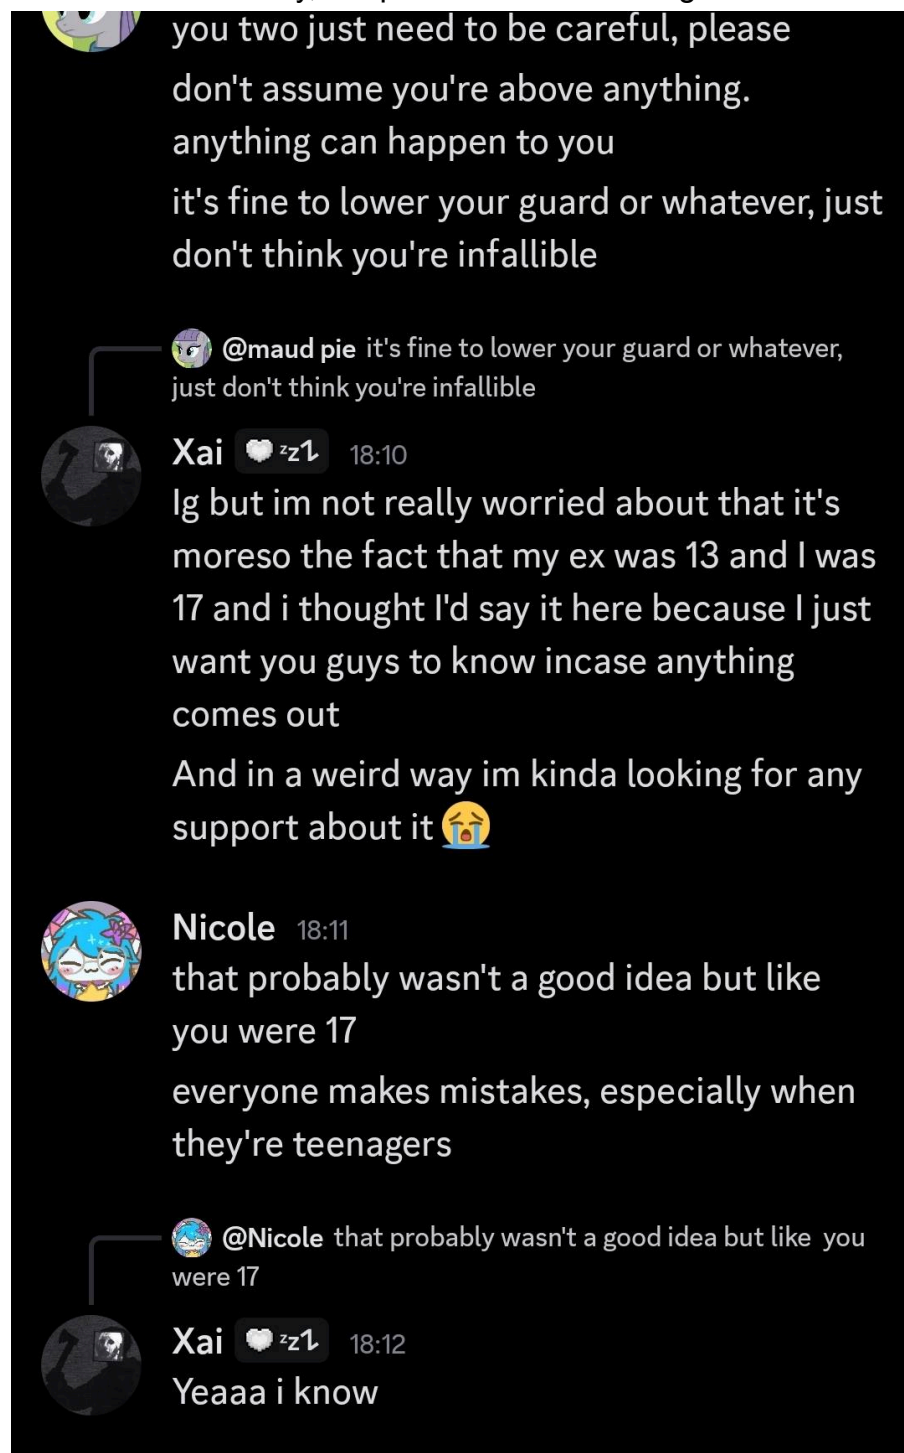

Today, Nicole is dating Jasper (also known as Jaspup), a 31-year-old who age-plays as a teen furry. Jasper has been associated with disturbing content, including artwork in which she was groomed by her former partner, Lilstarlite, someone who openly posts about kinks like babyfurs and CSAM, amongst other things. Jasper also follows multiple NSFW accounts that post or bait with CSAM themes.

There's a pattern here that's hard to ignore. Nicole's history is marked by disturbing relationships, power imbalances, and a repeated failure to intervene when real harm was taking place.

As of now, the new policy is in place. What does that mean for Free Draw? It means Nicole has moved forward with unbanning not just horrible people but actual predators. People like Doormatsu, an artist who was previously permanently banned from the server and game for drawing incest and pedophilia art and promoting it on Discord, came to appeal the ban only a few days after the policy was made public. Having their appeal accepted shortly after. They weren't the only ones who took advantage of this new policy, however. Individuals who should have remained permanently banned have been allowed back in. And the entire ban appeal process has been overhauled. There are no longer real conversations, just a simplified process that opens the door for serious mistakes.

This shift in mindset nearly led to a mod unbanning a pedophile solely because they apologized. Another mod stepped in to stop it and questioned the situation. But the chat logs discussing the situation were deleted shortly after. Some of those conversations have since leaked, including one revealing that a current Free Draw moderator groomed a 13-year-old while they were 17-18. When they came to Nicole and Jaspup being anxious about people finding out that this occurred last year, Nicole downplayed it, saying it was “probably a bad idea,” but that the mod had just made a mistake and was “just a kid” at the time. Rather than take action, she told them to cover it up to prevent backlash. As of today, the person is still modding for Free Draw.

Nicole continues to show empathy only toward those who have caused harm, not the victims who were harmed in the process. Children will continue to be put at risk under her leadership, especially as she pushes to lower the moderator age requirement again.

At this rate, Free Draw is headed to return to the same dangerous, neglectful environment it once was.

So let's return to the original question: Is Nicole a victim or the root of the problem? The answer is both, but only one of those answers still applies today. Nicole was once a victim, molded by a grooming system and toxic community. Her friendships with public figures like KonekoKitten and WhoTorus, as well as her relationship with Ashley and Jaspup, didn't happen by accident. These were all intentional relationships she formed. The foundation for all of this was laid long before Jasper ever came into the picture.

I do believe that Jasper is a harmful person and contributed significantly to Nicole's downward spiral. But we can't pretend Nicole's involvement with problematic individuals began with that relationship.

Regardless of the unfortunate circumstances that shaped Nicole, the focus now needs to return to her. She hasn't just continued the cycle- she's actively reinforced it. By implementing policies that benefit herself and enable harmful individuals, and treating safety as optional, Nicole has gone from a passive participant to an active enabler, which makes her the root of the issue.

My closing statement

I've worked as a moderator for Free Draw 2, for many years and made over 7,000~ bans. Throughout working for the game and its Discord server, I've seen and moderated many things. And what people don't immediately think about is how unique drawing games are on Roblox, and how much of a threat they pose.

Unlike many other Roblox games, drawing games present distinct moderation issues due to their open-ended nature. Players can draw or say anything with zero restrictions, and unfortunately, Roblox's reporting system doesn't handle visual content like drawings. While we did have players who reported in the Discord server using the report bot, only about 10%~ of reports were actually being reported. On top of that, Discord is 13+. The game's genre is for ages 9+. So now you have a situation where a decent portion of your playerbase literally cannot access the only functional reporting system for inappropriate content. Because of this, moderation in Free Draw heavily depends almost entirely on the in-game moderators to enforce Roblox's TOS manually.

Even with a team of 11 moderators and the game averaging 900 to 2,000 active players throughout the week, the workload was immense. Despite our efforts, I would never fully guarantee a safe environment, especially for younger players.

Each time a child was exposed to harmful situations- whether it was manipulation, grooming, or exploitation- it deeply affected us as moderators on a personal level. There are just some cases I'll never forget. We took our role seriously, because these were real children. We did everything we could to protect vulnerable players, often in the absence of support from the developer, whose main concerns for the game didn't have child safety in mind. At one point we had asked Nicole to change the age range for the game from all ages, to moderate- To which she declined. It was only until Roblox had enforced it back in December of 2024, that the game changed its demographic to moderate.

Drawing games pose a unique set of moderation concerns, and it's critical that developers understand and actively engage with these risks. Unfortunately, Nicole has consistently fallen short in this regard.

She has demonstrated a lack of understanding time and time again around important moderation practices- including bans and appeals- and made little to no effort to talk or collaborate with us. Our input was rarely, if ever, sought, and she did not offer communication in return for our concerns.

Nicole repeatedly pushed boundaries by attempting to involve her romantic partners in staff roles and using those relationships to influence rule changes. This isn't the first time she'd tried to change the bans, and loosen NSFW rules. This created instability within the team, and caused the moderators to start distrusting Nicole. The recent comments she made about the policy caused the mods to all step down after we realized we had no say in what was going to happen.

This policy decision revealed where Nicole's priorities truly lie. It wasn't just about her controversial belief that predators can change- it was the deeper issue of showing empathy toward pedophiles, while demonstrating a concerning lack of empathy for children.

By pushing these views into her moderation policies, it became clear what direction the game was heading in, and unfortunately, our concerns were proven right. She removed perm bans, and replaced it with the max ban sentence being 5 years, (which hasn't even been used yet) and in cases involving CP and CSAM, those bans were issued at only 1-2 years. This sets a dangerous message to individuals who pose a risk to minors, that they will eventually be allowed back into the game.

This failure to take action against those who harm children leaves the community vulnerable. Without stronger policies from both Free Draw and Roblox, people who have harmed children will continue to exploit the system, with little to no real consequences.

What's even more concerning is the decision to allow people like Ashley (Nekoestial) and Jaspup- both of whom have been associated with cases involving drawn CSAM (child sexual abuse material) to serve as moderators in Free Draw. Giving them platforms and proximity to children is not only irresponsible, it fundamentally goes against any effort to create a safe environment. Expecting these people to uphold child safety is not only unrealistic- it's dangerous. Regardless if you agree that looking at drawn CSAM is pedophilia, it desensitizes your moral judgement, and has no place around children.

Until serious actions are taken, including a full review or takedown of Free Draw, children will remain unprotected. Justice will never be served in a system where known risks are ignored, and safety is deprioritized.
