

Hi everyone. As some of you might know me, I am VorgunTheBeta, or Vorg for short. I honestly cannot believe that I am writing this, but it is clear that this needed to be done.

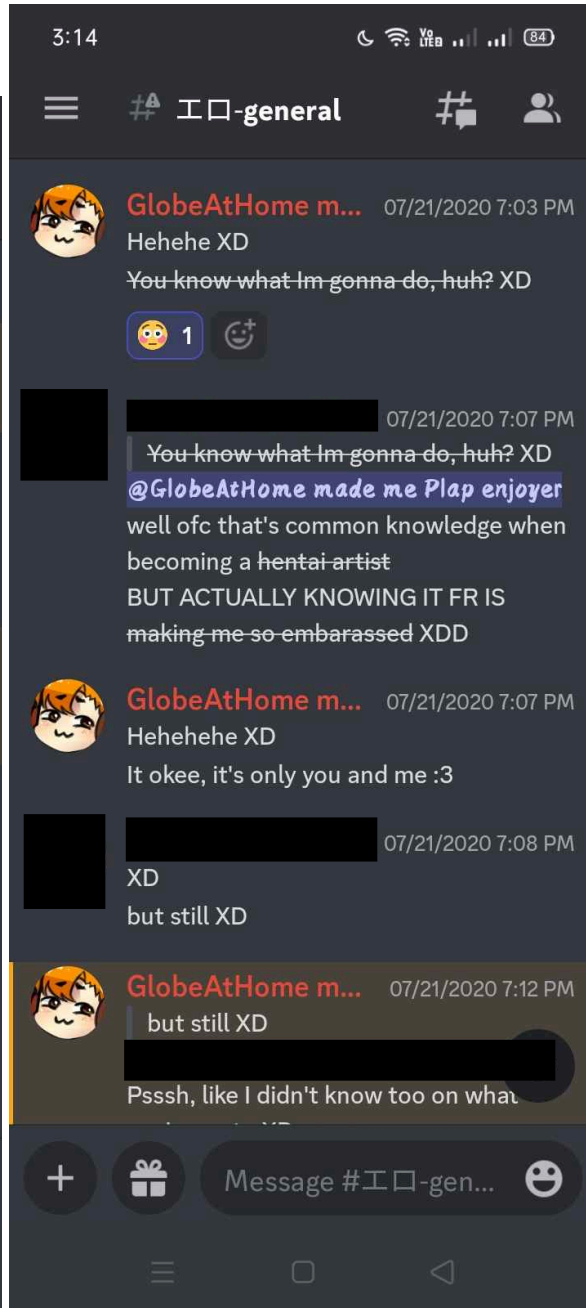

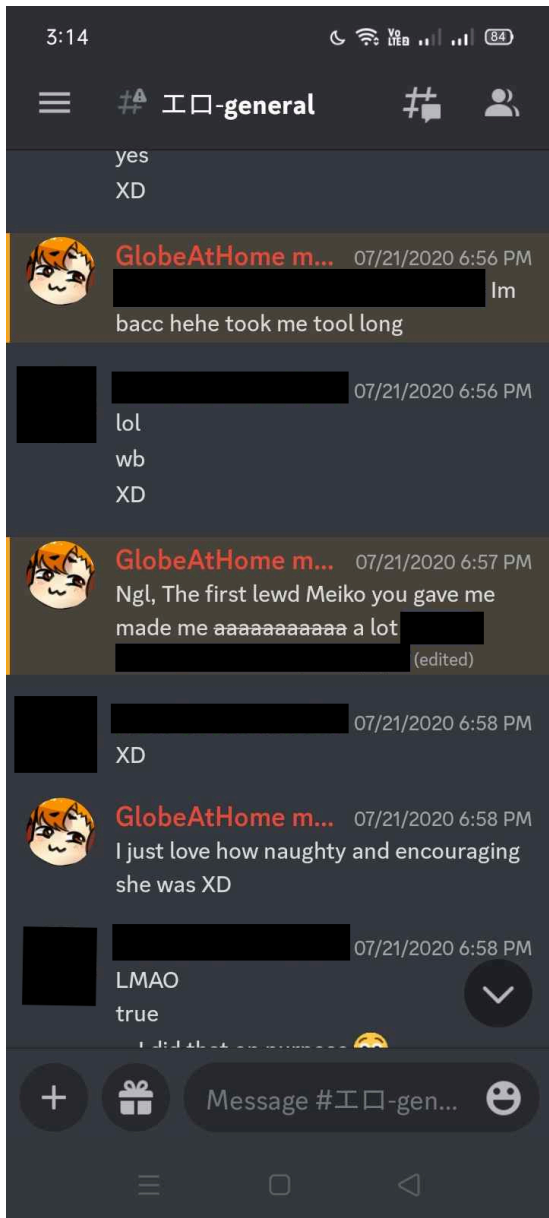

For a bit of backstory for those that don't know me, I used to be an administrator on Twindrill Revolution, or TDR for short. I had that position for what I had imagined to be a wonderful 4 years. It turns out that in that time, the one who was ultimately in charge, the person named Tanjiro Taidana, turned out to be nothing more than a groomer.

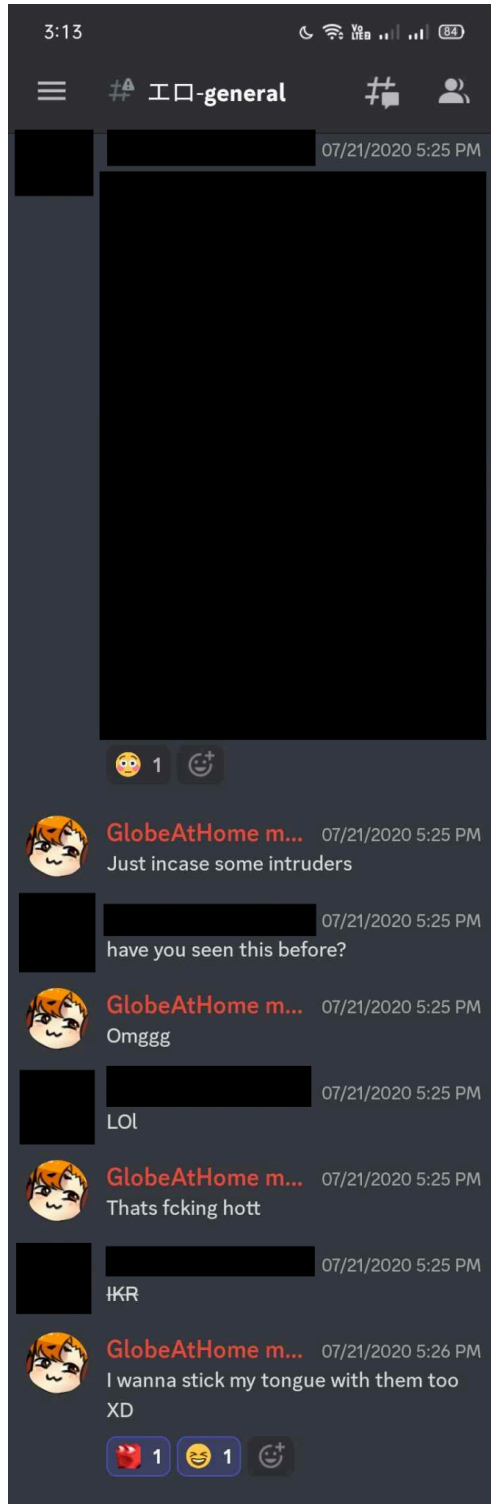

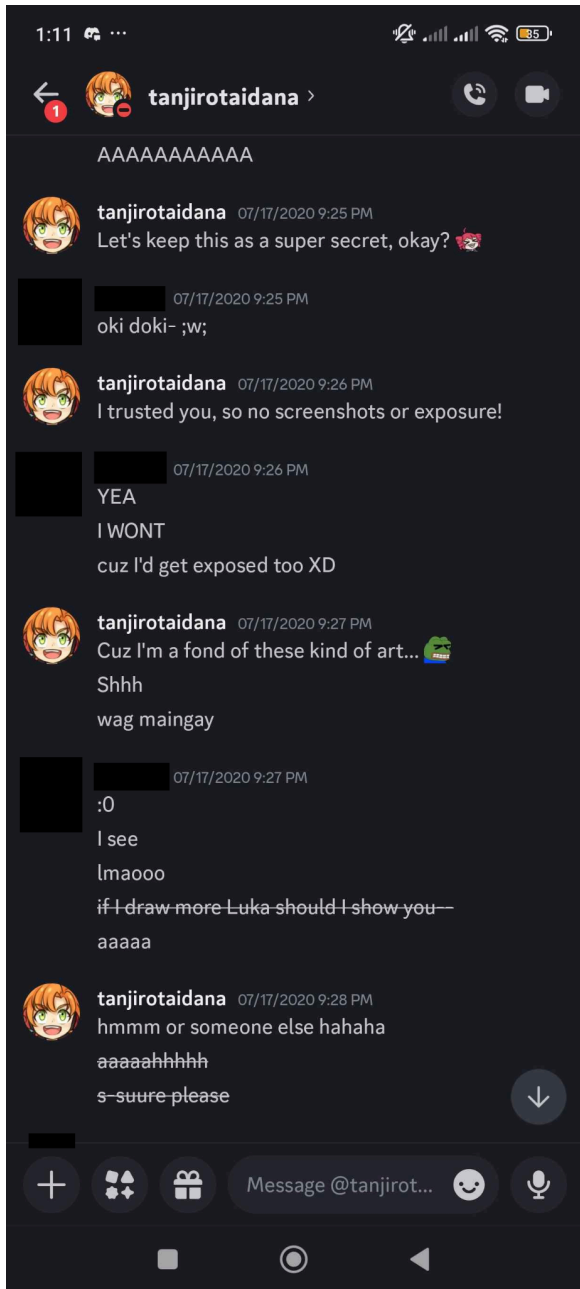

A close friend of mine, whom will remain anonymous, as to give them some piece of mind, had brought up that Tanjiro had groomed them for about 3-4 years before they managed to get out of that situation. Below are screenshots where they exposed the whole story, along with evidence proving what had happened. Obviously with names redacted for anonymity.

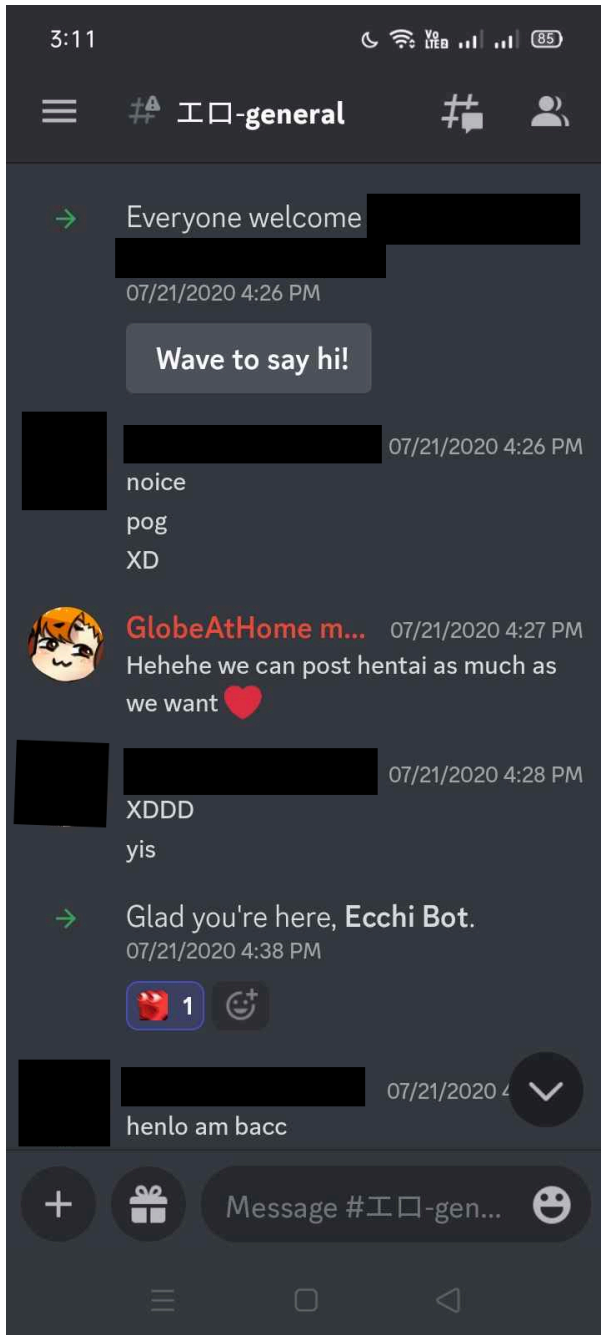

Around 2020 when I was trolling and sharing "suggestive art" in TDR and being an unsupervised minor on the internet, T*nji DMed me, I thought he was only messaging me to reprimand me for doing those things but to my surprise he asked for the full version of the suggestive artwork, it was strange because he knew I was a minor at that time. So we began talking more after that, he started requesting "lewd art" for free, sometimes I offered it to him, he began talking about how he touched himself looking at my artworks. Soon he decided to make a server consisting of just the two of us, we talked more about sexual stuff on there. I began developing a crush on him at the time and of course he rejected me at first being 7-8 years older than me and because I was minor. Although after seeing how I acted depressed and sad, he changed his mind (probably out of pity) and we started dating then. During those times, it escalated from lewd artworks of my persona and his having sex, to us sexting and then to sending each other nudes, he would send me d pics in exchange for pics of my chest. After about 3 or 4 years of dating, our relationship started to become cold and I snapped out of it when I turned 19 and decided to break up with him, I believe that was around 2023.

I cannot believe that while I thought that Tanjiro was a normal person, this was happening right under my nose. I have previously defended Tanjiro when there were other issues, not nearly as severe as this, and I deeply regret this. The worst part of it all is that I was actually supporting Tanjiro with money through his patreon, which I have now promptly canceled, as I do not condone this type of behavior in the slightest.
