

Saberspark allegations evidence

This doc will start off showing evidence that the allegations against SaberSpark have some credibility to them. It does not confirm the incidents happened, just that both Saber and the accuser were at these locations on the dates stated. I will then address the alleged victim's own past allegations. I may be incorrect on who I think the victim is, but I am 99% sure that I am right.

The Anonymous Accuser is EmuEmi (all underlined colored text will be links)

Why them?

- They are 31, in 2012 (13 years ago from now) they would have been 18 which is the age of the anonymous victim at the time
- They have interacted publicly with Saberspark
- They have photos with Saberspark at the locations stated
- All friends of the accuser have EmuEmi in their friends list

CONTEXT

Saberspark was a frequent con attender in the past. He still attends cons today, but most in the past were brony related. I have the timeline of his visits from around the dates of the incidents, but I will only go over the Canterlot Gardens con and Equestria Los Angeles Con which is where the alleged incidents occurred.

FRIENDS OF SABERSPARK (lots of friends but i'm only stating the main ones from the time)

- @AC_Racebest / ACRacebest - One of his best friends
- @PaleoSteno - best friend - did the Brony Breakdown podcast together
- @Toodles3702 - wife/girlfriend of ACRacebest
- @BlackGryph0n - good friends
- @Dusty_Kat - best friend
- @FinalDraftEFR - friend

FRIENDS OF THE ACCUSER (@TheEmuEmi/ @thesunmous5/ @namineahellai)

- @ScaredGirlTweet - claims to have been told about the incident at a separate con in 2013 when they roomed together. Says the accuser's story hasn't changed.
- @AmyNewBlue - 10+ year friend who believes the victim. Witnessed them together at Canterlot Gardens.
- @SondraWeisburg - was part of the Pegasisters live stream, which Emi was the host of.

Note: I think Sondra and ScaredGirlTweet are the same person? 🙄

THE ALLEGATIONS - relayed to the account @BronyFanfont

I became a fan of Saberspark when I was in high school when I found his essay video titled Ballad of the Brony back in 2011. After graduating and turning 18, I added him on Skype to tell him I was a big fan of his. He added me back almost instantly and we had a conversation ending with him giving me his phone number which was a really big deal to me at the time since this was the first time interacting with any sort of celebrity. I had developed a parasocial crush on him due to being star struck, which was something that he was aware of. We would talk on Skype and text each other semi frequently leading up to the first time meeting him.

In 2012, I went to my first pony convention. This was my first time ever traveling by myself and was soon after the two of us became friends. When I met up with him in person, he invited me to his hotel room and he showed me the video he was editing on his laptop, causing me to internally geek out. I was really nervous being alone in a hotel room with someone I was a huge fan of and had a crush on but I tried to play it cool. He was 4-5 years older than me, making me feel more nervous and out of place. He would bring up the prospects of the two of us dating and how it didn't feel right for us to do so.

After that, he almost immediately initiated making out with me and guided me to his bed. In this moment, he did not directly ask me for consent. I was thrown onto his bed and he would insert himself into me. Saberspark was also significantly larger than me as I was an 80 something pound 18 year old girl so I physically could not stop him.

I felt extremely nervous and uncomfortable because I had never experienced having any sort of sexual intimacy with someone I was not dating before, much less someone I just met. I was very new to meeting people online in general.

At that moment, I laid there, dissociating, as it felt very wrong while trying to rationalize it in my head to convince myself it was a safe and normal encounter. He rushed off to clean and finish himself and came back to the bed and offered me a handshake saying "Friends?" This would cause me for the rest of the event to feel that I was taken advantage of and ashamed of myself for not trying to stop the interaction. Though, I tried pretending I was fine to everyone around me. I was and still am demi sexual and being put in that position was not something I wanted.

I maintained the friendship until a second occurrence happening at a completely different pony con in 2013. This time, we met in a public space but had no one around and talked for a while. He kept bringing up the prospects of us starting a relationship but how it felt wrong. He would grab my hand saying how it felt so right, only to push my hand away saying "but so wrong". I had decided that my crush on him was something I needed to get over because I felt that my emotions were being toyed with.

He then suggested going to a more public space around others and we went into an elevator to go to the lobby of the pony con hotel. As soon as the door closed, Saberspark forcefully shoved me against the wall and shoved his tongue down my throat. It scared me and actually hurt, triggering another attack of dissociation. Once again, he did not ask for consent when throwing me into this situation.

Once the doors opened and people were present (this led me to feel very embarrassed), he got off me and took my hand and guided me towards the stairs to go back down to where we just were and into a men's restroom where he pulled his pants down and guided my hands and head to perform oral sex on him. I was afraid of denying him because of past experiences with sexual assault so I did it to get it over with without wanting to cause a problem, where he would ejaculate on my face, apologize profusely, and then offered the same handshake as he did at the con I initially met him saying "friends?"

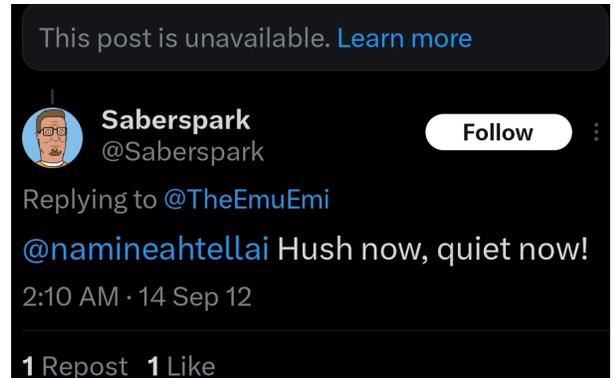

Despite pretending I was fine, I had slowly begun pulling away from Saberspark. I cried that night while staying with a friend but waited for that friend to fall asleep so no one could hear me and I would cry for months feeling ashamed of myself for putting myself in a compromising situation with someone I hardly knew.

EQUESTRIA LOS ANGELOS - 2nd incident location

This con occurred from Nov 3rd 2012 to Nov 5th 2012

Sabersparks friend, ACRacebest created vlogs detailing their time at the EQLA con. They have a lot of videos of them attending other cons and doing other things, but I will only list the videos related to the EQLA, Day 1 (November 2nd 2012), which is when the alleged incident occurred. The con was at the Anaheim Convention Center and the hotel was the Anaheim Hilton Hotel

EQLA Adventure Day 1 Part 3

Nov 3 2012 First day. Saturday

The accuser has said the incident occurred at night on Nov 2nd 2012 (day before the convention). Sabersparks spent this day at Disneyland with Dusty, Michelle Creber, Screwball, ACRacebest and Finaldraft. At night in Day 1 Part 3, Race drove Saber and another back to near the hotel where they met up with Dusty again to grab something to eat. At 7:53 EmiEmu is shown hanging with the group.

Nov 2nd

- Saber hung out with Dusty and others before meeting up with race later in the day as shown in the videos. At night they ate with Emi.
- EmiEmu spent the day with Sondra Weisburg before meeting up with Saber

EXTRA
May 8 2012

- Earliest interaction between Saber and Emi

Dec 10 2012

- A month after the EQLA con, possibly unrelated

Note that what I've shown for the cons only proves they were indeed at these locations together. It sucks that they came out right as Skype died and have no screenshots of the messages between them from Skype (which is strange.) Their tweet on Sept 14 also does not help their case.

PEOPLE OPENLY AGAINST THE ACCUSER - only 1 at the moment

- They strongly dislike both the accuser and ILoveKPAlot
- Friends with Saber and many of his friends, including Black Gryphon
- Has accused the accuser of also doing horrid and criminal acts.
- Seemed to cut off contact with the around April 2016

Rachael,

You know full well that handling things in public brings me no joy, but I'm not naive about the pragmatic reality of "internet justice". In the spirit of our mutual love of The Little Mermaid - if this post gives "Triton destroys the grotto" vibes that is intentional.

Sigh. This sucks so hard.

I've tried to help you in so many ways. I warned you that a public video was not the way. I cautioned you about the harm you could cause to people who had done nothing wrong. You didn't listen. You wanted to "get feedback from others." How is that working out for you?

Do you remember our conversation, many years ago, that started with me saying, "I defended you. I told people you had matured and grown as a person. Then you lashed out and made me into a liar. I'm not very happy with you about that"...? I've been thinking about that conversation a lot the last few days. I've thought about how I also said, "You are not entitled to people's friendship. Not everyone is going to like you and want to be friends. You don't have to like it but that is reality." At the time I wondered what kind of entitled life you had led such that I needed to teach you that kindergarten-level lesson. Now it seems to me that your epic butthurt over not being in a specific Cool Kids Club manifested into jealous hatred that has clouded your judgement.

About your "anonymous victim"...victim, MY ASS. Of course I know who it is. I used to be friends with her, too. There's a reason that's past tense. That girl HAS victims. A lot of them, actually.

You simply didn't do the work to have journalistic integrity. You are supposed to vet sources and confirm stories. A simple Google search of "[her name] drama" could have told you all the crap that chick has done that is public knowledge, and that perhaps she is not a person to stake your reputation on. However, you also know a list of people who could have told you the stuff she has done that is not widely known or public information, including the man you (allegedly) have in common. In your defense, a lot of people have put you on an information diet and while you may have tried to research, folks in your personal life already find you untrustworthy and maybe told you jack squat.

Now I find out that you have also made a false attempted rape allegation that you later recanted. It's not a shock that you and that steaming pile masquerading as a woman found kindred spirits in each other.

Given that one of the most egregious (and allegedly criminal) acts that other girl has done happened in the guest room of my house, I already thought that bitch could fuck all the way off. Now? Now I think you can join her. You destible hose-beasts deserve each other. You are dead to me. I'm no longer in a position to help you in your career or do you favors so I imagine you don't care. I'm okay with that. It's for the best.

You don't have the success you are so jealous of because you have neither innate talent nor charisma to go the easy route, and are also lacking the work ethic to brute force it the hard way. Your content is just not good enough for you to rise much above hobbyist content creator. I know there is evidence of your organizational and project management skills, but your penchant for obliviousness, unprofessionalism, and occasionally putting your foot in your mouth make a career on the business side of things a challenge. Good freaking luck. You're going to need it.

Cayci

I was just going to stop at confirming that Saberspark was at these locations. But I had to explore more after these accusations came in. Specifically on Cayci's accusations of the alleged victim, not of KP. I believe that the reason Emi wanted to stay anonymous is not because she is afraid of being doxxed. She is already a well known internet figure. I believe that they wanted to get the accusation out on Saber without her past sullyng her name and the credibility of the accusation. And yes, her past is that bad

CONTEXT

I did not spend too much time going into every single little detail. I will list the main horrendous acts they have done and link to one of the many sources on the subject.

EmuEmi / Emily Jones has

- Committed adultery with Ryan Drummond (former voice of Sonic) in 2016. Ruined his family
- lied about her mental health to her fans and made gofundme's for herself, which usually always occurred while she was on a vacation (lying to use her fans money to fund her trips when it was supposed to be for therapy for her)
- harassed a cancer victim
- Stole an artist work (SparksChannel), profited off that work, gave no payment to them, almost caused them to end it all
- Slept with Spiritoftheblue so she could replace TheBlueEyedFox as tails on a project after Fox had already recorded all the voice lines.
- Purposely uses her loyalist fans to harass and sabotage people she has issues with. Even attacked one of her own because she didn't want them reviewing a certain doctor phil episode.

And that's not even halfway into the video linked below. Give it a watch if you want to know more, I did not look into ILikeKimPossibleALot's allegation about making a false rape claim, but if you want to feel free to do so.

The Queen Falls - Emily Jones / EmuEmi EXPOSED

- Very good video with screenshots and evidence, there's many other videos on emi out there, but this is what I watched. It is more recent.
