Case 22-CCB-0060

TWITCH INTERACTIVE, INC.

DEFENDANTS

REQUEST FOR LEAVE TO AMEND CLAIM

Comes now, pro se Plaintiff David Stebbins, who hereby submits the following Request for Leave to Amend Claim in the above-styled action.

1. After reviewing my claim, I noticed that the “describe the infringement” section of the claim actually stopped halfway. I meant to write about twice as much as I did.
2. Please find, attached to this Request, Exhibit A, which is a full and complete copy of what I originally intended to include in the “describe the infringement” section of the claim. You can see that the first six paragraphs correspond to my “describe the infringement” section of the claim, but the seventh paragraph onwards contains new arguments and allegations to further explain why I believe I am entitled to statutory damages and why Twitch does not have safe harbor.
3. I therefore ask either
  - (a) that the CCB amend this section of the claim for me before I serve Twitch with process, or
  - (b) that I be given leave to re-file the claim, without paying a new filing fee, before I serve Twitch with process.
4. So requested on this, the 19th day of July, 2022.
